Policy Andrew D. Walsh, 2000-06-30 As Americans seem bent on dismantling the safety net of the New Deal era the most popular version of the culture wars thesis paints an arguably cosmic battle between defenders of religious orthodoxy who embrace laissez faire capitalism and secular elites who have imposed a Marxist welfare state upon an unsuspecting populace Walsh shows that this thesis ignores the role of religious leaders in legitimizing the types of programs embodied in America's approach to the welfare state Walsh explores the arguments of William Jennings Bryan America's foremost fundamentalist who opposed the Social Darwinism often associated with the defense of laissez faire capitalism John Ryan the Catholic priest whose writings foreshadowed Roosevelt's New Deal legislation Reinhold Niebuhr the influential mainstream Protestant leader who defended America's Cold War strategy of containment while opposing laissez faire capitalism and the arguments of influential African American Protestant and Jewish leaders Finally he looks at the role of religious leaders in the contemporary debates over issues such as health care and welfare reform Whenever possible the relationship between the official views of the religious leaders is analyzed in light of the opinions and voting patterns of their constituents The opinions and voting patterns of secular Americans are also contrasted to those of religious Americans Of particular interest to scholars students and general readers concerned with the role of religion in American politics Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), First multi year cumulation covers six years 1965-70 National Library of Medicine Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), Lutheran and Catholic Reconciliation on Justification John A. Radano, 2009-07-28 After centuries of estrangement between Lutherans and Catholics new ecclesial relationships began at Vatican II and continued to develop during the following decades In this broader context Lutheran and Catholic Reconciliation on Justification traces the evolution of the 1999 Joint Declaration on the Doctrine of Justification While describing the steps that led to the Declaration and showing the Lutheran initiatives indispensable for making those steps John Radano pays particular attention to the Holy See's contributions What They Wished For Lawrence J. McAndrews, 2014-05-15 Roman Catholics constitute the most populous religious denomination in the United States comprising one in four Americans With the election of John F Kennedy as president in 1960 they attained a political prominence to match their rapidly ascending socioeconomic and cultural profile From Vietnam to Iraq the civil rights movement to federal funding for faith based initiatives and from birth control to abortion Catholics have won at least as often as they have lost What They Wished For by Lawrence J McAndrews traces the role of American Catholics in presidential policies and politics from 1960 until 2004 Though divided by race class gender and party Catholics have influenced issues of war and peace social justice and life and death among modern presidents in a profound way starting with the election of President Kennedy and expanding their influence through the intervening years with subsequent presidents McAndrews shows that American Catholics led by their bishops and in some cases their pope have been remarkably successful in shaping the political dialogue and at helping to effect policy outcomes inside and outside of Washington Indeed although they opened this era by helping to elect one of their own

Catholic voters have gained so much influence and have become so secure in their socioeconomic status and so confident in their political standing that they closed the era by rejecting one of their own voting for George W Bush over John Kerry in 2004

Contesting Indonesia Kirsten E. Schulze,2024-10-15 Contesting Indonesia explains Islamist separatist and communal violence across Indonesian history since 1945 In a sweeping argument that connects endemic violence to a national narrative Kirsten E Schulze finds that the outbreak of violence is related to competing local notions of the national imaginary as well as contentious belonging Through detailed examination of six case studies the Darul Islam rebellions Jemaah Islamiyah s jihad and the conflicts in East Timor Aceh Poso and Ambon Schulze argues that violence was more likely to occur in places that are on the geographic ideological ethnic and religious periphery of the Indonesian state that violence by non state actors was most protracted in locations where there was a well established alternative national imaginary supported by an alternative historical narrative and that violence by the state was most likely in places where the state had a significant territorial interest Drawing on a vast collection of interviews and archival and published sources Contesting Indonesia provides a new understanding of the history of violence across the Indonesian archipelago
