The Modern Novel Tamar Yacobi, 1985 Hypermasculinities in the Contemporary Novel Josef Benson, 2014-07-16

Issues of race gender women's rights masculinity and sexuality continue to be debated on the national scene These subjects have also been in the forefront of American literature particularly in the last fifty years One significant trend in contemporary fiction has been the failure of the heroic masculine protagonist In Hypermasculinities in the Contemporary Novel Cormac McCarthy Toni Morrison and James Baldwin Josef Benson examines key literary works of the twentieth century notably Blood Meridian 1985 All the Pretty Horses 1992 Song of Solomon 1977 and Another Country 1960 Benson argues that exaggerated masculinities originated on the American frontier and have transformed into a definition of ideal masculinity embraced by many southern rural American men Defined by violence racism sexism and homophobia these men concocted or perpetuated myths about African Americans to justify their mistreatment and mass murder of black men after Reconstruction As Benson illustrates the protagonists in these texts fail to perpetuate hypermasculinities and as a result a sense of ironic heroism emerges from the narratives Offering a unique and bold argument that connects the masculinities of cowboys and frontier figures with black males Hypermasculinities in the Contemporary Novel suggests alternative possibilities for American men going forward Scholars and students of American literature and culture African American literature and culture and queer and gender theory will find this book illuminating and persuasive

Gender and the Intersubjective Sublime in Faulkner, Forster, Lawrence, and Woolf Erin Speese, 2017-09-22 Exploring how the modern novel's complex depictions of parenthood restructure traditional conceptions of the Romantic sublime Erin K Johns Speese shows how William Faulkner E M Forster D H Lawrence and Virginia Woolf use related strategies to rewrite the traditional sublime as an intersubjective experience Speese shows that this reframing depends on the recognition of social objectification and an ethics of reciprocal empathy between mothers and fathers She juxtaposes traditional aesthetics and Slavoj Žižek's concept of the sublime object of ideology with recent theoretical work regarding identity arguing that these modern novelists construct what she terms a sublime subject that is a person who functions in the space of the traditional sublime object In revealing the possibility of transcendent emotional connection over reason these novelists critique the objectification of the other in favor of a sublime experience that reveals the subject shattering power of empathy

Findley, 2010-09-21 Book Description Publication Date August 30 2011 Turkey Islam Nationalism and Modernity reveals the historical dynamics propelling two centuries of Ottoman and Turkish history As mounting threats to imperial survival necessitated dynamic responses ethnolinguistic and religious identities inspired alternative strategies for engaging with modernity A radical secularizing current of change competed with a conservative Islamically committed current Crises sharpened the differentiation of the two streams forcing choices between them The radical current began with the formation of reformist governmental elites and expanded with the advent of print capitalism symbolized by the privately owned Ottoman language newspapers The radicals engineered the 1908 Young Turk revolution ruled empire and republic until 1950 made secularism a lasting belief system and still retain powerful positions. The conservative current gained impetus from three history-making Islamic renewal movements: those of Mevlana Halid Said Nursi and Fethullah Gulen. Powerful under the empire, Islamic conservatives did not regain control of government until the 1980s. By then they too had their own influential media. Findley's reassessment of political, economic, social, and cultural history reveals the dialectical interaction between radical and conservative currents of change which alternately clashed and converged to shape late Ottoman and republican Turkish history.
