Modern Jewish Life in Literature Azriel Eisenberg, 1968 Book II Modern Jewish Life in Literature Azriel Louis Eisenberg, 1952 Modern Jewish Life in Literature Azriel Louis Eisenberg, 1952 Encyclopedia of Modern Jewish Culture Glenda Abramson, 2004-03 The Companion to Jewish Culture From the Eighteenth Century to the Present was first published in 1989 It is a single volume encyclopedia containing biographical and topic entries ranging from 200 to 1000 word each The Idea of Modern Jewish Culture Eliezer Schweid, 2008 The vast majority of intellectual religious and national developments in modern Judaism revolve around the central idea of Jewish culture This book is the first synoptic view of these developments that organizes and relates them from this vantage point The first Jewish modernization movements perceived culture as the defining trait of the outside alien social environment to which Jewry had to adapt To be cultured was to be modern European as opposed to medieval ghetto Jewish In short order however the Jewish religious legacy was redefined retrospectively as a historical culture with fateful consequences for the conception of Judaism as a humanly and not only divinely mandated regime The conception of Judaism as culture took two main forms an integrative vernacular Jewish culture that developed in tandem with the integration of Jews into the various nations of western central Europe and America and a national Hebrew culture which though open to the inputs of modern European society sought to develop a revitalized Jewish national identity that ultimately found expression in the revival of the Jewish homeland and the State of Israel Modern Jewish life in literature Azriel Eisenberg, 1976 Edinburgh Companion to Modern Jewish Fiction David Brauner, 2015-06-07 This book provides a critical overviews of the main writers and key themes of Anglophone Jewish fiction highlighting the rich diversity of the field identifying key themes analysing the main trends in Anglophone Jewish fiction and situating them in a historical context Modern Jewish Literatures Sheila E. Jelen, Michael P. Kramer, L. Scott Lerner, 2011-06-06 Is there such a thing as a distinctive Jewish literature While definitions have been offered none has been universally accepted Modern Jewish literature lacks the basic markers of national literatures it has neither a common geography nor a shared language though works in Hebrew or Yiddish are almost certainly included and the field is so diverse that it cannot be contained within the bounds of one literary category Each of the fifteen essays collected in Modern Jewish Literatures takes on the above question by describing a movement across boundaries between languages cultures genres or spaces Works in Hebrew and Yiddish are amply represented but works in English French German Italian Ladino and Russian are also considered Topics range from the poetry of the Israeli nationalist Natan Alterman to the Russian poet Osip Mandelstam from turn of the century Ottoman Jewish journalism to wire recorded Holocaust testimonies from the intellectual salons of late eighteenth century Berlin to the shelves of a Jewish bookstore in twentieth century Los Angeles The literary world described in Modern Jewish Literatures is demarcated chronologically by the Enlightenment the Haskalah and the French Revolution on one end and the fiftieth anniversary of the State of Israel on the other The particular terms of the encounter between a Jewish past and present for modern Jews has varied greatly by continent country or village by language and by social standing among other things What unites the subjects of these studies is not a common ethnic religious or cultural history but rather a shared endeavor to use literary production and writing in general as the laboratory in which to explore and represent Jewish experience in the modern world
