Popular Political Culture Civic Society And State Crisis In Liberia:

Popular Political Culture, Civil Society, and State Crisis in Liberia John Charles Yoder, 2003 This work focuses on deeply embedded political values that are shared by the vast majority of Liberia's population. Its conclusions are that Liberian politics failed because of civil society's illiberal overemphasis on stability and order at the expense of tolerance and accountability.

Civil War and State Formation Felix Gerdes, 2013-05 Liberia was the scene of two devastating civil wars since late 1989 and became widely considered a failed state. By contrast, the country is frequently described as a success story since the international professional Ellen Johnson Sirleaf assumed the presidency following democratic elections in 2005. The book investigates the political economy of civil war and democratic peace and puts the developments into historical perspective. The author argues that the civil wars did not represent the breakdown of the state but exhibited dynamics characteristic of state formation. His analysis of continuity and change in Liberia's political evolution details both political progress and persistent structural deficits of the polity. Book jacket

Civil War and Democracy in West Africa David Harris, 2011-12-13 In the aftermath of explosive civil wars in Africa during the 1990s and 2000s, the establishment of multi-party elections has often been heralded by the West as signaling the culmination of the conflict and the beginning of a period of democratic rule. However, the outcomes of these elections are very rarely uniform, with just as many countries returning to conflict as not. Here, David Harris uses the examples of Sierra Leone and Liberia to examine the nexus of international and domestic politics in these post-conflict elections. In doing so, he comes to the conclusion that it is political rather than legal solutions that are more likely to enhance any positive political change that has emerged from the violence. This book is thus of significance to Western and African policy makers and also to students and scholars who wish to engage with the critical issues of conflict resolution and reconciliation both in Sierra Leone and Liberia in particular and in the wider region in general.

Mennonites and Post-Colonial African Studies John M. Janzen, Harold F. Miller, John C. Yoder, 2021-02-28 This book examines the evolution of post-colonial African Studies through the eyes of Africanists from the Anabaptist Mennonite and Church of the Brethren community. The book chronicles the lives of twenty-two academics and practitioners whose work spans from the immediate post-colonial period in the 1960s to the present day, a period in which decolonization and development have dominated scholarly and practitioner debate. Reflecting the values and perspectives they shared with the Mennonite Central Committee and other church-sponsored organizations, the authors consider their own personal journeys and professional careers, the power of the prevailing scholarly paradigms they encountered, and the realities of post-colonial Africa. Coming initially from Anabaptist service programs, the authors ultimately made wider contributions to comparative religion, church leadership, literature, music, political science, history, anthropology, economics, and banking, health, and healing, public health, extension, education, and community development. The personal histories and reflections of the authors provide an important glimpse into the intellectual and cultural perspectives that shaped the work of Africanist scholars and practitioners in the post colonial period The book reminds us that the work of every Africanist is shaped by their own life stories

The First Liberian Civil War George Klay Kieh, 2008 This book challenges the dominant view that the first Liberian civil war was caused by ethno cultural antagonisms between and among the country's various ethnic groups Alternatively the book argues that the war was the consequence of the multifaceted crises of underdevelopment cultural economic political and social generated by the neo colonial Liberian State

Extralegal Groups in Post-Conflict Liberia Christine Cheng, 2018-05-11 In the aftermath of the Liberian civil war groups of ex combatants seized control of natural resource enclaves in the rubber diamond and timber sectors With some of them threatening a return to war these groups were widely viewed as the most significant threats to Liberia's hard won peace Building on fieldwork and socio historical analysis this book shows how extralegal groups are driven to provide basic governance goods in their bid to create a stable commercial environment This is a story about how their livelihood strategies merged with the opportunities of Liberia's post war political economy But it is also a context specific story that is rooted in the country's geography its history of state making and its social and political practices This volume demonstrates that extralegal groups do not emerge in a vacuum In areas of limited statehood where the state is weak and political authority is contested where rule of law is corrupted and government distrust runs deep extralegal groups can provide order and dispute resolution forming the basic kernel of the state This logic counters the prevailing spoiler narrative forcing us to reimagine non state actors and recast their roles as incidental statebuilders in the evolutionary process of state making This leads to a broader argument it is trade rather than war that drives contemporary statebuilding Along the way this book poses some uncomfortable questions about what it means to be legitimately governed whether our trust in states is ultimately misplaced whether entrenched corruption is the most likely post conflict outcome and whether our expectations of international peacebuilding and statebuilding are ultimately self defeating

