Neglected Canon Nine Women Philosophers First To The Twentieth Century:

The Neglected Canon: Nine Women Philosophers T. Dykeman, 2013-06-29 When down from the moon stepped the goddess of the night she bid Minerva Athene come to her Minerva Athene she said you sprang fully formed from the head of your father Now all the daughters of mankind think they too are as rootless as you Tonight I bid you dance join the circle round 1 that tree glistening with the clarity of wisdom Mother Natura and Lady Philosophia hands together already have begun the promenade of myth and allegory Still in the garb of gold and white stone Minerva Athene did as she was bid and danced till dawn Then in new light she found herself suddenly a budding flower on a tall branch and even more swiftly a crystalline fruit rivaling the morning sun refracting the light Behold she had grown roots difficult to discover down in the dark of history deep in the solid knowledge of earth And the daughters of humankind saw and reveled in their roots This is the story of this book a history long and diverse of women thinkers and their thought It will become a legacy for all who study it a legacy that Heloise Marie de Gournay Sor Juana Ines de la Cruz and Judith Sargent Murray among many women philosophers assured by composing lists of the names of women little acknowledged century after century While the Hannah Arendt s Susanne K

Dykeman, 2014-01-15 Women Philosophers from the Renaissance to the Enlightenment Ruth Edith Hagengruber, Sarah Hutton, 2021-05-18 This collection of essays presents new work on women s contribution to philosophy between the Renaissance and the mid eighteenth century They bring a new perspective to the history of philosophy by highlighting women s contributions to philosophy and testifying to the rich history of women s thought in this period By showing that women were active in many branches of philosophy metaphysics science political philosophy cosmology ontology epistemology the book testifies to the rich history of women s thought across Europe in this period The scope of the collection is international both in terms of the philosophers represented and the contributors themselves from Britain and North America but also from continental Europe and from as far afield as Australia and Brazil The philosophers discussed here include both figures who have recently come to be better known Elisabeth of Bohemia Anne Conway Mary Astell Catharine Trotter Cockburn Emilie du Chatelet and less familiar figures Moderata Fonte Lucrezia Marinella Arcangela Tarabotti Tullia d Aragona Madame Deshoulieres Madame de Sabliere Anglique de Saint Jean Arnauld d Andilly Oliva Sabuco Susanna Newcome The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the British Journal for the History of Philosophy Canon Fodder Penny A. Weiss, 2009-01-01 A discussion of women thinkers in political philosophy and the nature of political inquiry Provided by publisher Disappearing Ink Eileen O'Neill, 2025-03-07 When Eileen O'Neill 1953 2017 published her ground breaking essay Disappearing Ink Early Modern Women Philosophers and the History of Philosophy in 1998 women philosophers were virtually absent from encyclopedias of philosophy and the numerous histories and anthologies of early modern thought This essay would come to have an enormous impact signaling the beginning of the movement to introduce early modern women philosophers into the canon In its densely packed 46 pages Disappearing Ink presented the names major works and principal theses of literally dozens of forgotten women whose works were published during the early modern period and who had engaged in correspondence with central male figures but whose names and works had since been erased Disappearing Ink reprints this now canonical piece together with subsequent essays some widely read some harder to locate and one on Cartesianism and the Gendered Mind written in 2013 and published here for the first time The essays in Part I develop O'Neill's views on feminist history of philosophy articulating an account of feminist historiography that is inclusive yet at the same time textually nuanced The essays in Part II provide in depth treatment of individual figures and themes These essays discuss the views of early modern women philosophers such as Mary Astell Margaret Cavendish and Mme de Lambert alongside those of Descartes Leibniz Poullain de la Barre and the Scholastics engaging with questions of mind body interaction occasional causation physical influx pan organicism and whether the Cartesian mind is gendered The sole essay in Part III departs from the historical orientation of Parts I and II This essay informed by O'Neill's deep knowledge of art history is an illuminating study of agency in representations of women in feminist erotic art of the 1980s Combined these works trace the complete arc of O'Neill's thought from painstaking studies of individual themes and figures to a sweeping vision of how feminism should inform our approach to the history of early modern thought indeed to the history of philosophy more generally More than anyone else O'Neill explained why women were excluded from the canon and showed how they could be incorporated into it

