Population Resources And Development Riding The Age Waves Volume 1 Paperback:

Population, Resources and Development Shripad Tuljapurkar, Ian Pool, Vipan Prachuabmoh, 2005-07-22 In the 21st century the populations of the world's nations will display large and long lived changes in age structure. Many of these began with fertility change and are amplified by declining mortality and by migration within and between nations. Demography will matter in this century not by force of numbers but by the pressures of waves of age structural change. Many developing countries are in relatively early stages of fertility decline and will experience age waves for two or more generations. These waves create shifting flows of people into the key age groups greatly complicating the task of managing development from building human capabilities and creating jobs to growing industry infrastructure and institutions. In this book distinguished scientists examine key demographic, social, economic and policy aspects of age structural change in developing economies. This book provides a joint examination of dimensions of age structural change that have often been considered in isolation from each other for example education, job creation, land use, health. It uses case studies to examine policy consequences and options and develops qualitative and formal methods to analyze the dynamics and consequences of age structural change.

The Children of Eve Louis P. Cain,Donald G. Paterson,2012-04-03 The Children of Eve is the first book to bring together general material about population and well being in a single volume It presents a world history of demographic and economic change that ranges broadly over time and space and which emphasizes the commonality of human experience The first book to put together material about population and well being in a single volume Emphasizes the formative population history of Europe and North America over the years since the Middle Ages and includes discussions of Asia and the southern hemisphere The authors successfully maintain the difficult balance of addressing complex issues in a style that doesn't oversimplify the subject whilst upholding an approach that is accessible to general readers and students Designed to work as both a stand alone text or a supplement to textbooks in any number of courses

Functional Urban Areas in Poland Sławomir Kurek,Mirosław Wójtowicz,Jadwiga Gałka,2019-09-20 This book explores demographic changes in Functional Urban Areas FUAs in Poland since 1990 Functional Urban Areas introduced by ESPON refer to functional territorial units that can be defined as travel to work area representing strong integration between urban cores and their immediate hinterland The functional urban area consists of a city plus its commuting zone It fills a significant gap in the academic literature by providing a deep and thorough analysis of the process of population change in Polish FUAs over the past 30 years In particular this empirical research work addresses population growth and decline the main components of population growth including fertility mortality and migration age composition and the pace of population ageing The book argues that the transformations of urban structures are triggered by second demographic transition SDT and suburbanization processes Based on data from the Central Statistical Office this comparative study on FUAs in Poland which employs a division into core and commuting zones reveals essential similarities and differences in population development making it possible to construct a demographic typology of FUAs and investigate their spatial arrangements A unique and innovative book it will appeal to geographers demographers urbanists city planners and policymakers as well as students academic researchers and others involved in urban studies

CEMAF as a Census Method David A. Swanson,Paula J. Walashek,2011-03-28 In provocative terms that push the envelope of technical administrative and legal capabilities Swanson and Walashek propose a re vamped US census based neither on the current system self enumeration nor its predecessor door to door canvassing Instead they propose that it be built on a combination of four elements 1 administrative records 2 the continuously updated Master Address File 3 survey data and 4 modeling and imputation techniques They use Census Enhanced Master Address File CEMAF as a descriptive term for their proposal which is based on four principles and includes a proposal for an independent Census Bureau They argue that evidence suggests that the methods used to conduct traditional census counts may be at the end of their useful working lives as evidenced by increasing costs and declining response rates Some of their ideas will seem farfetched However Swanson and Walashek believe this is the time to discuss radical proposals as governments re examine the utility of traditional census counts and consider reductions as is the case in Canada and England This SpringerBriefs should be on the reading list of staff in statistical agencies grappling with rising costs and declining response rates as well as census stakeholders concerned about costs accuracy and census utility

Aging, Economic Growth, and Old-age Security in Asia Donghyun Park,Sang-Hyop Lee,Andrew Mason,2012-01-01 Population aging is perhaps the single biggest economic and social obstacle confronting Asia s future The region wide demographic transition towards an older population is fundamentally reshaping the demographic landscape and is giving rise to two key socio economic challenges This timely book provides an in depth analysis of these challenges and presents concrete policy options for tackling them First the expert contributors argue Asia must find ways to sustain rapid economic growth in the face of less favorable demographics which implies slower growth of the workforce Second they contend Asia must find ways to deliver affordable adequate and sustainable old age economic security for its growing elderly population Underpinned by rigorous analysis a wide range of concrete policy options for sustaining economic growth while delivering economic security for the elderly are then presented These include Asia wide policy options relevant to the entire region such as building up strong national pension systems whilst other policy options are more relevant to sub groups of countries This stimulating and informative book will be of great interest to academics students and researchers with an interest in Asian studies economics generally and more specifically public sector economics

Allocating Public and Private Resources across Generations Anne H. Gauthier,C.Y. Cyrus Chu,Shripad Tuljapurkar,2007-08-24 This book explores how demographic changes affect inter generational transfers of time money goods and services all things that play a role in the well being of individuals and families It details the nature and measurement of transfers their motives and mechanisms and their macro level dimensions especially in the context of demographic transitions Coverage includes original empirical analyses of datasets from some twenty countries and extends the traditional analysis of inter generational transfers by examining different types of transfers
