Writing Portfolios in the Classroom Robert Calfee, Pamela Perfumo, 2012-10-12 This volume presents chapters by researchers practitioners and policymakers who study the impact of classroom portfolios in the assessment of writing achievement by elementary and middle grade students The focus throughout the volume is on the tension between classroom assessment and externally mandated testing It presents the efforts of researchers practitioners and policymakers to understand the impact of classroom portfolios for the assessment of writing achievement by elementary and middle grade students Under the auspices of the Center for the Study of Writing the editors conducted a national survey of exemplary portfolio projects arranged for a series of video visits and held several working conferences The result of this work is a broad ranging tale the aspirations of teachers and administrators to move the machinery of schooling in the direction of more authentic and engaging tasks the puzzlement of students when they realize that the assignments are real and that the teacher may not have a right answer in mind and the tensions between ivory tower ideas and everyday classroom practice Divided into four sections this research volume provides a historical perspective develops the conceptual framework that serves as a background for many activities described throughout and discusses numerous practical issues that confront today s researchers and practitioners views the phenomenon of writing portfolios through a variety of broadview lenses such as teacher enthusiasm student reflection assessment tension the portfolio as metaphor and the locus of control conveys important conceptual issues with a balance toward pragmatics and offers unique insights from the perspective of one individual who serves as scholar researcher and teacher

Power and Identity in the Creative Writing Classroom Anna Leahy, 2005-01-01 Power and Identity In the Creative Writing Classroom remaps theories and practices for teaching creative writing at university and college level This collection critiques well established approaches for teaching creative writing in all genres and builds a comprehensive and adaptable pedagogy based on issues of authority power and identity A long needed reflection this book shapes creative writing pedagogy for the 21st century

The Writing Center Director's Resource Book Christina Murphy, Byron Stay, 2012-11-12 The Writing Center Director s Resource Book has been developed to serve as a guide to writing center professionals in carrying out their various roles duties and responsibilities It is a resource for those whose jobs not only encompass a wide range of tasks but also require a broad knowledge of multiple issues The volume provides information on the most significant areas of writing center work that writing center professionals both new and seasoned are likely to encounter It is structured for use in diverse institutional settings providing both current knowledge as well as case studies of specific settings that represent the types of challenges and possible outcomes writing center professionals may experience This blend of theory with actual practice provides a multi dimensional view of writing center work In the end this book serves not only as a resource but also as a guide to future directions for the writing center which will continue to evolve in response to a myriad of new challenges that will lie ahead The Learning Portfolio John Zubizarreta,2009-12-22 The learning portfolio is a powerful complement to traditional measures of student achievement and a widely diverse method of recording intellectual growth This second edition of this important book offers new samples of print and electronic learning portfolios An academic understanding of and rationale for learning portfolios and practical information that can be customized Offers a review of the value of reflective practice in student learning and how learning portfolios support assessment and collaboration Includes revised sample assignment sheets guidelines criteria evaluation rubrics and other material for developing print and electronic portfolios Reconstructing Response to Student Writing Dan Melzer,2023-08-07 In Reconstructing Response to Student Writing Dan Melzer makes the argument that writing instructors should shift the construct so that peer response and student self assessment are more central than teacher response Presenting the results of a national study of teacher and peer response and student self assessment at institutions of higher education across the United States Melzer analyzes teacher and peer response to over 1 000 pieces of student writing as well as 128 student portfolio reflection essays He draws on his analysis and on a comprehensive review of the literature on response to introduce a constructivist heuristic for response aimed at both composition instructors and instructors across disciplines Melzer argues that teachers and researchers should focus less on teacher response to individual pieces of student writing and more on engaging in dialogue with student self assessment and peer response focusing on growth and transfer rather than products and grades Reconstructing Response to Student Writing especially when taken together with Melzer's previous book Assignments across the Curriculum provides a comprehensive and large scale view of college writing and responding across the curriculum in the United States Classroom Writing Assessment and Feedback in L2 School Contexts Icy Lee,2017-03-28 While assessment and feedback tend to be treated separately in the L2 writing literature this book brings together these two essential topics and examines how effective classroom assessment and feedback can provide a solid foundation for the successful teaching and learning of writing Drawing upon current educational and L2 writing theories and research the book is the first to address writing assessment and feedback in L2 primary and secondary classrooms providing a comprehensive up to date review of key issues such as assessment for learning assessment as learning teacher feedback peer feedback portfolio assessment and technology enhanced classroom writing assessment and feedback The book concludes with a chapter on classroom assessment literacy for L2 writing teachers outlines its critical components and underscores the importance of teachers undertaking continuing professional development to enhance their classroom assessment literacy Written in an accessible style the book provides a practical and valuable resource for L2 writing teachers to promote student writing and for teacher educators to deliver effective classroom writing assessment and feedback training Though the target audience is school teachers L2 writing instructors in any context will benefit from the thorough and useful treatment of classroom assessment and feedback in the book Writing Assessment and the Revolution in Digital Texts and Technologies Michael R. Neal, 2015-04-17 This text provides an innovative new framework for the formative and holistic assessment of students digital writing It also addresses the rapid evolution of writing assessment tools analyzing the research in clear terms for both techno phobic and techno savvy teachers The author critiques computer automated scoring of student writing for example but also considers the possibilities and potential of the future of technology assisted assessments