The Blackwell Guide to Feminist Philosophy Eva Feder Kittay, Linda Martín Alcoff, 2008-04-30 The Blackwell Guide to Feminist Philosophy is a definitive introduction to the field consisting of 15 newly contributed essays that apply philosophical methods and approaches to feminist concerns Offers a key view of the project of centering women's experience Includes topics such as feminism and pragmatism lesbian philosophy feminist epistemology and women in the history of philosophy

Where Are the Women? Sarah Tyson, 2018-10-16 Philosophy has not just excluded women It has also been shaped by the exclusion of women As the field grapples with the reality that sexism is a central problem not just for the demographics of the field but also for how philosophy is practiced many philosophers have begun to rethink the canon Yet attempts to broaden European and Anglophone philosophy to include more women in the discipline's history or to acknowledge alternative traditions will not suffice as long as exclusionary norms remain in place In Where Are the Women Sarah Tyson makes a powerful case for how redressing women's exclusion can make philosophy better She argues that engagements with historical thinkers typically afforded little authority can transform the field outlining strategies based on the work of three influential theorists Genevieve Lloyd Luce Irigaray and Michelle Le Doeuff Following from the possibilities they open up at once literary linguistic psychological and political Tyson reclaims two passionate nineteenth century texts the Declaration of Sentiments from the 1848 Seneca Falls Convention and Sojourner Truth's speech at the 1851 Akron Ohio Women's Convention showing how the demands for equality rights and recognition sought in the early women's movement still pose quandaries for contemporary philosophy feminism and politics Where Are the Women challenges us to confront the reality that women's exclusion from philosophy has been an ongoing project and to become more critical both of how we see existing injustices and of how we address them

Dictionary of Early American Philosophers John R. Shook, 2012-04-05 The Dictionary of Early American Philosophers which contains over 400 entries by nearly 300 authors provides an account of philosophical thought in the United States and Canada between 1600 and 1860 The label of philosopher has been broadly applied in this Dictionary to intellectuals who have made philosophical contributions regardless of academic career or professional title Most figures were not academic philosophers as few such positions existed then but they did work on philosophical issues and explored philosophical questions involved in such fields as pedagogy rhetoric the arts history politics economics sociology psychology medicine anthropology religion metaphysics and the natural sciences Each entry begins with biographical and career information and continues with a discussion of the subject's writings teaching and thought A cross referencing system refers the reader to other entries The concluding bibliography lists significant publications by the subject posthumous editions and collected works and further reading about the subject

Mysticism, Ineffability and Silence in Philosophy of Religion Laura E. Weed, 2023-01-13 The authors in this volume explore a wide variety of the contemporary approaches to mystical and religious experience to elucidate what religious experience is in its own terms and how its practitioners understand it This anthology features contributions that point out that contemporary studies of consciousness sociology hermeneutics neuroscience medicine and other fields are revealing that there is much more to be said for the inner life of a human's consciousness than reductionists and behaviorists will allow This book is one of very few that primarily takes the stance of academic practitioners explaining their own experience rather than that of academics trying to explain the phenomena away as really politics or sociology or delusion or psychological pathology or literary flights of fancy or an aberration of any of the other academic fields Most of the authors in this volume embrace the task of explaining and analyzing religious experience mysticism and the healing power of silence and presence using the resources of all of the academic disciplines as appropriate The essays contained analyze religious and non religious mystical and profoundly personal experiences across several world religions and in areas such as art and music as well as in solving personal crises such as family disruption and patriarchal oppression The authors address the subject matter through analyses of the frequent and destructive failures of language or just noise to capture or express the nuances of the inner life of a person It is this very ineffability of self that renders the spiritual emotional and interior life of individuals beyond cognition and perception of the straightforward sorts embraced by most cognitive disciplines The contributors come from a variety of cross disciplinary fields to bring forth the possibilities for an intuitive and creative rich and growing inner life for a human This text appeals to students researchers and practitioners
