Modern History Of Ethiopia And The Horn Of Africa:

The Modern History of Ethiopia and the Horn of Africa Harold G. Marcus, 1972      The Modern History of Ethiopia and the Horn of Africa Harold G. Marcus, 1972      The Modern History of Ethiopia and the Horn of Africa Joel F. Handler, 1972      The Cambridge History of Africa J. D. Fage, Roland Anthony Oliver, Michael Crowder, 1975 The eighth and final volume of The Cambridge History of Africa covers the period 1940-75. It begins with a discussion of the role of the Second World War in the political decolonisation of Africa. Its terminal date of 1975 coincides with the retreat of Portugal, the last European colonial power in Africa, from its possessions and their accession to independence. The fifteen chapters which make up this volume examine on both a continental and regional scale the extent to which formal transfer of political power by the European colonial rulers also involved economic, social and cultural decolonisation. A major theme of the volume is the way the African successors to the colonial rulers dealt with their inheritance and how far they benefited particular economic groups and disadvantaged others. The contributors to this volume represent different disciplinary traditions and do not share a single theoretical perspective on the recent history of the continent, a subject that is still the occasion for passionate debate.

A Modern History Of Somalia I.M. Lewis, 2019-05-20 This latest edition of A Modern History of the Somali brings I.M. Lewis's definitive history up to date and shows the amazing continuity of Somali forms of social organization. Lewis's history portrays the ingeniousness with which the Somali way of life has been adapted to all forms of modernity. By far the most penetrating of the works on Somalia.      The History of Islam in Africa Nehemia Levtzion, Randall L. Pouwels, 2000-03-31 The history of the Islamic faith on the continent of Africa spans fourteen centuries. For the first time in a single volume, The History of Islam in Africa presents a detailed historic mapping of the cultural, political, geographic and religious past of this significant presence on a continent-wide scale. Bringing together two dozen leading scholars, this comprehensive work treats the historical development of the religion in each major region and examines its effects. Without assuming prior knowledge of the subject on the part of its readers, The History of Islam in Africa is broken down into discrete areas, each devoted to a particular place or theme and each written by experts in that particular arena. The introductory chapters examine the principal gateways from abroad through which Islam traditionally has influenced Africans. The following two parts present overviews of Islamic history in West Africa and the Sudanic zone and in subequatorial Africa. In the final section, the authors discuss important themes that have had an impact on Muslim communities in Africa. Designed as both a reference and a text, The History of Islam in Africa will be an essential tool for libraries, scholars and students of this growing field. Contributors: Edward A. Alpers, Ren A. Bravmann, Abdin Chande, Eric Charry, Allan Christelow, Roberta Ann Dunbar, Kenneth W. Harrow, Lansin Kaba, Lidwien Kapteijns, Nehemia Levtzion, William F. S. Miles, David Owusu Ansah, M. N. how the history of decolonization is being rethought as a result of the rise of the new imperial history and its emphasis on race gender and culture as well as the more recent growth of interest in histories of globalization transnational history and histories of migration and diaspora humanitarianism and development and human rights The Handbook in other words seeks to identify the processes and commonalities of experience that make decolonization a unique historical phenomenon with a lasting resonance In light of decades of historical and social scientific scholarship on modernization dependency neo colonialism failed state architectures and post colonial conflict the obvious question that begs itself is when did empires actually end In seeking to unravel this most basic dilemma the Handbook explores the relationship between the study of decolonization and the study of globalization It connects histories of the late colonial and post colonial worlds and considers the legacies of empire in European and formerly colonised societies Nomads in the Shadows of Empires Gufu Oba,2013-07-11 In Nomads in the Shadows of Empires Gufu Oba presents accounts of why the legacies of banditry and ethnic conflicts have proved so difficult to resolve along the southern Ethiopian and northern Kenyan frontier Using interpretative and comparative methods to dialogue the relationships between different political actors on both sides of the frontier the work captures the dynamics of political events related to imperial contests over borders and trans frontier treaty A complex evolution of inter societal relations as well as the relations between partitioned nomads and the imperial states had resulted in persistent conflicts This work improves the understanding why frontier pastoralists continue to experience conflict over land even after the transfer of the tribal territories to the imperial and postcolonial states Please click here to watch an interview with the author in Oromo Frontiers of Violence in North-East Africa Richard J. Reid,2011-03-24 Northeast Africa has one of the richest histories in the world and yet also one of the most violent Richard Reid offers an historical analysis of violent conflict in northeast Africa through the nineteenth and twentieth centuries incorporating the Ethiopian and Eritrean highlands and their escarpment and lowland peripheries stretching between the modern Eritrean Red Sea coast and the southern and eastern borderlands of present day Ethiopia Sudanese and Somali frontiers are also examined insofar as they can be related to ethnic political and religious conflict and the violent state and empire building processes which have defined the region since c 1800 Reid argues that this modern warfare is not solely the product of modern political failure but rather has its roots in a network of frontier zones which are both violent and creative Such borderlands have given rise to markedly militarised political cultures which are rooted in the violence of the nineteenth century and which in recent decades are manifest in authoritarian systems of government Reid thus traces the history of Amhara and Tigrayan imperialisms to the nationalist and ethnic revolutions which represented the march of volatile borderlands on the hegemonic centre He suggests a new interpretation of Ethiopian and Eritrean history arguing that the key to understanding the region's turbulent present lies in an appreciation of the role of the armed and politically fertile frontier in its deeper past State institutions and leadership in Africa Irma Taddia,Tekeste Negash,2018-02-01 The central theme of this book is the role of education in the formation of a political class during and after the European colonial period in Africa. The volume focuses on the various actors that informed and were part of this process such as African intellectuals and political leaders, colonial troops, European missionaries and administrators. At the same time, the collection analyses the historical processes connected to the emergence and development of a new African leadership such as the creation of a colonial school system, the transformation of urban spaces, the development of new environmental policies and the processes of nation building after independence. The volume is made up of twelve contributions: four on Ethiopia, two on Eritrea, two on the Sudan, one on Somaliland, two on Tanzania and one on Ghana. African Foreign Policies in International Institutions Jason Warner, Timothy M. Shaw, 2018-05-18. This book is the first to exclusively consider the foreign policy tendencies of African states in international institutions. As an edited volume offering empirically based perspectives from a variety of scholars, this project disabuses the notion that Africa should be considered a niche interest in the field of foreign policy analysis. It asserts that the actions of the continent's states collectively serve as an important heuristic by which to interrogate and understand the foreign policies of other global states and are not simply anomalously extant entities whose actions should be studied only insofar as they deviate from predictions based on the experiences of Western or other non-African states. Secessionism in African Politics Lotje de Vries, Pierre Englebert, Mareike Schomerus, 2018-08-20.

Secessionism perseveres as a complex political phenomenon in Africa, yet often a more in-depth analysis is overshadowed by the aspirational simplicity of pursuing a new state. Using historical and contemporary approaches, this edited volume offers the most exhaustive collection of empirical studies of African secessionism to date. The respected expert contributors put salient and lesser-known cases into comparative perspective, covering Biafra, Katanga, Eritrea and South Sudan alongside Barotseland, Cabinda and the Comoros among others. Suggesting that African secessionism can be understood through the categories of aspiration, grievance, performance and disenchantment, the book's analytical framework promises to be a building block for future studies of the topic.
