and 1815 James Davey offers original and exciting insights into the Napoleonic wars and Britain's maritime history. Encompassing Trafalgar the Peninsular War the War of 1812 the final campaign against Napoleon and many lesser known but likewise crucial moments the book sheds light on the experiences of individuals high and low from admiral and captain to sailor and cabin boy. The cast of characters also includes others from across Britain: dockyard workers politicians civilians who made fundamental contributions to the war effort and in so doing both saved the nation and shaped Britain's history.

The second of the Chatham Pictorial Histories devoted to the great wars of 1793-1815. This volume charts the naval events of 1798 to 1801 a period which saw the frustration of Napoleon's destiny before Acre and which included two of Nelson's greatest victories at the Nile and Copenhagen. The Royal Navy fought alongside some exotic allies during this period including the Russians Turks and Neapolitans all of whom are represented while the new navy of the United States going into action for the first time in the Quasi War with France is also covered in this volume. For Britain this continued to be an essentially maritime war and the illustration sources are particularly rich in naval material for these years. As with the rest of the series the visual emphasis is on the contemporary and original and Nelson against Napoleon reproduces many previously unpublished images. Napoleon's Marshals R. F. Delderfield, 2002-03-04. Napoleon's Marshals led the troops of France in battles across Europe from 1804 to 1815. A mixed group of twenty six men some of the Marshals came from aristocratic backgrounds some had originally pursued tradesmen careers as drapers and bakers and others rose from total poverty to hold the highest positions in the empire below the emperor himself. Delderfield's exciting chronicle of these men and their battles tells of their origins their elevation under the rule of Napoleon the kingships achieved by some and the betrayals of others and the Marshals changing relationship with their leader as the fortunes of the empire rose and fell.
