New Directions in Criminological Theory Freda Adler, William S. Laufer, 2023-04-28 New Directions in Criminological Theory focuses on new approaches to theory construction with particular emphasis on reformulations and new applications of existing paradigms It includes an assessment of labeling theory demonstrating how the approach could become part of a more comprehensive explanation of crime. A case is made for studying crime in terms of the social context in which crimes are conceived, interpreted and negotiated. The debate between crime general and crime specific approaches is further amplified. A rethinking of Hirschi's control theory is presented. The volume includes theoretical discussions of spouse abuse, of punishment and of power control models. Additional chapters examine theoretical advances in corporate illegality, employee theft and the alcohol crime syndrome. These original contributions include Charles F. Wellford and Ruth A. Triplett, The Future of Labeling Theory; Austin T. Turk, A Proposed Resolution of Key Issues in the Political Sociology of Law; David Weisburd and Lisa Maher, Contrasting Crime General and Crime Specific Theory; Sally Simpson, Strategy, Structure and Corporate Crime; Edward W. Sieh, Employee theft; Robert Nash Parker, Alcohol and Theories of Homicide; Kimberly L. Kempf, The Empirical Status of Hirschi's Control Theory; Jeffrey Fagan, The Social Control of Spouse Assault; Marc Le Blanc and Aaron Caplan, Theoretical Formalization: A Necessity; Michael J. Lynch, Control Theory and Punishment; Gary F. Jensen, Power Control vs Social Control Theories of Common Delinquency; John Hagan, A. R. The Dark Side of the Criminal Justice System Ronald L. Morris, 2022-02-25. The high rates of Black arrests and incarceration from 1960-1990 were a direct result of deliberate government policies and a zealous criminal justice system under the patriotic umbrella of the War on Crime. This stateside war shared a lot of similarities with the Vietnam war happening simultaneously: racism and extreme cruelty towards those seen as the enemy; deprecation of the others' culture; forceful use of a militarized police with combat experience; repeated failure to observe human rights; and mass incarceration. Unfortunately, this conflict continued long after the Vietnam war ended. Ronald L. Morris reviews those dark times, analyzing their causes, short and long term effects, and calls for change.

Criminal Injustice Robynne Neugebauer, 2000-01-01. This volume examines racism within the process of criminal justice. In every society, criminal justice plays a key role establishing social control and maintaining the hegemony of the dominant economic classes. The contributors to this anthology argue that the differential treatment of people of colour and First Nations peoples is due to systemic racism within all levels of the criminal justice system, which serves these dominant classes. Ideological and cultural changes are preconditions for the success of anti-racist policies and practices within the criminal justice system and within other state institutions. Recommendations for transformations in justice policy and practice are provided.

What is Crime? Stuart Henry, Mark Lanier, 2001. For decades, scholars have disagreed about what kinds of behavior count as crime. Is it simply a violation of the criminal law? Is it behavior that causes serious harm? Is the seriousness affected by how many people are harmed, and does it make a difference who those people are? Are crimes less criminal if the victims are black, lower class, or foreigners? When corporations victimize workers, is that a crime? What about when governments violate basic human rights of their citizens, and who then polices governments? In What Is Crime, the first book-length treatment of the topic, contributors debate the content of crime from diverse perspectives consensus moral cultural relative conflict power anarchist critical feminist racial ethnic postmodernist and integrational Henry and Lanier synthesize these perspectives and explore what each means for crime control policy
