Pear By Itself:

The California Pear Grower, 1924 Empty Representations Manuel García-Carpintero, Genoveva Martí, 2014-08-14

It is the linguistic job of singular terms to pick out the objects that we think or talk about But what about singular terms that seem to fail to designate anything because the objects they refer to don't exist We can employ these terms in meaningful thought and talk which suggests that they are succeeding in fulfilling their representational task A team of leading experts presents new essays on the much debated problem of empty reference and thought In the 1960s and 1970s Keith Donnellan David Kaplan Saul Kripke and Hilary Putnam initiated a revolution in the then standard conception of reference a concept at the core of philosophical inquiry The repercussions of the revolution particularly felt in metaphysics and epistemology were soon refined by other influential writers such as Tyler Burge Gareth Evans and John Perry They argued that some linguistic and mental representations have contents individuated by what they are about by ordinary referents of expressions such as proper names indexicals definite descriptions and common nouns i.e. by planets people or natural kinds The view was at odds with a central philosophical presumption at that time that cognitive and linguistic access to objective reality is indirect and accidental mediated by general descriptive characterizations the only constitutive semantic feature of the expressions hence its ontological and epistemological repercussions A turning point in the debate about how linguistic and mental representation reach external contents concerned the nature of empty mental and linguistic representations framed by means of the very same expressions crucially invoked in the Donnellan Kaplan Kripke Putnam arguments The papers in this volume address different aspects of reference and thought about the apparently non-existent Report of the Michigan State Pomological Society Michigan State Pomological Society, 1897 Annual Report of the Secretary of the State Horticultural Society of Michigan Michigan State Horticultural Society, 1892 Annual Report of the Secretary of the Board of Agriculture Massachusetts. Near death Louie Wing gathered together his students and friends to impart his final Zen teachings Hearing that the great master would soon pass on people came from all walks of faith to hear his final words The crowd that gathered was too large to fit in any nearby building so Louie Wing spoke from the flatbed of a truck in a wide field These teachings came to be called The Flatbed Sutra of Louie Wing Through this allegorical character of Louie Wing author Ted Biringer brings a life and a force to even the most abstract of Zen teachings Inspired by the Zen classic The Platform Sutra of Hui Neng The Flatbed Sutra of Louie Wing brings an open modern look at the classic philosophy of Zen Driven by the belief that anyone can reach enlightenment this book is made to be accessible for novices and experts alike and includes a glossary short quotes and stories of Louie Wing and an additional commentary on the Genjokoan Where the Bruised Pieces Go Jane