The International Journal of African Historical Studies, 1972

Peacebuilding and Ex-Combatants Johanna Söderström, 2014-12-17 The book examines how ex combatants in post war and peacebuilding settings engage in politics as seen in the case of Liberia The political mobilization of former combatants after war is often perceived as a threat ultimately undermining the security and stability of the state This book questions this simplified view and argues that understanding the political voice of former combatants is imperative Their post war role is not black and white they are not just bad or good citizens but rather engage in multiple political roles spoilers victims disengaged beneficiaries as well as motivated and active citizens By looking at the political attitudes and values of former combatants and their understanding of how politics functions the book sheds new light on the political reintegration of ex combatants It argues that political reintegration needs to be given serious attention at the micro level but also needs to be scrutinized in two ways first through the level of political involvement which reflects the extent and width of the ex combatants voice Second in order to make sense of political reintegration we also need to uncover what values and norms inform their political involvement The content of their political voice is captured through a comparison with democratic ideals Based on interviews with over 100 Liberian ex combatants the book highlights that their relationship with politics overall should be characterized as an expression of a politics of affection This book will be of much interest to students of peacebuilding African politics democratization political sociology conflict resolution and IR Security Studies in general Power and Politics in the Book of Judges John C. Yoder,2015 John C Yoder examines political culture and behavior in the book of Judges Although the Deuteronomistic editor portrayed the judges as moral champions the men and women of valor were preoccupied with the problem of gaining and maintaining political power They were ambitious at times ruthless they might be labeled chiefs strongmen or even warlords in today s world They used violence patronage and the control of the labor and reproductive capacity of subordinates as well as other strategies that did not require the constant exercise of force such as using their association with YHWH to advance their political economic or military agenda Corruption in the Aftermath of War Jonas Lindberg,Camilla Orjuela,2017-10-02 Corruption is a serious concern one which can undermine state legitimacy exacerbate inequality and affect trust between social groups Such effects are particularly problematic in societies that have gone through violent conflict and are struggling to rebuild institutions restore social trust and recover economically While anti corruption measures are increasingly integrated into post conflict programs war time structures and practices of corruption often prevail This book explores corruption in post war societies by focusing on the important issues of power inequality and trust To understand post war power structures and the extent to which they engrain challenge or transform corrupt practices we need to study what kind of peace has emerged The empirical cases in this book offer a variety of post conflict situations demonstrating how corruption is played out in depending on the type and extent of international intervention and in the case of a victor s peace a contested peace a partial peace etc The chapters illustrate the experiences and perceptions of people on the ground in post conflict societies and by giving much space to local dynamics the book shifts the focus from external intervention and actors to local contexts striving for greater understanding of the interplay between corruption power inequality and trust in post war societies This book was originally published as a special issue of Third World Quarterly African Democracy and Development Cassandra Rachel Veney,Dick Simpson,2013 Various African nations have undergone conflict situations since they gained their independence This book focuses on particular countries that have faced conflict civil wars and genocide and are now in the process of rebuilding their political economic social and educational institutions The countries that are addressed in the book include Rwanda Mozambique Sierra Leone Liberia and the Democratic Republic of the Congo In addition there is a chapter that addresses the role of the African Diaspora in conflict and post conflict countries that include Eritrea Liberia and Somalia The book includes an examination of the various actors who are involved in post conflict rebuilding and reconstruction that involves internal and external participants For example it is clear that the internal actors involve Africans themselves as ordinary citizens members of local and national governments and members of non governmental organizations This allows the reader to understand the agency and empowerment of Africans in post conflict reconstruction Various institutions are addressed within the context of the roles they play in establishing governance organizations such as the Truth and Reconciliation Commission in Sierra Leone the African Union chiefs in Liberia and non governmental organizations Furthermore the external actors who are involved in post conflict reconstruction are examined such as international non governmental organizations and the African Diaspora They both have their own constituents and agendas and can and do play a positive and negative role in post conflict reconstruction It is obvious that countries that are addressed in the book are in dire need of financial assistance to rebuild much needed infrastructure that was destroyed during the conflict All of the countries covered in the book need schools medical facilities roads bridges airports ports and the government does not have the money to provide these This is where the international non governmental organizations and the African Diaspora play an important role The chapters that address these issues are cognizant of their importance and at the same time the authors realize that sovereignty can be undermined if Africans are not in the forefront of policy and decision making that will determine their future There are chapters that provide a gendered analysis of post conflict when it is appropriate For example it is clear that women men boys and girls experienced conflict in different ways because of their gender They all participated in the conflict in various ways Consequently the efforts at peace building are given a gendered analysis in terms of what has happened to women and girls in the demobilization and rehabilitation period including an excellent analysis of land reform in Rwanda and how that affects women and members of a certain ethnic group that are often overlooked in the examination of the 1994 genocide This book provides a very good contribution to the literature on conflict and post conflict African countries because of its depth and the vast topics it embraces It provides an analysis of the internal and external actors the role of gender in post conflict decision making and it provides the voices of ordinary Africans who were affected by the conflict and who are determined to live productive lives

