Modern Korea and Its Others Vladimir Tikhonov, 2015-11-19 The period spanning the 1880s to 1945 was a crucially important formative time for Korea during which understandings of modernity were largely shaped by the images of Korea's neighbours to the east west and north China Japan and Russia represented at some moments modern threats but also denoted a range of alternative modernity possibilities and ultimately provided a model for Korea's pre colonial and colonial modernity This book explores the way in which modern Korea perceived its geographic neighbours from the 1890s until 1945 It shows that Korea's modern nationalism was at the same time internationalist in its orientation as the vision of Korea's ideal place in the world and brighter national future was often linked to the examples positive and negative threats perceived and real and allies abroad Exploring the importance of the international knowledge and experience for the formation of the Korean nationalist paradigms it offers nuance to the existing picture of the international connections and environment of the Korean national movements It shows that the picture of Japan inside the anti Japanese independence movement of the colonial period was more complicated than simple hatred of the invaders modern achievements of Japan were admired even by anti colonial nationalists as a possible model for Korea The book also demonstrates the extent to which Chinese and Soviet revolutions influenced the thinking of modern Korean intellectuals across the whole ideological spectrum Introducing new sources presented in English for the first time and including themes such as race and ethnicity global revolution and gender this book will be of great interest to students and scholars of Korean East Asian and Russian history as well as historians of the colonial modern era more generally

Park Chung Hee and Modern Korea Carter J. Eckert, 2016-11-07 This first volume in a two part study examines the origins of South Korean authoritarianism as personified by the militant political leader For South Koreans the twenty years from the early 1960s to late 1970s were the best and worst of times a period of unprecedented economic growth and of political oppression that deepened as prosperity spread In this masterly account Carter J Eckert finds the roots of South Korea's dramatic socioeconomic transformation in the country

s long history of militarization a history personified in South Korea's paramount leader Park Chung Hee In Park Chung Hee and Modern Korea Eckert reveals how the foundations of Park's leadership were established during the period of Japanese occupation As a cadet in the Manchurian Military Academy Park and his fellow officers absorbed the Imperial Japanese Army's ethos of victory at all costs and absolute obedience to authority When Park seized power in 1961 he applied this ethos to the project of Korean modernization Korean society under Park exuded a distinctively martial character Eckert shows Its hallmarks included the belief that the army should intervene in politics in times of crisis that a central authority should manage the country's economic system and that the state should maintain a strong disciplinary presence in society reserving the right to use violence to maintain order A milestone in the literature of modern East Asia Bruce Cumings author of Korea's Place in the Sun

Architecture and Urbanism in Modern Korea Inha Jung, 2013-07-31 Although modernization in Korea started more than a century later than in the West it has worked as a prominent ideology throughout the past century in particular it has brought radical changes in Korean architecture and cities Traditional structures and ways of life have been thoroughly uprooted in modernity's continuous negation of the past This book presents a comprehensive overview of architectural development and urbanization in Korea within the broad framework of modernization Twentieth century Korean architecture and cities form three distinctive periods The first defined as colonial modern occurred between the early twentieth century and 1945 when Western civilization was transplanted to Korea via Japan and a modern way of life albeit distorted began taking shape The second is the so called developmental dictatorship period Between 1961 and 1988 the explosive growth of urban populations resulted in large scale construction booms and architects delved into modern identity through the locality of traditional architecture The last period began in the mid 1990s and may be defined as one of modernization settlement and a transition to globalization With city populations leveling out urbanization and architecture came to be viewed from new perspectives Inha Jung however contends that what is more significant is the identification of elements that have remained unchanged Jung identifies continuities that have been formed by long standing relationships between humans and their built environment and despite rapid modernization are still deeply rooted in the Korean way of life For this reason in the twentieth century regionalism exerted a great influence on Korean architects Various architectural and urban principles that Koreans developed over a long period while adapting to the natural environment have provided important foundations for architects works By exploring these sources this carefully researched and amply illustrated book makes an original contribution to defining modern identity in Korea's architecture housing and urbanism

