Portraits of Everyday Literacy for Social Justice Susan Jones, 2018-05-07 Based on an ethnographic study involving three families who live on a Midlands council housing estate this book presents portraits of everyday lives and the literacy practices that are part of them as a way to explore the complex relationship between literacy and social justice Each portrait focuses on a different aspect of literacy in everyday life drawing on perspectives offered by the long and diverse tradition of literacy studies each is followed by discussion of a different way of looking at literacy and what this means for social justice The lens of literacy allows us to see the challenges faced by many families and communities as a result of social policy and how a narrow view of literacy is often implicated within these challenges It also illustrates the ways in which literacy practices are powerful resources in the creative and collaborative navigation of everyday lives Arguing for the importance of looking carefully at everyday literacy in order to understand the intertwining factors that threaten justice this book positions literary research and education as central to the struggle for wider social change It will be of interest and value to researchers educators and students of literacy for social justice

Literacy and Social Inclusion Eve Bearne, Jackie Marsh, 2007 Although social inclusion has been high on government agendas for some years there have been few attempts at policy level to examine the issues relating to literacy education Many social and cultural groups feel alienated from traditional models of literacy education and some learners continue to underachieve This book develops insights into how to address these challenges Terms such as social inclusion and social exclusion are defined explored and related to literacy education by contributors who are renowned in the field They deal with issues of literacy and social class race gender language and sexuality They offer insights into current concerns in these areas and they outline curricula and pedagogical approaches which address underachievement and disaffection The book challenges traditional deficit notions of at risk communities and argues that the onus for change needs instead to be at policy level The book is essential reading for all those concerned with ensuring that literacy education as inscribed in institutions meets the needs and interests of all learners and closes the gaps between home community and school The contributors are Viv Bird Victoria Carrington Barbara Comber Julia Davies Eve Gregory Gemma Moss Kate Pahl Brian Street and Mark Vicars of their parents and their own aspirations for the future This insightful book argues that classrooms can become transformative sites in which students can develop curricula and pedagogies which speak to the diversity of global societies and looks at How multimodality can be used to promote social justice and democracy in diverse classrooms The forms of representation through which students make meaning in classrooms How those forms contribute to the building of democratic cultures The cultural resources available to students and how they are used for learning Difference as a productive energy for learning Dealing with issues such as democracy politics of difference diversity multicultural and multilingual classrooms this book is as pertinent to readers across the globe as it is to those in South Africa and will be invaluable and fascinating reading for anyone working or interested in this field Culturally and Linguistically Diverse Classrooms Jennifer Miller,Alex Kostogriz,Margaret Gearon,2009-10-20 A critical reality of contemporary education in a globalised world is the growing cultural racial and linguistic diversity in schools and the issues involved in educating increasing numbers of students who are still learning the dominant language This poses extraordinary challenges for second and foreign language teachers in many countries where such students must engage with the mainstream curriculum in a new language What do these increasingly plurilingual and multicultural classrooms look like And how do language teachers address the challenges of such diverse classrooms This book brings together a group of well recognised language education scholars who present their research in a range of international settings They focus on the key areas of pedagogy language policy and curriculum and exemplify new research directions in the field Journal of American Indian Education ,2013

Anarchist Pedagogies Robert H. Haworth,2012-08-01 Education is a challenging subject for anarchists Many are critical about working within a state run education system that is embedded in hierarchical standardized and authoritarian structures Numerous individuals and collectives envision the creation of counterpublics or alternative educational sites as possible forms of resistance while other anarchists see themselves as saboteurs within the public arena believing that there is a need to contest dominant forms of power and educational practices from multiple fronts Of course if anarchists agree that there are no blueprints for education the question remains in what dynamic and creative ways can we construct nonhierarchical anti authoritarian mutual and voluntary educational spaces Contributors to this edited volume engage readers in important and challenging issues in the area of anarchism and education From Francisco Ferrer s modern schools in Spain and the Work People s College in the United States to contemporary actions in developing free skools in the U K and Canada to direct action education such as learning to work as a street medic in the protests against neoliberalism the contributors illustrate the importance of developing complex connections between educational theories and collective actions Anarchists activists and critical educators should take these educational experiences seriously as they offer invaluable examples for potential teaching and learning environments outside of authoritarian and capitalist structures Major themes in the volume include learning from historical anarchist experiments in education ways that contemporary anarchists create dynamic and situated learning spaces and finally critically reflecting on theoretical frameworks and educational practices Contributors include David Gabbard Jeffery Shantz Isabelle Fremeaux John Jordan Abraham P DeLeon Elsa Noterman Andre Pusey Matthew Weinstein Alex Khasnabish and many others     Education and the Politics of Becoming Diana Masny, David Cole, 2020-10-28 This collection examines education in the light of a politics of becoming It takes a non hierarchical transdisciplinary approach challenging the macropolitics of pre established governmental and economic agendas for education Drawing on the philosophy of Gilles Deleuze and Felix Guattari the contributors consider questions such as how education might engage a politics of becoming and how education and becoming function in a society of control Since Deleuze and Guattari contend that a society is defined by its becomings its transformations this collection asks how education itself a process in becoming may contribute collective creations to a society in continual flux The chapters bring theory and praxis together deploying power affect cartography space relationality assemblage and multiple literacies in order to experiment with music art language teacher education curriculum and policy studies This collection is an innovative resource creating an encounter with the macropolitics of education and altering teaching learning evaluation and curriculum This book was originally published as a special issue of Discourse Studies in the Cultural Politics of Education
