Douglas-Home, 2011-08-01 Augustus John's ability as portrait artist won him the admiration of fellow artists public recognition and the Order of Merit William Douglas Home's play presents various points in the Bohemian artist's turbulent life from 1944 1961 through a reconstruction of sittings with three of his subjects all played by the same actor General Bernard Montgomery fellow artist Mathew Smith and designer Cecil Beaton This keenly observed sensitive play is finely interwoven with the thread of John's gradually developing pacifism from his certainty in spring 1944 that Monty's young ADC will not survive the second front to war's devastating effect on Matthew Smith to John's vibrant fear of the nuclear nightmare and his own approaching death The first production of this play in 24 years Portraits commemorates the 50th anniversary of the death of artist Augustus John The Photobook Patrizia Di Bello, Colette Wilson, Shamoon Zamir, 2020-08-07 The photograph found a home in the book before it won for itself a place on the gallery wall Only a few years after the birth of photography the publication of Henry Fox Talbot's The Pencil of Nature heralded a new genre in the history of the book one in which the photograph was the primary vehicle of expression and communication or stood in equal if sometimes conflicted partnership with the written word In this book practicing photographers and writers across several fields of scholarship share a range of fresh approaches to reading the photobook developing new ways of understanding how meaning is shaped by an image's interaction with its text and context and engaging with the visual tactile and interactive experience of the photobook in all its dimensions Through close studies of individual works the photobook from fetishised objet d'art to cheaply printed booklet is explored and its unique creative and cultural contributions celebrated Portrait of G.