Integrating e-Portfolios into L2 Classrooms Ricky Lam, 2024-08-13 This book explains both the theory and practice of e Portfolio pedagogy and assessment in second and foreign language classroom contexts The author addresses how e Portfolios can help instructors make the most of the challenges and opportunities by the continuation of online and blended classrooms in post pandemic education and how students might be encouraged to capitalise on their social media literacy to fully engage with e Portfolios In addition to providing new insights for scholars of language pedagogy the book equips language teachers with the practical knowledge and skills they need to use the e Portfolio approach in their classrooms It offers a balance between theory research and the practice of an e Portfolio approach which will inform effective second language instruction and assessment as well as enhance key stakeholders language assessment literacy

Guide to College Writing Assessment Peggy O'Neill, Cindy Moore, Brian Huot, 2009-04-15 While most English professionals feel comfortable with language and literacy theories assessment theories seem more alien English professionals often don't have a clear understanding of the key concepts in educational measurement such as validity and reliability nor do they understand the statistical formulas associated with psychometrics But understanding assessment theory and applying it by those who are not psychometricians is critical in developing useful ethical assessments in college writing programs and in interpreting and using assessment results A Guide to College Writing Assessment is designed as an introduction and source book for WPAs department chairs teachers and administrators Always cognizant of the critical components of particular teaching contexts O'Neill Moore and Huot have written sophisticated but accessible chapters on the history theory application and background of writing assessment and they offer a dozen appendices of practical samples and models for a range of common assessment needs Because there are numerous resources available to assist faculty in assessing the writing of individual students in particular classrooms A Guide to College Writing Assessment focuses on approaches to the kinds of assessment that typically happen outside of individual classrooms placement evaluation exit examination programmatic assessment and faculty evaluation Most of all the argument of this book is that creating the conditions for meaningful college writing assessment hinges not only on understanding the history and theories informing assessment practice but also on composition programs availing themselves of the full range of available assessment practices

A Rhetoric of Reflection Kathleen Yancey, 2016-08-15 Reflection in writing studies is now entering a third generation Dating from the 1970s the first generation of reflection focused on identifying and describing internal cognitive processes assumed to be part of composing The second generation operating in both classroom and assessment scenes in the 1990s developed mechanisms for externalizing reflection making it visible and thus explicitly available to help writers Now a third generation of work in reflection is emerging As mapped by the contributors to A Rhetoric of Reflection this iteration of research and practice is taking up new questions in new sites of activity and with new theories It comprises attention to transfer of writing knowledge and practice teaching and assessment portfolios linguistic and cultural difference and various media including print and digital It conceptualizes conversation as a primary reflective medium both inside and outside the classroom and for individuals and collectives and articulates the role that different genres play in hosting reflection Perhaps most important in the work of this third generation is the identification and increasing appreciation of the epistemic value of reflection of its ability to help make new meanings and of its rhetorical power for both scholars and students Contributors Anne Beaufort Kara Taczak Liane Robertson Michael Neal Heather Ostman Cathy Leaker Bruce Horner Asao B Inoue Tyler Richmond J Elizabeth Clark Naomi Silver Christina Russell McDonald Pamela Flash Kevin Roozen Jeff Sommers Doug Hesse

