Gospel Music W. K. McNeil, 2013-10-18 The Encyclopedia of American Gospel Music is the first comprehensive reference to cover this important American musical form Coverage includes all aspects of both African American and white gospel from history and performers to recording techniques and styles as well as the influence of gospel on different musical genres and cultural trends

Muhammad in the Modern Egyptian Popular Ballad Kamal Abdel-Malek, 2023-12-14 This volume is a fascinating interpretative study of the life of the Prophet Muhammad as depicted in the repertoire of fifty one contemporary Egyptian singers The repertoire is extremely diverse and ranges from narrative ballads classical odes and Qur'anic chantings to melodies of the secular songs of well known Egyptian singers The people's Muhammad appears as both a commanding figure empowered by the supernatural and a touchingly vulnerable human being and provides this study with excellent material for its discussion of a subject that has not received much serious scholarly attention to date

Napoleon and British Song, 1797-1822 Oskar Cox Jensen, 2015-10-12 This study offers a radical reassessment of a crucial period of political and cultural history By looking at some 400 songs many of which are made available to hear and at their writers singers and audiences it questions both our relationship with song and ordinary Britons relationship with Napoleon the war and the idea of Britain itself

The Singer and the Scribe Philip E. Bennett, Richard Firth Green, 2004 The Singer and the Scribe brings together studies of the European ballad from the Middle Ages to the twentieth century by major authorities in the field and is of interest to students of European literature popular traditions and folksong It offers an original view of the development of the ballad by focusing on the interplay and interdependence of written and oral transmission including studies of modern singers and their repertoires and of the role of the audience in generating a literary product which continues to live in performance While using specific case studies the contributors systematically extend their reflections on the ballad as song and as poetry to draw broader conclusions Covering the Hispanic world including the Sephardic tradition Scandinavia The Netherlands Greece Russia England and Scotland the essays also demonstrate the interconnections of a European tradition beyond national boundaries

Street Ballads in Nineteenth-Century Britain, Ireland, and North America David Atkinson, Steve Roud, 2016-04-01 In recent years the assumption that traditional songs originated from a primarily oral tradition has been challenged by research into street literature that is the cheap printed broadsides and chapbooks that poured from the presses of jobbing printers from the late sixteenth century until the beginning of the twentieth Not only are some traditional singers known to have learned songs from printed sources but most of the songs were composed by professional writers and reached the populace in printed form Street Ballads in Nineteenth Century Britain Ireland and North America engages with the long running debate over the origin of traditional songs by examining street literature's interaction with and influence on oral traditions

The Race of Sound Nina Sun Eidsheim, 2019-01-11 Examining singers Marian Anderson Billie Holiday and Jimmy Scott as well as vocal synthesis technology Nina Sun Eidsheim traces the ways in which the voice and its qualities are socially produced and how listeners assign a series of racialized and gendered set of assumptions to a singing voice After the Silents Michael Slowik, 2014-10-07 Many believe Max Steiner's score for King Kong 1933 was the first important attempt at integrating background music into sound film but a closer look at the industry's early sound era 1926-1934 reveals a more extended and fascinating story Viewing more than two hundred films from the period Michael Slowik launches the first comprehensive study of a long neglected phase in Hollywood's initial development recasting the history of film sound and its relationship to the Golden Age of film music 1935-1950 Slowik follows filmmakers shifting combinations of sound and image recapturing the volatility of this era and the variety of film music strategies that were tested abandoned and kept He explores early film music experiments and accompaniment practices in opera melodrama musicals radio and silent films and discusses the impact of the advent of synchronized dialogue He concludes with a reassessment of King Kong and its groundbreaking approach to film music challenging the film's place and importance in the timeline of sound achievement 55 Songs Roger Quilter, Richard Walters, 2003 Vocal Collection With a graceful gift for lyrical vocal writing English composer Roger Quilter 1877-1953 created a rich body of art songs Very few composers working in English have matched his achievement of a living body of beloved relevant literate repertoire Contents April Autumn Evening Barbara Allen Blow blow thou winter wind The Bracelet Brown is my love By a Fountainside By the Sea Cherry Ripe Cherry Valley Come away death Come Back Damask Roses Daybreak Dream Valley Drink to me Only with Thine Eyes Fair House of Joy The Faithless Shepherdess Fear no more the heat o' the sun A Good Child Hey ho the wind and the rain I will go with my father a ploughing I wish and I wish In the highlands Interlude It was a lover and his lass The jocund Dance The jolly miller Julia's Hair June The Lamplighter A Last Year's Rose Love's Philosophy The Maiden Blush Moonlight My Life's Delight The Night Piece Now sleeps the crimson petal O mistress mine Over the land is April Over the Mountains Prelude The Sea Bird A Secret Song of the Blackbird Spring is at the door Take take those lips away Three poor Mariners Through the sunny garden To Daisies To Wine and Beauty Under the greenwood tree The Valley and the Hill Weep you no more Where be you going Where Go the Boats The Wild Flower's Song The Globalization of Irish Traditional Song Performance Susan H. Motherway, 2016-03-09 In The Globalization of Irish Traditional Song Performance Susan Motherway examines the ways in which performers mediate the divide between local and global markets by negotiating this dichotomy in performance practice In so doing she discusses the globalizing processes that exert transformative influences upon traditional musics and examines the response to these influences by Irish traditional song performers In developing this thesis the book provides an overview of the genre and its subgenres illustrates patterns of musical change extant within the tradition as a result of globalization and acknowledges music as a medium for re negotiating an Irish cultural identity within the global Given Ireland's long history of emigration and colonisation globalization is recognised as both a synchronic and a diachronic phenomenon Motherway thus examines Anglo Irish song and songs of the Irish Diaspora Her analysis reaches beyond essentialist definitions of the tradition to examine evolving sub genres such as Country Irish Celtic and World Music

She also recognizes the singing traditions of other ethnic groups on the island of Ireland including Orange Order Ulster Scots and Traveller song In so doing she shows the disparity between native conceptions and native realities in respect to Irish cultural Identity Opera in the Jazz Age Alexandra Wilson,2019 Opera in the Jazz Age Cultural Politics in 1920s Britain explores the interaction between opera and popular culture at a moment when there was a growing imperative to categorize art forms as highbrow middlebrow or lowbrow In this provocative and timely study Alexandra Wilson considers how the opera debate of the 1920s continues to shape the ways in which we discuss the art form and draws connections between the battle of the brows and present day discussions about elitism
