Literary Theory and Criticism: An Introduction Anne H. Stevens, 2015-06-18 Literary Theory and Criticism An Introduction provides an accessible overview of major figures and movements in literary theory and criticism from antiquity to the twenty first century It is designed for students at the undergraduate level or for others needing a broad synthesis of the long history of literary theory An introductory chapter provides an overview of some of the major issues within literary theory and criticism further chapters survey theory and criticism in antiquity the Middle Ages and Renaissance the Enlightenment and the nineteenth century For twentieth and twenty first century theory the discussion is subdivided into separate chapters on formalist historicist political and psychoanalytic approaches The final chapter applies a variety of theoretical concepts and approaches to two famous works of literature William Shakespeare's Hamlet and Mary Shelley's Frankenstein Serialization, Commercialization and the Children's Classics Amy Webster, 2024-12-12 An exploration of the serialization of children's classics by contemporary publishers this book digs into the impact of the practice and provides new ways of reading the corpus of British children's literature from the 20th century Amy Webster demonstrates how publishers select texts for their series which texts they omit which outliers are sometimes included and how a core group of works from the golden age of children's literature emerged The text also examines how texts are abridged and transformed from publisher to publisher through close readings of The Wind in the Willows and Alice's Adventures in Wonderland and how the repackaging of works within a series highlight issues and choices tied to key paratextual elements Analysing data through distant reading and close reading of series from Ladybird Longman Puffin and Walker Illustrated editions this book sheds light on how modern classics series are marked by variation and instability but also a reductive homogeneity Through her use of quantitative and text focused research Webster reveals how commercial motivations have created a gulf between the canonical concepts of the classic and how the term functions as a marketing tool in British children's publishing With notions of what counts as a classic compromised and complicated this book leads the call for a critical approach towards both the term classic and to reading children's classics that acknowledges how they are tied to the commercial enterprises of the children's book business

Filming Literature Neil Sinyard, 2013-07-18 This is a comprehensive survey of the relationship between film and literature. It looks at the cinematic adaptations of such literary masters as Shakespeare, Henry James, Joseph Conrad, and D. H. Lawrence and considers the contribution to the cinema made by important literary figures as Harold Pinter, James Agnew, and Graham Greene. Elsewhere the book draws intriguing analogies between certain literary and film artists such as Dickens and Chaplin, Ford and Twain, and suggests that such analogies can throw fresh light on the subjects under review. Another chapter considers the film genre of the bio-pic, the numerous cinematic attempts to render in concrete terms the complexities of the literary life, whether the writer be Proust, Joyce, Oscar Wilde, Dashiell Hammett, Agatha Christie, or Boris Pasternak. Originally published in 1986, this is a book to appeal to any reader with an interest in film or literature and is of especial value to those involved in the teaching or study of either subject.

A New Old Spirituality? Tone Stangeland Kaufman, 2017-07-11 How do pastors live their spiritual lives both as private persons and as professionals? How can their spirituality be characterized and understood? Drawing on in-depth interviews with Norwegian clergy as well as literature from the fields of Christian spirituality, practical theology, congregational studies, and the sociology of religion, this book offers a nuanced understanding of clergy spirituality. Tone Stangeland Kaufman identifies three locations and sources of spiritual nurture for pastors: the ministry itself, vocational spirituality, daily life, everyday spirituality, and spiritual practices located at the margins of daily life, intentional spirituality. The participants in this study engage in classic Christian practices yet approach them in a subjective and new way that also potentially revitalizes their spiritual lives. Hence the author makes the case that their spirituality can aptly be described as a new old spirituality. The book also seeks to nuance Paul Heelas's and Linda Woodhead's Spiritual Revolution claim and thus engages in the broader spirituality vs. religion discourse. A New Old Spirituality is an exciting example of how qualitative empirical research can be used in creative ways to make a practical theological argument. It is a book for scholars, students, and practitioners.

Contemporary Reconfigurations of American Literary Classics Betina Entzminger, 2013 The number and popularity of novels that have overtly reconfigured aspects of classic American texts suggests a curious trend for both readers and writers: an impulse to retell and reread books that have come to define American culture. This book argues that by revising canonical American literature, contemporary American writers are re-writing an American myth of origins, creating one that corresponds to the contemporary writer's understanding of self and society. Informed by cognitive psychology, evolutionary literary criticism, and poststructuralism, Entzminger reads texts by canonical authors (Poe, Hawthorne, Melville, Alcott, Twain, Chopin, and Faulkner) and by the contemporary writers that respond to them. In highlighting the construction and cognitive function of narrative in their own and in their antecedent texts, contemporary writers highlight the fact that such use of narrative is universal and essential to human beings. This book suggests that by revising the classic texts that compose our cultural narrative contemporary writers mirror the way human individuals consistently revisit and refigure the past through language via self narration in order to manage and understand experience Feminism and Women's Writing Catherine Riley,2018-02-09 Explores the transformative reign of the Catholic King James VII and the revolution that brought about his fall Reader's Guide to Judaism Michael Terry,2013-12-02 The Reader's Guide to Judaism is a survey of English language translations of the most important primary texts in the Jewish tradition The field is assessed in some 470 essays discussing individuals Martin Buber Gluckel of Hameln literature Genesis Ladino Literature thought and beliefs Holiness Bioethics practice Dietary Laws Passover history Venice Baghdadi Jews of India and arts and material culture Synagogue Architecture Costume The emphasis is on Judaism rather than on Jewish studies more broadly The New Standard Encyclopedia William A. Colledge,Nathan Haskell Dole,George Jotham Hagar,1903 The Headmistress Angela Thirkell,2016-11-17 Barsetshire in the latter years of the Second World War is a peaceful and gossipy place but there has been one lively change A girls school evacuated from London has taken over Harefield Park Miss Sparling seems to be the perfect headmistress she dresses as a headmistress should and is an easy and erudite conversationalist Her new neighbours like her and her pupils respect her but there is something missing from her life something which though she never dreamt it when she arrived perhaps Barsetshire can provide The Athenaeum ,1849

The Musician ,1897 Untranslatability Goes Global Suzanne Jill Levine,Katie Lateef-Jan,2017-07-06 This collection brings together contributions from translation theorists linguists and literary scholars to promote interdisciplinary dialogue about untranslatability and its implications within the context of globalization The chapters depart from the pragmatics of translation practice and move on to consider the role of the translator's voice and the translator as author in specific literary works The volume as a whole seeks to study and at times dramatize the interplay between translation as a creative practice and its place within the dynamic between local and global examining case studies across a wide variety of literary genres and traditions across regions By highlighting the complex interface between translation practice and theory translator and author and local and global this book will be of particular interest to graduate students and scholars in translation studies and literary studies Two Days In Aragon Molly Keane,2013-05-02 FROM THE AUTHOR SHORTLISTED FOR THE MAN BOOKER PRIZE She was marvellous GUARDIAN I admired many authors But Molly I loved DIANA ATHILL Keane's distinctive blend of elegant savagery and deep affection EVENING STANDARD Grania and Sylvia Fox live in the Georgian house of Aragon with their mother their Aunt Pidgie and Nan O'Neill the family nurse Grania is conducting a secret affair with Nan's son Foley a wily horse breeder whilst Sylvia who is pretty in the right and accepted way falls for the charms of Captain Purvis Attending Aragon's strawberry teas the British Army Officers can almost forget the reason for their presence in Ireland But the days of dignified calm at Aragon are numbered for Foley is a member of Sinn Féin
