Portrait of a Bomber Pilot Christopher Jary, 1995-08-01      Portrait of a Bomber Pilot Christopher Jary, 2013-01-01

During the Second World War RAF Bomber Command produced a handful of remarkable pilots who won fame and high honours Gibson Cheshire Martin Tait and Searby The majority of aircrew however were young sergeants many of whom did not survive to complete a first tour of thirty operations Between the two extremes there were on every squadron one or two senior captains who had survived one tour and whose experience skill courage and example made a vital contribution to their squadron s life training and operational success This book is about one such captain Flight Lietenant Jack Wetherly DFC It traces his development from novice second pilot of a Wellington in the pioneering days of 1940 to senior captain of a Halifax in Wing Commander Leonard Cheshire s squadron in what MRAF Sir Arthur Harris called his Main Offensive It deals also with his pre war life and service flying tiny bi planes with the RAFVR and with his career as a flying instructor at the RAF College Cranwell and as an instructor of instructors at RAF Montrose Above all it is a personal book inspired by the sacrifice made nearly half a century ago by a young man of twenty eight Acclaim for the work reading Portrait of a Bomber Pilot I felt that I was living with Jack Wetherly through the last few years of his young life He s a good man to be with honorable selfless and an exceptional pilot Christopher Jary has written of Jack Wetherly carefully unsentimentally and very movingly He has added a chapter to the brave sad story of World War Two

Ford Madox Ford and the Regiment of Women Joseph Wiesenfarth, 2005 Engaging and energetic this biography of Ford Madox Ford presents the modernist writer in a previously unexplored way Other biographies have approached Ford as an auth indeed his memoirs give almost no indication that the women in his life were of any importance or in fact that they ever existed Literary scholar Joseph Wiesenfarth revises this approach by tracing Ford s relationships with four women central to his life Wiesenfarth shows how these four women Violet Hunt Jean Rhys Stella Bowen and Janice Biala established themselves as artists in their own right and depicted Ford in their works as more than the proper man he thought himself to be For the women he was both a lover and a leaver a collaborator and a companion With an eye to original paintings and manuscripts Wiesenfarth examines the artistic and romantic interplay among these writers painters and lovers This book features a beautifully illustrated color and black and white gallery of Bowen and Biala paintings

The Flyer Martin Francis, 2011-05-19 Between 1939 and 1945 the British public was spellbound by the martial endeavours and dashing style of the young men of the RAF especially those with silvery fabric wings sewn above the breast pocket of their glamorous slate blue uniform Martin Francis provides the first scholarly study of the place of the flyer in British culture during the Second World War Examining the lives of RAF personnel and their popular representation in literary and cinematic texts he illuminates broader issues of gender social class national and racial identities emotional life and the creation of a national myth in twentieth century Britain In particular Francis argues that the flyer's relationship to fear aggression loss of his comrades bodily dismemberment and psychological breakdown reveals broader ambiguities surrounding the dominant understandings of masculinity in the middle decades of the century Despite his star appeal cultural representations of the flyer encompassed both the gentle chivalrous warrior and the uncompromising agent of destruction Paying particular attention to the romantic universe of wartime aircrew Francis reveals the extraordinary contrasts of their daily lives dicing with death in the sky one moment before sitting down to lunch with wives and children in the next Male and female experiences during the war were not polarized and antithetical but were complementary and interrelated a conclusion which has implications for the history of gender in modern Britain that reach well beyond either the specialized military culture of the wartime RAF or the chronological parameters of the Second World War Mnemosyne and Mars Manuel Bragança, Dominique Jeannerod, Peter Tame, 2014-01-13 This volume will be of interest to everyone seeking to understand the relationship between war as an historical narrative and its representation in the arts and in culture notably in literature film theatre and music More specifically it will be of the greatest interest to undergraduates postgraduates researchers and academics in a wide range of disciplines including literary studies film and drama studies music and history The Introduction by Jay Winter sets the context particularly with reference to the First World War while the Conclusion summarises the significance of the research undertaken and its value for future research This book will also have an impact on writers publishers and organizers of exhibitions museums memorial sites and monuments whose influence in the field of war and memory has been increasing steadily in recent years The imminent celebrations and commemorations pertaining to the Great War beginning in 2014 together with the imminence of the seventieth anniversary of the end of the Second World War in 2015 will provide additional stimuli to public attention in this area over the next few years Red River Valley Fighter Pilots, 1992-03 Bomber Len Deighton, 2023-08-22 Len Deighton one of the masters of twentieth century espionage fiction combines his expertise as both historian and novelist in Bomber the classic World War II novel that relates in devastating detail the twenty four hour story of an allied bombing raid Skilled Royal Air Force bomber pilot Sam Lambert is exhausted and his veteran crewmen have just been replaced by an inexperienced new team Victor von L wenherz a German night fighter pilot who intercepts RAF bombers in his Junkers Ju 88 looks on with horror at the Nazi regime And Hansl a German boy in the small market town of Altgarten sleeps at home Lambert and his crew prepare for a bombing raid on the Ruhr area It's a night that many will never forget Bomber is a masterful gripping minute by minute account of what occurs over the next twenty four hours Told through the eyes of protagonists on all sides and astonishingly precise in its depictions of planes weapons and behind the scenes war strategy this is Len Deighton at his best An unforgettable portrait of war both in the air and on the ground Fighter Boys Patrick Bishop, 2004-07-27 For 123 days in the summer of 1940 3 000 youthful airmen in the Royal Air Force fought back against Hitler's advancing forces with a heroism that astonished the world Drawing on interviews with scores of surviving pilots as well as diaries and letters never before seen military historian and journalist Patrick Bishop re creates with astonishing intimacy and clarity this excruciating exhilarating war of nerves In their own words the pilots describe what it was like to bale out from a stricken plane to go into battle in the face of overwhelming odds to hear the screams of a comrade as he went down in flames With a riveting taut narrative Fighter Boys relates how those young heroes changed the course of World War II and the history of the modern world Catalog of Audiovisual
