Skreslet, Rebecca Skreslet, 2006-09-20 This book introduces the literature of Islam as it is presented in English translation For scholars in other fields who need to understand the vast and complex literary heritage of this erudite and vigorous faith community but are unable to devote years of their lives to achieving a reading proficiency in classical Arabic for faculty members called upon to teach introductory or survey courses outside their own disciplines and for graduate students in theology medieval studies world religions or related fields who need access to these primary sources in English translation The Literature of Islam is a welcome resource Even lay readers who are interested in understanding the modern Arab or Islamic world may grasp something of the currents of thought and belief through the centuries that produced these important works which continue to exert a powerful influence upon Muslims today The primary literatures of Islam are normally classified into several areas of study the canonical literature the interpretation of scripture and tradition law theology philosophy history and mysticism Entries here are organized into these areas of study and represent the most significant texts from important trends in the discipline The volume also includes an extensive bibliography that lists the editions of primary sources analyzed in each chapter There are also some suggestions for secondary reading which might be helpful to a student seeking additional information about each genre of literature Contemporary Turkish Writers Louis Mitler, 1988 Encyclopedia of Islamic Civilisation and Religion Ian Richard Netton, 2013-12-19 The Encyclopedia of Islamic Civilization and Religion provides scholarly coverage of the religion culture and history of the Islamic world at a time when that world is undergoing considerable change and is a focus of international study and debate The non Muslim world s perceptions of Islam have often tended to be dominated by unrepresentative radical extremist movements and media interpretations of events involving such movements to the extent that many people are unaware of the depth and variety of Islamic thought At the same time many who have had a formal training in Islamic studies have tended to concentrate on the traditional to the exclusion of the contemporary The Encyclopedia of Islamic Civilization and Religion covers the full range of Islamic thought in historical depth but it also provides substantial coverage of contemporary trends across the Muslim world With well over a thousand entries on Islamic theology history arts science law and institutions and coverage of Islam in individual countries and cities around the world the Encyclopedia of Islamic Civilization and Religion provides an extremely rich resource for students and researchers in religious studies and Middle Eastern studies Entries are cross referenced and bibliographies are provided There is a full index Routledge published The Qur'an An Encyclopedia in 2005 an excellent

American University (Washington, D.C.). Foreign Area Studies,1978 No Shame for the Sun Shahla Haeri,2002-11-01 This groundbreaking work sheds new light on the status conflicts and social realities of educated Muslim women in Pakistan

Six candid interviews introduce readers to a class of professional Muslim women that is rarely if ever acknowledged in the West. These women tell of conflicts and compromises with family kin and community while facing violence, archaic marriage rules and locally entrenched codes of conduct. With brave eloquence they speak of human dignity and gender equality of economic deprivation and social justice and of feminism and fundamentalism. Challenging stereotypes, No Shame for the Sun reveals the uniqueness of each person and diversity in the life experience of Pakistani Muslim women including their world views and the struggles to change their society. Through their struggles professional Pakistani women have become conscious of their own and other women's situations in their country. Because they exercise power and authority in their chosen fields they risk losing their families' support and antagonizing their communities. Carefully detailed and meticulously researched, this book offers a much needed perspective on the changing circumstances of Pakistani women along with a view of established patterns and structural constraints within Pakistan. On a broader level it examines Western misconceptions regarding Islam, a religion that crosses many borders and cultures.
