

Saturday's Child By Countee Cullen

Some are teathed on a silver spoon,
With the stars strung for a rattle;
I cut my teeth as the black raccoon—
For implements of battle.

Some are swaddled in silk and down,
And heralded by a star;
They swathed my limbs in a sackcloth gown
On a night that was black as tar.

For some, godfather and goddame
The opulent fairies be;
Dame Poverty gave me my name,
And Pain godfathered me.

For I was born on Saturday—
“Bad time for planting a seed,”
Was all my father had to say,
And, “One mouth more to feed.”

Death cut the strings that gave me life,
And handed me to Sorrow,
The only kind of middle wife
My folks could beg or borrow.

The Seven Day Circle Eviatar Zerubavel,1989-03-15 Days months and years were given to us by nature but we invented the week for ourselves There is nothing inevitable about a seven day cycle or about any other kind of week it represents an arbitrary rhythm imposed on our activities unrelated to anything in the natural order But where the week exists and there have been many cultures where it doesn't it is so deeply embedded in our experience that we hardly ever question its rightness or think of it as an artificial convention for most of us it is a matter of second nature
