Caribbean Perspectives on Modernity Maria Cristina Fumagalli,2009-11-02 Taking up the challenge of redefining modernity from a Caribbean perspective instead of assuming that the North Atlantic view of modernity is universal Maria Cristina Fumagalli shows how the Caribbean's contributions to the modern world not only provide a more accurate account of the past but also have the potential to change the way in which we imagine the future Fumagalli uses the myth of Medusa's gaze turning people into stone to describe the way North Atlantic modernity freezes its others into a state of perpetual backwardness that produces an ethnocentric narrative based on homogenization vilification and disempowerment that actively ignores what fails to conform to the story it wants to tell about itself In analyzing narratives of modernity that originate in the Caribbean the author explores the region's refusal to succumb to Medusa's spell and highlights its strategies to outstare the Gorgon Reflecting a diversity of texts genres and media the chapters focus on sixteenth century engravings and paintings from the Netherlands and Italy a scientific romance produced at the turn of the twentieth century by the king of the Caribbean island Redonda contemporary collections of poetry from the anglophone Caribbean a historical novel by the Guadeloupean writer Maryse Condé a Latin epic a Homeric hymn ancient Egyptian rites fairy tales romances from England and Jamaica a long narrative poem by the Nobel Prize winner Derek Walcott and paintings by artists from Europe and the Americas spanning the seventeenth century to the present Caribbean Perspectives on Modernity offers an original and creative contribution to what it means to be modern Bylines Sue Macy, 2009 The life story of this daring news reporter globetrotter and advocate for women's rights is presented chronologically from birth to death Nellie McClung Margaret Macpherson, 2003-01-01 Writer activist and politician Nellie McLung 1873 1951 was a strong and effective voice for the women's movement She was one of the Famous Five suffragists from Alberta whose court challenge in the Persons Case led to women in Canada being declared to be legal persons in 1929 Margaret Macpherson holds a Masters Degree in Creative Writing from the University of British Columbia and has worked as a teacher and journalist in Halifax Bermuda and Vancouver She currently lives in Edmonton with her husband and four children Nellie's Quest Donna Hues, 2021-03-03 Solving this case might resurrect her past or she just may end up dead Another unidentified body waits for Nellie Cox's detective skills in the small town of Goble Oregon Investigations in 1910 to locate the dead man's family could take months so Police Chief Homer Kinnard prefers to assign a case number and bury the corpse rather than search for the deceased's relatives Nellie thinks otherwise Physical evidence leads Nellie to suspect a connection between the dead man and herself Praying that his identity will be revealed at the Chicago orphanage of her childhood she boards a train from Portland gripped by fear at what might lie ahead Facing the Halsted Orphanage her childhood memories resurface and her fear escalates She prays Matron Crandall Mad Cow as the children called her will not be waiting on the other side of the door Nellie's former unwillingness to forgive her childhood taskmaster gives way to a power that takes her by surprise She realizes this same power of forgiveness must be applied toward the mother she's never known Nellie's hunt for the dead man's identity now couples with a personal quest to find her mother Leads to the dead man's identity discloses that he was a runner for the Black Hand extortion gang and had stolen five thousand dollars from the organization Convinced Nellie has learned the whereabouts of the stashed money a professional assassin trails her back to Oregon Implementing scripture to help her conquer the gnawing fear that she will not find her mother before she is killed hope and trust are rekindled In an entirely unexpected development Nellie finds her relationship with Kinnard blossoming as they work together to expose the hired killer The quest remains to find the stolen money the dead man s identity her mother if she s alive and do it all before the Black Hand assassin takes her life Nellie's Victory Connie Brummel Crook,1999 Nellie s Victory is published by Fitzhenry and Whiteside Confining Spaces, Resistant Subjectivities Kinana Hamam,2014-08-11 This book represents a significant contribution to academic knowledge making a compelling case for a contemporary analytical re reading of a number of core postcolonial women s narratives such as Erna Brodber s Jane and Louisa Will Soon Come Home Buchi Emecheta s The Joys of Motherhood and Mariama B s So Long a Letter These narratives highlight diversity contextuality opposition and metachrony have a generative literary function and anticipate what have now become postcolonial feminist issues and debates Bringing together feminist writing from a range of postcolonial contexts the book contributes to a field represented by the critical writings of Francoise Lionnet Ketu Katrak and Elleke Boehmer among others The deconstructive cultural approach of the book is mobilised to support an in depth literary analysis which focuses on female oppression difference voice and agency Questions of what it means to be a woman and to be postcolonial are read as central debates which emphasise multi vocal and multi focal female narratives and perspectives That is they highlight the temporal as well as cross cultural links and implications of the selected narratives which give the project a kind of positive complexity and linkage Above all the analysis of several unconventional modes and physical imaginative spaces of female resistance such as prison widow confinement and madness yields some surprising results that are sustained by a close reading of the texts which are not only attentive to questions of genre structure imagery and narrative endings but also oppositional instructive and reconstructive
