The Poorhouse State : the American Way of Life on Public Assistance, by Richard M. Elman Richard M. Elman,1966

Welfare in Review ,1967 Pyrrhic Victory Daniel F. Upchurch,2016-04-01 Segregation now Segregation tomorrow

Segregation forever Was there some truth behind this famous speech given by George Wallace Did African Americans truly benefit from the results of Brown v the Board of Education or did they get the short end of the stick Over the years the Black community has suffered major loses in the areas of education business and gender identity due to integration The founders of the NAACP objectives were to unite and educate a suppressed race that would fight against social injustice and bring capital into the Black community Initially these ideologies were well represented by this noble organization however during and after the decision of the Brown versus the Board of Education case things drastically changed The once unified organization began to have major conflicts with Black educators Some rejoiced over this landmark victory citing that justice had finally prevailed while other embraced for the worst believing that the outcome from the case was only a Pyrrhic victory This book aims to understand the effects of integration on the African American community and offers inspiration to those who want to change and build a better and strong Black community Against Schooling Stanley Aronowitz,2015-12-03 In Against Schooling Stanley Aronowitz passionately raises an alarm about the current state of education in our country Discipline and control over students Aronowitz argues are now the primary criteria of success and genuine learning is sacrificed to a new educational militarism In an age where school districts have imposed testing teachers must teach to test and both teacher and student are robbed of their autonomy and creativity The crisis extends to higher education where all but a few elite institutions are becoming increasingly narrowly focused and vocational in their teaching With education lacking opportunity for self reflection on broad social and historical dynamics Against Schooling asks How will society be able to solve its most pressing problems Aronowitz proposes innovative approaches to get schools back on track Politics of Southern Equality Frederick M. Wirt,2017-07-12 This path breaking text deals with the effects of federal civil rights legislation on the behavior and attitudes of the inhabitants of a single county in Mississippi Panola County These effects are examined in the three civil rights areas of voting education and economic opportunities By using this smaller example Frederick M Wirt s broader interest is to show how legislation can be used to effect social change on a large scale The need to substitute empirical knowledge for abstract speculation motivates Wirt s study Wirt restricts his study to one county but with conclusions on comparative studies that illumine the emerging political sociology of the South The author sketches the historical setting of Panola County emphasizing on the demographic economic and political developments in recent decades He then examines what has actually happened in race relations as an effect of civil rights laws affecting votes schools and jobs Wirt utilizes documentary material from federal state and county sources local newspapers and records from business and other groups But his closer understanding comes from personal interviews Because federal law is the dynamic factor setting the social system in movement the author explains the interactions between public opinion the President and the Congress which in the end resulted in the laws on votes schools and jobs He also deals with the differing machinery of sanctions and enforcement Law has a huge effect on social change and Wirt draws from his empirical study a systematic inclusive statement of the factors affecting compliance with law in conditions of conventional biases      Hearings United States. Henslin,2023-07-28 This is Volume II of a bibliography of works on the homelessness and is dedicated to the many homeless people who discussed their situation during the author s research across the United States      The Constitution of Interests John Brigham,2000-07 Many of America s most important social and political movements abolition women s suffragette civil rights women s liberation gay and lesbian rights have organized in the shadow of the law All are based in their theoretical opposition to the law Yet at the same time they are dependent on the laws that prohibit them Law is thus formed as much through the dynamic tensions that govern how these laws are received as through their official decree Legal forms such as contracts property and rights also constitute social and political life because they structure our world John Brigham here focuses on four ideological movements and their strategies among them the struggle over the closing of gay bathhouses in the early years of the AIDS crisis and the radical feminist use of rage and radical consciousness in anti pornography campaigns The effect of law on politics Brigham convincingly reveals is pervasive precisely because political life finds its expression in a surprising variety of legal forms
