Mindfulness In The Marketplace Compassionate Responses To Consumerism By Badiner:

Mindfulness in the Marketplace Allan Hunt Badiner, 2005-08-10 Mindfulness in the Marketplace suggests a reorientation of consumers from passive purchasers to aware responsible citizens who see the dynamic connection between their purchases and their values The Middle Path of Buddhism is not to avoid all consumption but to consume mindfully in a manner that protects ourselves and all living systems This anthology outlines a path of compassionate resistance to global corporatization and offers a view of getting into right relationship with the Earth Includes the Dalai Lama Thich Nhat Hanh Stephen Batchelor and Joanna Macy

Ethical Principles and Economic Transformation - A Buddhist Approach Laszlo Zsolnai, 2011-05-17 Buddhism points out that emphasizing individuality and promoting the greatest fulfillment of the desires of the individual conjointly lead to destruction The book promotes the basic value choices of Buddhism namely happiness peace and permanence Happiness research convincingly shows that not material wealth but the richness of personal relationships determines happiness Not things but people make people happy Western economics tries to provide people with happiness by supplying enormous quantities of things and today's dominating business models are based on and cultivates narrow self centeredness But what people need are caring relationships and generosity Buddhist economics makes these values accessible by direct provision Peace can be achieved in nonviolent ways Wanting less can substantially contribute to this endeavor and make it happen more easily Permanence or ecological sustainability requires a drastic cutback in the present level of consumption and production globally This reduction should not be an inconvenient exercise of self sacrifice In the noble ethos of reducing suffering it can be a positive development path for humanity

A Political Economy of Attention, Mindfulness and Consumerism Peter Doran, 2017-07-14 The power of capital is the power to target our attention mould market ready identities and reduce the public realm to an endless series of choices This has far reaching implications for our psychological physical and spiritual well being and ultimately for our global ecology In this consumer age the underlying teachings of Buddhist mindfulness offer more than individual well being and resilience They also offer new sources of critical inquiry into our collective condition and may point in time to regulatory initiatives in the field of well being This book draws together lively debates from the new economics of transition commons and well being consumerism and the emerging role of mindfulness in popular culture Engaged Buddhist practices and teachings correspond closely to insights in contemporary political philosophical investigations into the nature of power notably by Michel Foucault

The attention economy can be understood as a new arena of struggle in our age of neoliberal governmentality as the forces of enclosure having colonized forests land and the bodies of workers are now extended to the realm of our minds and subjectivity This poses questions about the recovery of the mindful commons the practices we must cultivate to reclaim our attention time and lives from the forces of capitalization This is a valuable resource for students and scholars of environmental philosophy environmental psychology environmental sociology well being and new economics political economy environmental politics the commons and law as well as Buddhist theory and philosophy
