Domestic Life and Domestic Tragedy in Early Modern England Catherine Richardson, 2013-07-19 In a theatre which self consciously cultivated its audiences imagination how and what did playgoers see on the stage This book reconstructs one aspect of that imaginative process It considers a range of printed and documentary evidence the majority previously unpublished for the way ordinary individuals thought about their houses and households It then explores how writers of domestic tragedies engaged those attitudes to shape their representations of domesticity It therefore offers a new method for understanding theatrical representations based around a truly interdisciplinary study of the interaction between literary and historical methods The plays she cites include Arden of Faversham Two Lamentable Tragedies A Woman Killed With Kindness and A Yorkshire Tragedy
