Modern Black Writers:

Modern Black Writers Michael Popkin, 1989 Color and Culture Ross Posnock, 2009-07-01 The coining of the term intellectuals in 1898 coincided with W E B Du Bois's effort to disseminate values and ideals unbounded by the color line Du Bois's ideal of a higher and broader and more varied human culture is at the heart of a cosmopolitan tradition that Color and Culture identifies as a missing chapter in American literary and cultural history The book offers a much needed and startlingly new historical perspective on black intellectuals as a social category ranging over a century from Frederick Douglass to Patricia Williams from Du Bois Pauline Hopkins and Charles Chesnutt to Nella Larsen Zora Neale Hurston and Alain Locke from Ralph Ellison and James Baldwin to Samuel Delany and Adrienne Kennedy These writers challenge two durable assumptions that high culture is white culture and that racial uplift is the sole concern of the black intellectual The remarkable tradition that this book recaptures culminating in a cosmopolitan disregard for demands for racial authenticity and group solidarity is strikingly at odds with the identity politics and multicultural movements of our day In the Du Boisian tradition Ross Posnock identifies a universalism inseparable from the particular and open to ethnicity an approach with the power to take us beyond the provincialism of postmodern tribalism Great Black Writers M. K. Fullen, 2002 Presents brief biographies of six modern African American authors Ida Wells Barnett Zora Neale Hurston Langston Hughes Alex Haley James Baldwin and Lorraine Hansberry Major Modern Black American Writers Harold Bloom, Sterling Professor of the Humanities Harold Bloom, 1994-12 NULL Mending the World Rosemarie Robotham, 2004-01-08 The many facets of black family life have not always been fully visible in American literature Black families have often been portrayed as chaotic fractured and emotionally devastated and historians and sociologists are just beginning to acknowledge the resilience and strength of African American families through centuries of hardship In Mending the World a host of beloved writers celebrate the richness of black family life revealing how deep complicated and joyous modern kinship can be From Jamaica Kincaid's portrait of a young girl moving away from her mother to better know herself to Alice Walker's reflection on the joy and pain of her relationship with her own daughter from Edwidge Danticat's fictional evocation of a young woman rocked by revelations about her parents to James McBride's elegy for his stepfather this inspiring volume presents through fiction memoir and poetry a multi-layered and optimistic portrait of today's black America Black Writers Linda Metzger, 1989 Biographical and bibliographical entries on some 400 black authors active in the 20th century Some of the sketches are updated from Gale's Contemporary authors series others were written especially for this volume Covers not only contemporary American authors but also earlier 20th century writers social figures e.g. Malcolm X Desmond Tutu and important African and Caribbean writers In addition to the descriptive personal and career information there are illuminating biographical critical essays including comments often by the authors themselves on personal interests aspirations motivations and thoughts on writing Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Radical Aesthetics and

Modern Black Nationalism GerShun Avilez, 2016-05-15 Radical Aesthetics and Modern Black Nationalism explores the long overlooked links between black nationalist activism and the renaissance of artistic experimentation emerging from recent African American literature visual art and film GerShun Avilez charts a new genealogy of contemporary African American artistic production that illuminates how questions of gender and sexuality guided artistic experimentation in the Black Arts Movement from the mid 1960s to the mid 1970s As Avilez shows the artistic production of the Black Arts era provides a set of critical methodologies and paradigms rooted in the disidentification with black nationalist discourses Avilez's close readings study how this emerging subjectivity termed aesthetic radicalism critiqued nationalist rhetoric in the past It also continues to offer novel means for expressing black intimacy and embodiment via experimental works of art and innovative artistic methods A bold addition to an advancing field Radical Aesthetics and Modern Black Nationalism rewrites recent black cultural production even as it uncovers unexpected ways of locating black radicalism Afromodernisms Fionnghuala Sweeney, 2013-02-06 Makes a persuasive case for a black Atlantic literary renaissance and by interrogating blackness as an aesthetic and political category at critical moments during the twentieth century This is the first book length publication to explore the term Afromodernisms and the first study to address together the cognate fields of modernism and the black Atlantic Modern Black Writers Michael Popkin, Steven Serafin, 1995 Writing and Race Tim Youngs, 2017-07-28 Writing and Race brings together specially commissioned essays by new and established authors from a range of disciplines Texts are drawn from subjects and genres that include philosophy politics anthropology sexuality travel fiction and autobiography Through a time span from Ancient Greece to the present day and a geographical coverage from Australia and Europe to the Caribbean and the United States the collection investigates the importance of place moment cultural formation and subject identity in racial representation A substantial introduction establishes the connections between the essays and lucidly summarizes recent thinking on race explaining in particular the relevance of debates about ethnography Accessible and stimulating Writing and Race is a multidisciplinary collection that will be of interest to students researchers and lecturers who study or are interested in race The essays represent a variety of critical approaches thus allowing the reader to compare and contrast the benefits of each approach Extracts of some of the texts that are discussed are included along with an extensive bibliography to encourage further study Intersexions Gillian Bottomley, 2020-07-29 Do writings about ethnicity class and gender form a holy trinity or challenge previous unidimensional analyses Intersexions accepts the triple perspective but goes further One aim is to understand the processes by which relations of power are maintained reproduced and resisted Intersexions also examines modes of representation within social theory feminism development theory and discussions of capitalism and postcolonialism as well as dominant ideological notions of caste domesticity and success The writers approaches are all critical but concerned also with providing alternatives Comparative and specific analyses are combined attention is paid to the written and spoken material of the people represented and their own positions as