The Theory and Practice of Grading Writing Frances Zak, Christopher C. Weaver, 1998-02-05 CHOICE 1998 Outstanding Academic Books Grading is one of the thorniest issues writing teachers must deal with yet surprisingly little has been written on this topic As writing teachers move increasingly toward practices that focus on writing as a process they face a growing need to reconsider their systems of grading to determine whether or not these systems support their pedagogies The authors interrogate the grading of individual papers as well as portfolios and the assigning of end of term grades This collection explores the issues and problems that have emerged as conventional grading practices have lagged behind and been challenged by new theories of language While the book will be of interest to theorists Zak and Weaver have also made the book relevant and useful to teachers whose primary interest is the practical consequences of theory in their classrooms Where theoretical discussion takes place the language is clear and accessible Many of the authors write directly from personal experience telling stories of the classroom or writing of new techniques and approaches they have tried They speak with the voices of teachers and the tone and content of their words convey a sense of the immediacy of the topic

English as a foreign language teacher education Juan de Dios Martínez Agudo, 2014-02-01 The field of Second Language Teacher Education SLTE is mainly concerned with the professional preparation of L2 teachers In order to improve teaching in the multilingual and multicultural classroom of the 21st century both pre and in service L2 teachers as well as L2 teacher educators must be prepared to meet the new challenges of education under the current circumstances expanding their roles and responsibilities so as to face the new complex realities of language instruction This volume explores a number of key dimensions of EFL teacher education The sixteen chapters discuss a wide variety of issues related to second language pedagogy and SLTE Topics discussed include the importance of SLA research competency based teacher education approach classroom based action research SLTE models the value and role of practicum experience abroad the models of pronunciation teaching multicultural awareness and competence the influence of teachers cognitions emotions and attitudes on their emerging and changing professional identities the potential of classroom materials and technology and CLIL and ESP teacher education English as a foreign language teacher education Current perspectives and challenges will be of interest to teachers in training teachers teacher educators and to those educational researchers interested in how L2 teaching is actually learned in professional preparation programmes Juan de Dios Mart nez Agudo is Associate Professor of EFL Teacher Education at the University of Extremadura Spain His current research interests include Second Language Acquisition and English Teaching Methodology His most recent books are Oral Communication in the EFL Classroom 2008 Errors in the Second Language Classroom Corrective Feedback 2010 and Teaching and Learning English through Bilingual Education 2012 NAEP ... Writing Report Card ,1999 Using Digital Portfolios to Develop Students' Writing Ricky Lam,Benjamin Luke Moorhouse,2022-11-07 This book equips pre service teachers research postgraduate students teacher educators and language specialists with specific knowledge and skills about the principles research and applications of digital portfolios within the EFL writing contexts While most digital portfolio scholarship focuses on higher education this book targets primary level and secondary level school audiences namely pre service teachers teacher educators and Ministry of Education staff members with a focus on EFL writing The rationale behind this design is that the published literature on digital portfolios tends to be generic and one size fits all there has been scant published scholarship about the development of digital portfolio literacy among teachers and pupils which could enable them to upgrade the teaching and learning of writing in a larger EFL environment This volume fills this gap by illustrating the why what and how aspects of digital portfolios in ten reader friendly chapters Guiding educators to enrich their pedagogical repertoire via the portfolio approach this book emphasises a healthy balance between principles research and practice It is an easy to follow guide to setting up digital portfolio systems and coaching pupils to improve writing ensuring the dissemination of digital portfolios with high fidelity
