Mummy Portraits from Roman Egypt Paul Roberts, 2008

The mummy portraits of Roman Egypt are haunting images of ancient faces anonymous people painted by anonymous artists And yet they are historical and cultural documents of outstanding interest and importance and many are of superb artistic quality This type of portrait appeared in Egypt in the first century AD and remained popular for around 200 years Though the subjects believed in the traditional Egyptian cults which offered them a firm prospect of life after death they also wished to be commemorated in the Roman manner Portraits were commissioned that would serve as a realistic record of the deceased as he or she had appeared in life These were painted on a wooden board at a roughly lifelike scale which was then placed on the outside of the cartonnage coffin over the head of the individual or carefully placed into the mummy wrappings The images also reveal the adoption of Roman fashions in dress and personal adornment by persons remote from the centre of the empire but likely to have been actively engaged in its local administration By careful assessment of the hairstyles clothes and jewellery it is possible to date the portraits often within a decade or so Many of the finest and best known examples come from the Fayum and are a dazzling testament to the Greek painting tradition in particular the sophistication of the Alexandrian school from which they are derived It is not until some fifteen centuries later in the faces painted by Titian or Rembrandt's depiction of his own features as he saw them reflected in a mirror that the same artistry that characterizes many of the anonymous painters of the Fayum is witnessed again

Margo Veillon Margo Veillon, 2003 Margo Veillon one of Egypt's best loved artists here presents a sampling of her work from throughout her career as represented in a legacy bequeathed to the American University in Cairo The collection includes work from across the decades of her career as well as across a variety of media Although Margo has lived part of her life in Europe it is clearly Egypt that has held her imagination in all these long years of artistic innovation One strand of her work is characterized by an ability to capture and depict the energy of a specific moment in time be it a toss of wheat in the air to separate the chaff the stoic bride in a wedding procession or a horse dancing in a tent at a mulid The stones sands and constantly changing light of the desert have been the inspiration for many years for another major line of artistic expression And a third strand has been her exploration of all that can be seen not seen and sensed in one place in her remarkable series of Global Perspectives These threads and others no less individual and innovative make up the extraordinarily rich tapestry of Margo Veillon's artistic career as brought together in the AUC Permanent Collection