The Greenwood Encyclopedia of Children's Issues Worldwide Irving Epstein, 2007-12-30 From the skyrocketing AIDS rate in Haiti to the oppressive pollution in industrial China from the violent street culture of Nigeria to the crippling poverty in Nicaragua from child trafficking in Thailand to child marriages in India this jam packed six volume set explores all these issues and more in an unprecedented look at the world's children at the dawn of the 21st century In recent years while many countries have enjoyed a higher standard of living and improved working conditions others have been torn apart by war and incapacitated by famine and are struggling to improve life for their children and their future Recent concern over the world's children has resulted in a global attempt to define what constitutes an acceptable childhood New attention has been paid not only to healthcare and secondary education but also to the right to play and increased access to technology The UN's codification of children's rights has done much to expand our understanding of what is needed for healthy growth and development of children and youth Organized by region The Greenwood Encyclopedia of Children's Issues Worldwide is the first globally focused set of this magnitude offering extensive up to date coverage of these critical issues Original chapters accessibly synthesize current data on key topics including education play and recreation child labor family health laws and legal status religious life abuse and neglect and growing up in the 21st century

Knowledge Production in and on Africa Hana Horáková, Katerina Werkman, 2016 The book presents a broad and multi dimensional perspective on the topic of knowledge production in and of Africa and seeks changing its post imperial pattern This endeavour reflects the concern that in our globalised world Africa is misrepresented twice by the ways knowledge about it is selected by gatekeepers of knowledge and by deliberate suppression of knowledge on Africa The contributions to this volume address diverse aspects of knowledge production they examine the existing knowledge producing frontiers in Africa they challenge methodological and theoretical universalisms in social science scholarship on the African continent they look into the interface between the indigenous and modern knowledge systems and the role of African epistemologies and intellectuals in the production of knowledge

Liberia Brian Baughan, 2014-09-02 The early history of Liberia was promising Under the auspices of white Americans freed slaves had been offered a new home in the West African region during the early 19th century In 1847 the settlers founded the continent's first independent republic a full century before the rest of Africa began to shake off colonial rule Although the new republic modeled itself on the United States and even named its cities after U S leaders it has nevertheless endured sluggish development class division and a brutal civil war during the 1990s that resulted in 200 000 deaths In their struggle for stability the Liberian people have forged peace agreements between the warring political parties and established a new freely elected government in 2006 becoming the first African country to elect a woman as president