Conversations with Margaret Walker Margaret Walker, 2002 Margaret Walker 1915 1998 began her writing career as a poet in the late 1930s But she was cast into the limelight in 1966 when her novel Jubilee was published to wide critical and commercial acclaim In interviews ranging from 1972 to 1996 Conversations with Margaret Walker captures Walker s voice as she discusses an incredibly wide range of interests The same erudition wit and love of language on display in Jubilee comes through in conversations as well as her sense of moral authority imbued by a resonant Christian humanism and her attention to historical detail In a long 1972 conversation with fellow poet Nikki Giovanni Walker argues about the tribulations and triumphs of motherhood the presence of black women in literature and race relations in American culture from 1900 to the present With Marcia Greenlee in 1977 she talks extensively about her family s history and her love of botany In several of the interviews her friendship with Richard Wright rises to the forefront Even in her interviews with Claudia Tate and John Griffin Jones in which the interviewers try to direct the conversations toward the mechanics and thought processes behind Walker s writing the talks often sweep into broader issues of African American culture family history and the past s influence on the present This collection amply shows that Margaret Walker was a writer who considered her work to be deeply influenced by the culture around her She viewed her writing as part of her larger life and not separate or distanced from her existence Bracingly direct witty and oddly charming the writer in Conversations with Margaret Walker is complicated passionate forceful and piercingly intelligent Nationalism, Marxism, and African American Literature between the Wars Anthony Dawahare, 2009-09-18 During and after the Harlem Renaissance two intellectual forces nationalism and Marxism clashed and changed the future of African American writing Current literary thinking says that writers with nationalist leanings wrote the most relevant fiction poetry and prose of the day Nationalism Marxism and African American Literature Between the Wars A New Pandora's Box challenges that notion It boldly proposes that such writers as A Philip Randolph Langston Hughes and Richard Wright who often saw the world in terms of class struggle did more to advance the anti racist politics of African American letters than writers such as Countee Cullen Jessie Redmon Fauset Alain Locke and Marcus Garvey who remained enmeshed in nationalist and racialist discourse Evaluating the great impact of Marxism and nationalism on black authors from the Harlem Renaissance and the Depression era Anthony Dawahare argues that the spread of nationalist ideologies and movements between the world wars did guide legitimate political desires of black writers for a world without racism But the nationalist channels of political and cultural resistance did not address the capitalist foundation of modern racial discrimination During the period known as the Red Decade 1929 1941 black writers developed some of the sharpest critiques of the capitalist world and thus anticipated contemporary scholarship on the intellectual and political hazards of nationalism for the working class As it examines the progression of the Great Depression the book focuses on the shift of black writers to the Communist Left including analyses of the Communists position on the Negro Question the radical poetry of Langston Hughes and the writings of Richard Wright forum for inter-american research Vol 5 Wilfried Raussert, 2023-07-20 Volume 5 of 6 of the complete premium print version of journal forum for inter american research fiar which is the official electronic journal of the International Association of Inter American Studies IAS fiar was established by the American Studies Program at Bielefeld University in 2008 We foster a dialogic and interdisciplinary approach to the study of the Americas fiar is a peer reviewed online journal Articles in this journal undergo a double blind review process and are published in English French Portuguese and Spanish Southscapes Thadious M. Davis, 2011 In this innovative approach to southern literary cultures Thadious Davis analyzes how black southern writers use their spatial location to articulate the vexed connections between society and environment particularly under segregation and its legacies

William Faulkner and the Faces of Modernity Jay Watson, 2019 This book argues that Faulkner unlocked his truest potential as a modernist artist by turning away from the modernity of the Great War toward aspects of modernity closer to his Mississippi home Afro-American Life, History and Culture, 1985 A Companion to American Literature and Culture Paul Lauter, 2020-09-21 This expansive Companion offers a set of fresh perspectives on the wealth of texts produced in and around what is now the United States Highlights the diverse voices that constitute American literature embracing oral traditions slave narratives regional writing literature of the environment and more Demonstrates that American literature was multicultural before Europeans arrived on the continent and even more so thereafter Offers three distinct paradigms for thinking about American literature focusing on genealogies of American literary study writers and issues and contemporary theories and practices Enables students and researchers to generate richer more varied and more comprehensive readings of American literature Incomparable Empires Gayle Rogers,2016-11-01 The Spanish American War of 1898 seems to mark a turning point in both geopolitical and literary histories The victorious American empire ascended and began its cultural domination of the globe in the twentieth century while the once mighty Spanish empire declined and became a minor state in the world republic of letters But what if this narrative relies on several faulty assumptions and what if key modernist figures in both America and Spain radically rewrote these histories at a foundational moment of modern literary studies Following networks of American and Spanish writers translators and movements Gayle Rogers uncovers the arguments that forged the politics and aesthetics of modernism He revisits the role of empire from its institutions to its cognitive effects in shaping a nation s literature and culture Ranging from universities to comparative practices from Ezra Pound s failed ambitions as a Hispanist to Juan Ram n Jim nez s multilingual maps of modernismo Rogers illuminates modernists profound engagements with the formative dynamics of exceptionalist American and Spanish literary studies He reads the provocative often counterintuitive arguments of John Dos Passos who held that American literature could only flourish if the expanding U S empire collapsed like Spain s did And he also details both a controversial theorization of a Harlem Havana Madrid nexus for black modernist writing and Ernest Hemingway s unorthodox development of a version of cubist Spanglish in For Whom the Bell Tolls Bringing together revisionary literary historiography and rich textual analyses Rogers offers a striking account of why foreign literatures mattered so much to two dramatically changing countries at a pivotal moment in history
