Port Lincoln and District Percy Baillie, 1978 Australian National Bibliography, 1978 Archaeological Perspectives on Conflict and Warfare in Australia and the Pacific Geoffrey Clark, Mirani Litster, 2022-03-08 When James Boswell famously lamented the irrationality of war in 1777 he noted the universality of conflict across history and across space even reaching what he described as the gentle and benign southern ocean nations This volume discusses archaeological evidence of conflict from those southern oceans from Palau and Guam to Australia Vanuatu and Tonga the Marquesas Easter Island and New Zealand The evidence for conflict and warfare encompasses defensive earthworks on Palau fortifications on Tonga and intricate pa sites in New Zealand It reports evidence of reciprocal sacrifice to appease deities in several island nations and skirmishes and smaller scale conflicts including in Easter Island This volume traces aspects of colonial era conflict in Australia and frontier battles in Vanuatu and discusses depictions of World War II materiel in the rock art of Arnhem Land Among the causes and motives discussed in these papers are pressure on resources the ebb and flow of significant climate events and the significant association of conflict with culture contact The volume necessarily selective eclectic and wide ranging includes an incisive introduction that situates the evidence persuasively in the broader scholarship addressing the history of human warfare Bastions and Barbed Wire Tony Pollard, Iain Banks, 2009-04-15 Various papers on the archaeology of conflict including battlefield archaeology The main focus of the volume is confinement as expressed by a wide variety of contexts Most obviously these include Nazi concentration camps which are in need of credible archaeological attention the editorial points out the dangers of the misappropriation of archaeological and scientific techniques by Holocaust deniers Other forms of confinement are examined in papers focussing on the archaeology of island defences and siege sites with the sieges of Leith from 1650 and of Fort William from 1646 both recently being subject to archaeological investigation Other contributions include a study of shell holes and field defences from the battle of the Bulge 1944 Out of the Silence Robert Foster, Amanda Nettelbeck, 2012-09-27 When South Australia was founded in 1836 the British government was pursuing a new approach to the treatment of Aboriginal people hoping to avoid the violence that marked earlier Australian settlement The colony's founding Proclamation declared that as British subjects Aboriginal people would be as much under the safeguard of the law as the Colonists themselves and equally entitled to the privileges of British subjects But could colonial governments provide the protection that was promised Out of the Silence explores the nature and extent of violence on South Australia's frontiers in light of the foundational promise to provide Aboriginal people with the protection of the law and the resonances of that history in social memory What do we find when we compare the history of the frontier with the patterns of how it is remembered and forgotten And what might this reveal about our understanding of the nation's history and its legacies in the present One Law for All? Alan Richard Pope, 2011 Using rarely discussed documents Pope reveals how the complexities played out and where despite the rhetoric Aboriginal people were treated
