Stranger's Journey David Mura, 2018-08-01 Long recognized as a master teacher at writing programs like VONA the Loft and the Stonecoast MFA with A Stranger's Journey David Mura has written a book on creative writing that addresses our increasingly diverse American literature Mura argues for a more inclusive and expansive definition of craft particularly in relationship to race even as he elucidates timeless rules of narrative construction in fiction and memoir His essays offer technique focused readings of writers such as James Baldwin ZZ Packer Maxine Hong Kingston Mary Karr and Garrett Hongo while making compelling connections to Mura's own life and work as a Japanese American writer In A Stranger's Journey Mura poses two central questions The first involves identity How is writing an exploration of who one is and one's place in the world Mura examines how the myriad identities in our changing contemporary canon have led to new challenges regarding both craft and pedagogy Here like Toni Morrison's Playing in the Dark or Jeff Chang's Who We Be A Stranger's Journey breaks new ground in our understanding of the relationship between the issues of race literature and culture The book's second central question involves structure How does one tell a story Mura provides clear insightful narrative tools that any writer may use taking in techniques from fiction screenplays playwriting and myth Through this process Mura candidly explores the newly evolved aesthetic principles of memoir and how questions of identity occupy a central place in contemporary memoir The stranger's guide to Hampton-court palace and gardens John Grundy (of Hampton Court.), 1843

The Stranger's Guide to Hampton Court Palace and Gardens John Grundy, 1853 Portraits of the L2 User Vivian Cook, 2002-08-06 Portraits of the L2 User treats second language users in their own right rather than as failed native speakers It describes a range of psychological and linguistic approaches to diverse topics about L2 users It thus provides an innovative overview of current second language acquisition theories results and methods seen from a common perspective

The stranger's guide to Hampton-court palace and gardens. revised by W. Willshire John Grundy (of Hampton Court.), 1865 The Stranger's Guide to Hampton Court Palace and Gardens William WILLSHIRE, 1866 Portrait and Biographical Record of Leavenworth, Douglas and Franklin Counties, Kansas, 1899 The Strand Magazine Sir George Newnes, 1891 Confounding Images Susan S. Williams, 2016-11-11 Susan Williams recovers the literary and cultural significance of early photography in an important rereading of American fiction in the decades preceding the Civil War The rise of photography occurred simultaneously with the rapid expansion of magazine publication in America and Williams analyzes the particular role that periodicals such as Godey's Lady's Book Burton's Gentleman's Magazine and Atkinson's Casket played in defining how photography was received At the center of the book are readings of a stunning array of fiction by forgotten and canonical writers alike including Edgar Allan Poe Louisa May Alcott and Sarah Hale as well as extended interpretations of Nathaniel Hawthorne's House of the Seven Gables and The Marble Faun and Herman Melville's Pierre In a concluding section Williams offers a view of the fictional portrait in the later nineteenth century when the proliferation of illustrated books once again transformed the relation between word and image in American culture

The Camera and the Press Marcy J. Dinius, 2012-03-15 Before most Americans ever saw an actual daguerreotype they encountered this visual form through written descriptions published and rapidly reprinted in newspapers throughout the land In The Camera and the Press Marcy J Dinius examines how the first written and published responses to the daguerreotype set the terms for how we now understand the representational accuracy and objectivity associated with the photograph as well as the democratization of portraiture that photography enabled Dinius s archival research ranges from essays in popular nineteenth century periodicals to daguerreotypes of Americans Liberians slaves and even fictional characters Examples of these portraits are among the dozens of illustrations featured in the book The Camera and the Press presents new dimensions of Nathaniel Hawthorne s The House of the Seven Gables Herman Melville s Pierre Harriet Beecher Stowe s Uncle Tom s Cabin and Frederick Douglass s The Heroic Slave Dinius shows how these authors strategically incorporated aspects of daguerreian representation to advance their aesthetic political and social agendas By recognizing print and visual culture as one Dinius redefines such terms as art objectivity sympathy representation race and nationalism and their interrelations in nineteenth century America
