Modern Age Historicism And Functionalism:

The modern Age Hans Gerhard Evers, 1970 Vom Historismus zum Funktionalismus The modern age, historicism and functionalism ... Translated by J. R. Foster Hans Gerhard EVERS, Joseph Reginald FOSTER, 1970 History and Religion Bernd-Christian Otto, Susanne Rau, Jörg Rüpke, 2015-08-31 History is one of the most important cultural tools to make sense of one's situation to establish identity define otherness and explain change This is the first systematic scholarly study that analyses the complex relationship between history and religion taking into account religious groups both as producers of historical narratives as well as distinct topics of historiography Coming from different disciplines the authors of this volume ask under which conditions and with what consequences religions are historicised How do religious groups employ historical narratives in the construction of their identities What are the biases and elisions of current analytical and descriptive frames in the History of Religion The volume aims at initiating a comparative historiography of religion and combines disciplinary competences of Religious Studies and the History of Religion Confessional Theologies History History of Science and Literary Studies By applying literary comparison and historical contextualization to those texts that have been used as central documents for histories of individual religions their historiographic themes tools and strategies are analysed The comparative approach addresses circum Mediterranean and European as well as Asian religious traditions from the first millennium BCE to the present and deals with topics such as the origins of religious historiography the practices of writing and the transformation of narratives Provincial Modernity Jennifer Jenkins, 2018-09-05 A history of the making of public culture in Imperial Germany Provincial Modernity challenges traditional accounts of the rise and fall of German liberalism and the meaning given to the cultural work of the German middle classes With an interdisciplinary approach that ranges from political history to modernist art and architecture Jennifer Jenkins explores the role that local tradition memory history culture and environment played in nineteenth century conceptions of citizenship and community in Hamburg Eighteen black and white illustrations and one color illustration enhance her portrait of the city in question Drawing on a wide range of sources Jenkins focuses on the city's cultural institutions particularly the Hamburg Art Museum and its director Alfred Lichtwark who inspired a citywide movement of political and cultural reform Lichtwark who became one of Imperial Germany's most important cultural politicians worked with the city's elites and its civic associations both middle and working class Together they promoted aesthetic education in the interest of forging a liberal society Lichtwark and the movement he inspired saw the educated middle classes as the custodians of national culture believed education and civic morality to be vehicles for the creation of modern citizens and argued that vital regional identities were essential to the making of a liberal national community In so doing they defined and promoted a distinctive northern German form of modernist culture in art and architecture The Science of Sacrifice Susan L. Mizruchi, 1998-05-24 From ritual killings to subtle acts of self denial the practice and rhetoric of sacrifice has a special centrality in modern American literature In a compelling interdisciplinary investigation Susan Mizruchi portrays an episode in American cultural history when the literary movement of realism and the fledgling field of sociology both converged in the belief that sacrifice is basic to sociality This is a book about the fascination that sacrifice held for writers principally Herman Melville Henry James and W E B Du Bois and also for those who articulated the main tenets of modern social theory an inquiry that eventually spans historical events such as public lynchings and the political scapegoating of immigrants a century ago The execution in Billy Budd Sailor the death of Du Bois s first born son in The Souls of Black Folk Henry James s preoccupation with renunciation and scapegoating and the self denying working classes of Norris and Stein all illustrate repeated stagings of sacrificial rituals from a Biblical past For Mizruchi the peculiar persistence of this aesthetic construct becomes a guide to a rich theological and social scientific tradition distinctive to the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries and including such influential works as Smith s Lectures on the Religion of the Semites Frazer s Golden Bough and Ross s Sin and Society The major features of sacrifice its original association with spiritual doubt its function as a form of spiritual economics that sustained divisions between the fortunate and the bereft and its role in fixing boundaries between aliens and kin held strong symbolic value for writers struggling to reconcile faith with rationalism and communal coherence with capitalist expansion Mizruchi eloquently demonstrates how the conceptual power of sacrifice made it a key mediator of cultural change from the decline of sympathy and the significance of race in an emerging multicultural society to the revival of maternal self sacrifice

Subaltern Morality: a Postmodern Vision Ramesh Chandra Sinha, 2017-03-21 The expression Subaltern had been used by Italian Marxist Antonio Gramsci in his celebrated notes on PRISON DIARY but it is interpreted in a different way in this book The concept includes caste color gender and class It is not economic category but a cultural one It is different from Marxist interpretation of the term Proletariat Marxist Morality is class bound Subaltern morality is not class bound An attempt to deconstruct the age old Egalitarian Morality the author proposes morality of those who are besides the circle and suggests a postmodern vision to understand subaltern morality Offering challenging insights into conception of Global justice the author subscribes to Aristotelian contention of distributive justice where equals are treated equally and unequal are treated unequally

Stephen Cohen, 2016-04-01 Located at the intersection of new historicism and the new formalism historical formalism is one of the most rapidly growing and important movements in early modern studies taking seriously the theoretical issues raised by both history and form it challenges the anti formalist orthodoxies of new historicism and expands the scope of historicist criticism Shakespeare and Historical Formalism is the first volume devoted exclusively to collecting and assessing work of this kind With essays on a broad range of Shakespeare s works and engaging topics from performance theory to the emergence of the literary and from historiography to pedagogy the volume demonstrates the value of historical formalism for Shakespeare studies and for literary criticism as a whole Shakespeare and Historical Formalism begins with an introduction that describes the nature and potential of historical formalism and traces its roots in early modern literary theory and its troubled relationship with new historicism The volume is then divided into two sections corresponding to the two chief objectives of historical formalism a historically informed and politically astute formalism and a historicist criticism revitalized by attention to issues of form The first section Historicizing Form explores from a variety of perspectives the historical and political sources meanings and functions of Shakespeare's dramatic forms The second section Re Forming History uses questions of form to rethink our understanding of historicism and of history itself and in doing so challenges some of our fundamental literary critical pedagogical and epistemological assumptions Concluding with suggestions for further reading on historical formalism and related work Shakespeare and Historical Formalism invites scholars to rethink the familiar categories and principles of formal and historical criticism

Taking Sides in Social Research Martyn Hammersley, 2005-08-12 In the past it was generally taken for granted that the goal of social research was the production of objective knowledge and that this required a commitment to value neutrality In more recent times however both these ideals have come to be challenged and it is often argued that all research is inevitably political in its assumptions and effects In this major contribution to the debate Martyn Hammersley assesses the arguments from the classic and still influential contributions of C Wright Mills Howard Becker and Alvin Gouldner to the present day He concludes that the case for partisanship is not convincing and that an intelligent and sceptical commitment to the principles of objectivity and value neutrality must remain an essential feature of research