Daesoon Jinrihoe in Modern Korea David W. Kim,2020-08-24 East Asian nations shared a similar environment of modernisation in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries None had been colonised under Western imperialism but all of them commonly became subjected to new authorities whether directly or indirectly This change of the political landscape also challenged religious communities as many new religious movements NRMs emerged to satisfy the spiritual needs of local people in overcoming the hardship of transition This book presents the unique case of a native Korean NRM which successfully survived transformed and was transmitted even into contemporary society Among Donghak later called Cheondogyo Daejonggyo and Wonbulgyo the history of Daesoon Jinrihoe derived from the Jeungsan movement is explored here in the context of functionalism even though the perspectives of religious philosophy and personal experiences are also regarded for the receptive and syncretic relationship with other groups The book offers significant insight that conservative nationalistic NRMs can still survive in a digital era rather than disappear after the death of their founders     Three Poets of Modern Korea Sang Yi,Tong-sŏn Ham,Yŏng-mi Ch'oe,2002 An eclectic sampling of modern Korean poetry superbly translated by husband and wife team     Modern Korea and Its Others Vladimir Tikhonov,2015-11-19 The period spanning the 1880s to 1945 was a crucially important formative time for Korea during which understandings of modernity were largely shaped by the images of Korea s neighbours to the east west and north China Japan and Russia represented at some moments modern threats but also denoted a range of alternative modernity possibilities and ultimately provided a model for Korea s pre colonial and colonial modernity This book explores the way in which modern Korea perceived its geographic neighbours from the 1890s until 1945 It shows that Korea s modern nationalism was at the same time internationalist in its orientation as the vision of Korea s ideal place in the world and brighter national future was often linked to the examples positive and negative threats perceived and real and allies abroad Exploring the importance of the international knowledge and experience for the formation of the Korean nationalist paradigms it offers nuance to the existing picture of the international connections and environment of the Korean national movements It shows that the picture of Japan inside the anti Japanese independence movement of the colonial period was more complicated than simple hatred of the invaders modern achievements of Japan were admired even by anti colonial nationalists as a possible model for Korea The book also demonstrates the extent to which Chinese and Soviet revolutions influenced the thinking of modern Korean intellectuals across the whole ideological spectrum Introducing new sources presented in English for the first time and including themes such as race and ethnicity global revolution and gender this book will be of great interest to students and scholars of Korean East Asian and Russian history as well as historians of the colonial modern era more generally Koreas Place in the Sun Bruce Cumings, 2005-08-30 Cumings details a memorable narrative of Korea's fractured modern history focusing specifically on the country's long 20th century a period of colonial exploitation by Japan war and national division Photos The Rise of Protestantism in Modern Korea Andrew Eungi Kim, 2022-11-09 Combining sociological historical and comparative approaches this book examines one of the most striking aspects of South Korea specifically the emergence of Protestant Christianity as the largest contemporary religion in the country What is extraordinary about the religion's success is that its growth has been achieved in 130 years since 1884 and that it took place in a country with a rich oriental tradition replete with shamanism Taoism Buddhism and Confucianism The text critically demonstrates the socio-anthropological perspective of the Korean Peninsula making it a great resource for scholars and students of sociology contemporary culture history religion colonialism and geopolitics Modern Korea: All That Matters Andrew Salmon, 2014-08-29 In no nation on earth has history accelerated with such speed as in Korea A medieval dynasty at the end of the 19th century it underwent a traumatic colonization then in its hour of liberation was divided by the great powers at the end of World War II Devastated by a fratricidal war the peninsula has remained divided ever since South Korea is the greatest national success story of the 20th century From the ashes of war it transformed itself against the odds and against much advice into an industrial powerhouse and thriving democracy Now a high tech wonderland it is undergoing social and cultural transformations that add further layers to its dynamic DNA North Korea is an economic social and political disaster successful only at totalitarianism Having transmogrified from a blood and iron communist dictatorship into a bizarre neo-fascist monarchy it is a black hole at the heart of Asia Engulfed by paranoia the regime presides over a malnourished populace a 1.1 million man army and a nuclear arsenal From nuclear missiles to Samsung smartphones from assassins to salarymen from Kim Il-sung to Psy this is the extraordinary story of the flashpoint peninsula that dominates talk in boardrooms and newsrooms Korea the author argues provides two stark benchmarks for national development Epic success and catastrophic failure And its final chapter has yet to be written Ethnic Nationalism in Korea Gi-Wook Shin, 2006 This book explains the roots politics and legacy of Korean ethnic nationalism which is based on the sense of a shared bloodline and ancestry Belief in a racially distinct and ethnically homogeneous nation is widely shared on both sides of the Korean peninsula although some scholars believe it is a myth with little historical basis Finding both positions problematic and treating identity formation as a social and historical construct that has crucial behavioral consequences this book examines how such a blood-based notion has become a dominant source of Korean identity overriding other forms of identity in the modern era It also looks at how the politics of national identity have played out in various contexts in Korea semicolonialism civil war authoritarian politics democratization territorial division and globalization Food in the Making of Modern Korea Cheryl-Ho Lee, 2024-05-29 This handbook offers an updated and comprehensive presentation of knowledge on Korean modern and contemporary food history It covers the changes in food availability nutrition and the health status of Koreans and the Korean food industry s development from the late period of Joseon dynasty in the mid 19th century to the present This period includes the severe poverty and food shortage of the Joseon dynasty followed by the Japanese invasion Independence and the South North division the Korean war and rapid industrial development The influence of national and international environments and political changes during the last 150 years on the Korean food security and the nutritional situation of the people is demarcated In doing so the author makes novel suggestions on possible contributions to alleviate the world food crisis in the future Relevant to food historians and food scientists and East Asian studies scholars with a particular interest in Korean culture and history this is a pioneering work that elucidates the driving forces for the development and betterment of Korean society through food acquisition