Security, Reconstruction, and Reconciliation Muna Ndulo, 2007-01-24 This key text brings together a team of leading contributors to address the complex issues of security reconciliation and reconstruction in post conflict societies Security Reconstruction and Reconciliation is organized into four main sections the social political and economic dimensions of conflict the impact of conflict on women and children reconstruction and past human rights violations disarmament demobilization reintegration post war reconstruction and the building of a capable state and the role of the international community in the peace process The chapters offer a detailed and succinct exposition of the challenges facing post conflict societies by articulating the vision of a new society With a foreword by Francis Deng the UN Secretary General's Special Representative on Internally Displaced Persons the authors discuss the issues in the context of possible solutions and lessons learnt in the field This new book is a valuable resource for researchers policy makers and students in the fields of conflict resolution security studies law and development

Sierra Leone David Harris, 2014-06-01 Sierra Leone came to world attention in the 1990s when a catastrophic civil war linked to the diamond trade was reported globally This fleeting and particular interest however obscured two crucial processes in this small West African state On the one hand while the civil war was momentous brutal and affected all Sierra Leoneans it was also just one element in the long and faltering attempt to build a nation and state given the country's immensely problematic pre colonial and British colonial legacies. On the other the aftermath of the war precipitated a huge international effort to construct a liberal peace with mixed results and thus made Sierra Leone a laboratory for post Cold War interventions. Sierra Leone examines 225 years of its history and fifty years of independence placing state society relations at the centre of an original and revealing investigation of those who have tried to rule or change Sierra Leone and its inhabitants and the responses engendered. It interweaves the historical narrative with sketches of politicians, anecdotes, the landscape and environment and key turning points alongside theoretical and other comparisons with the rest of Africa. It is a new contribution to the debate for those who already know Sierra Leone and a solid point of entry for those who wish to know.

Cultural Sociology of the Middle East, Asia, and Africa Andrea L. Stanton, 2012. In our age of globalization and multiculturalism it has never been more important to understand and appreciate all cultures across the world. The four volumes take a step forward in this endeavour by presenting concise information on those regions least well known to students across Europe: the Middle East, Asia and Africa. The volumes convey what daily life is like for people in these selected regions. Entries will aid readers in understanding the importance of cultural sociology to appreciate the effects of cultural forces around the world and to learn the history of countries and cultures within these important regions. Key Features: Topics are explored within historical context in three broad historical periods: prehistory to 1250, 1250 to 1920 and 1920 to the present. One volume each is devoted to the regions of the Middle East and Africa and then one volume to East and Southeast Asia and a final volume to West Central and South Asia. The volumes include extensive use of photographs and maps to explain cultural and geographic content. Each volume has its own volume editor with expertise in that particular region. Key Themes: Arts, Culture and Science, People, Society and Dynasties, Religion and Law, Family and Daily Life, Conflicts and Wars, Politics and Government, Health and Education, Economy, Trade and Industry, National Geography and History.

Africa Toyin Falola, Daniel Jean-Jacques, 2015-12-14. These volumes offer a one stop resource for researching the lives, customs and cultures of Africa's nations and peoples. Unparalleled in its coverage of contemporary customs in all of Africa, this multivolume set is perfect for both high school and public library shelves. The three volume encyclopedia will provide readers with an overview of contemporary customs and life in North Africa and sub-Saharan Africa through discussions of key concepts and topics that touch everyday life among the nations' peoples. While this encyclopedia places emphasis on the customs and cultural practices of each state, history, politics and economics are also addressed. Because entries average 14 000 to 15 000 words each, contributors are able to expound more extensively on each country than in similar encyclopedic works with shorter entries. As a result, readers will gain a more complete understanding of what life is like in Africa's 54 nations and territories and will be better able to draw cross cultural comparisons based on their reading.
