Bringing together the latest work from leading scholars in the field, this volume examines the philosophical issues that inform this emerging and vibrant subfield of law. From discussions featuring the philosophy of the mind to neuroscience-based lie detection, each chapter addresses foundational questions that arise in the application of neuroscientific technology in the legal sphere. Historical Perspectives in Industrial and Organizational Psychology Laura L. Thinking in Images Piotr Kozak,2023-04-20 What does it mean to think with images There is a well established tradition of studying thought processes through the nature of language and we know much more about thinking with language than about thinking with images Piotr Kozak takes an important step towards rectifying this position Presenting a unified theory of different types of images such as diagrams maps technical drawings and photographs Kozak argues that images provide a genuine and autonomous form of content and knowledge In contrast to the propositional view of thinking and resemblance based accounts he puts forward a measurement theoretic account of images as operations that exemplify measures revealing the outcomes of measurement operations performed on a depicted situation Bringing together insights from philosophy of science picture theory cognitive science and cognitive psychology this book demonstrates that we can only understand what an image is if we truly understand the role they play in our thought processes challenging the prevailing view that the utility of images is only instrumental and cognitively inferior
