Sartre Iris Murdoch,1989 Sartre Iris Murdoch,1961 Understanding Iris Murdoch Cheryl Browning Bove,1993
Describes Murdoch as preoccupied with love art the possibility difficulty of doing good avoiding evil A Commentary on Jean-Paul Sartre's Critique of Dialectical Reason Joseph S. Catalano,2013-01-17 Sartre s Critique of Dialectical Reason ranks with Being and Nothingness as a work of major philosophical significance but it has been largely neglected The first volume published in 1960 was dismissed as a Marxist work at a time when structuralism was coming into vogue the incomplete second volume has only recently been published in France In this commentary on the first volume Joseph S Catalano restores the Critique to its deserved place among Sartre s works and within philosophical discourse as a whole Sartre attempts one of the most needed tasks of our times Catalano asserts the delivery of history into the hands of the average person Sartre s concern in the Critique is with the historical significance of everyday life Can we he asks as individuals or even collectively direct the course of our history A historical context for our lives is given to us at birth but we sustain that context with even our most mundane actions buying a newspaper waiting in line eating a meal In looking at history Sartre argues reason can never separate the historical situation of the investigator from the investigation Thus reason falls into a dialectic always depending upon the past for guidance but always being reshaped by the present Clearly showing the influence of Marx on Sartre s thought the Critique adds the historical dimension lacking in Being and Nothingness In placing the Critique within the corpus of Sartre s philosophical writings Catalano argues that it represents a development rather than a break from Sartre s existentialist phase Catalano has organized his commentary to follow the Critique and has supplied clear examples and concrete expositions of the most difficult ideas He explicates the dialogue between Marx and Sartre that is internal to the text and he also discusses Sartre s Search for Method which is published separately from the Critique in English editions On Modern British Fiction Zachary Leader,2002 In this volume fourteen of today s very best novelists and critics join forces to create a landmark study of the last 50 years of British fiction Essays by Martin Amis Ian McEwan Hilary Mantel James Wood Christopher Hitchens Michael Wood Elaine Showalter and others range from modern historical fiction and nationality to lad lit and the comic tradition from criticism and reviewing to the reception of British fiction in America Among the many writers explored here are Angus Wilson Angela Carter Iris Murdoch Penelope Fitzgerald V S Pritchett Naipaul and Rushdie Provocative and insightful this is a must read for anyone interested in modern fiction
American Journal of Psychotherapy ,1947 The Good Apprentice Iris Murdoch,2001-12-01 Edward Baltram is overwhelmed with guilt His nasty little prank has gone horribly wrong He has fed his closest friend a sandwich laced with a hallucinogenic drug and the young man has fallen out of a window to his death Edward searches for redemption through a reunion with his famous father the reclusive painter Jesse Baltram Funny and compelling The Good Apprentice is at once a supremely sophisticated entertainment and an inquiry into the spiritual crises that afflict the modern world For more than

The others examined by Fiddes are mainly those with whom Murdoch entered into explicit dialogue in her novels and philosophical writing including Immanuel Kant Simone Weil Dietrich Bonhoeffer Rudolph Bultmann Paul Tillich Don Cupitt Donald Mackinnon and Jacques Derrida This historic dialogue is however placed within a wider dialogue between literature and theology being conducted by the author and others are brought into relation with Murdoch in order to illuminate this more extensive conversation notably the poet Gerard Manley Hopkins and the feminist philosopher Julia Kristeva The book demonstrates that characteristic themes in Murdoch's novels and philosophy the love of the Good the death of the ego illusory consolations the death of God the modifying of the will by waiting the sublime and the beautiful and attention to other things and persons all take on a greater meaning when placed in the context of her life long conversation with theology The exploration of this context is deepened in this volume by reference to annotations and notes that Murdoch made in a number of theological books in her personal library

Separate Humans Albert Piette, 2016-06-07T00:00:00+02:00 This book is a theoretical essay that lays foundations on which to build an anthropology directly focusing on human units In the first chapter the author attempts to show that the evolutionary specificity of humans constitutes an argument in favour of this perspective The consciousness of existing in time and nuanced modalities of presence call for a detailed observation of humans The second chapter is a critique of the abundant use of the notion of relations in social anthropology This critique is necessary because of the extent to which the various theoretical and methodological uses of relations absorb and lose existences and their details The third chapter concerns nonhumans another major theme of contemporary anthropology Albert Piette sees a certain debasement of the notion of existence and proposes a realist ontology considering what does and does not exist from the examples of divinities animals and collective institutions It is not a matter of being satisfied with an analysis of ontologies or local metaphysics but also showing what really is in a situation and not just from the point of view of people and their discourse This analysis leads to a classification of beings and to a consideration of the importance of minimality in human existence