Christianity in Korea Robert E. Buswell, Jr., Timothy S. Lee, 2007-05-31 Despite the significance of Korea in world Christianity and the crucial role Christianity plays in contemporary Korean religious life the tradition has been little studied in the West Christianity in Korea seeks to fill this lacuna by providing a wide ranging overview of the growth and development of Korean Christianity and the implications that development has had for Korean politics interreligious dialogue and gender and social issues The volume begins with an accessibly written overview that traces in broad outline the history and development of Christianity on the peninsula This is followed by chapters on broad themes such as the survival of early Korean Catholics in a Neo Confucian society relations between Christian churches and colonial authorities during the Japanese occupation premillennialism and the theological significance of the division and prospective reunification of Korea Others look in more detail at individuals and movements including the story of the female martyr Kollumba Kang Wansuk the influence of Presbyterianism on the renowned nationalist Ahn Changho the sociopolitical and theological background of the Minjung Protestant Movement and the success and challenges of Evangelical Protestantism in Korea The book concludes with a discussion of how best to encourage a rapprochement between Buddhism and Christianity in Korea Confucianism,

Law, and Democracy in Contemporary Korea Sungmoon Kim, 2015-03-26 Comparative political theory has grown into a recognized discipline in its own right in the last two decades Yet little has been done to explore how political theory engages with the actual social legal and political reality of a particular polity East Asians are complexly conditioned by traditional Confucian norms and habits despite significant social economic and political changes in their contemporary lives This volume seeks to address this important issue by developing a specifically Confucian political and legal theory The volume focuses on South Korea whose traditional society was and remains the most Confucianized among pre modern East Asian countries It offers an interesting case for thinking about Confucian democracy and constitutionalism because its liberal democratic institutions are compatible with and profoundly influenced by the Confucian habit of the heart The book wrestles with the practical meaning of liberal rights under the Korean Confucian societal culture and illuminates a way in which traditional

Confucianism can be transformed through legal and political processes into a new Confucianism relevant to democratic practices in contemporary Korea
