Sex and the Sexual during People's Leisure and Tourism

Experiences Neil Carr, Yaniv Poria, 2010-05-11 Sex and the sexual have for far too long been consigned to the dark corners by social scientists in general and tourism and leisure scholars in particular Sex and the Sexual During People's Leisure and Tourism Experiences seeks to begin to rectify this situation by bringing the position and nature of sex and the sexual into the light of academic debate As such this book is designed to highlight cross disciplinary emerging work on sex and the sexual in leisure and tourism and provide the readers with insights into this social realm It encompasses a broad array of sex related issues and tourism and leisure environments from across a variety of countries The book should appeal to researchers and students across the humanities and social sciences both for the value of the research in its own right and the ability of it to be used as a lens through which to view the position of sex and the sexual as well as tourism and leisure in today's world Overall it is argued that sex and the sexual should play a part in the academic discourse especially if we wish to describe what is actually happening out there as far as tourism and leisure are concerned

Researching the contemporary city Peter Kellett, Jaime Hernández García, 2013-11-12 The city is perhaps the most complex of all human constructs In the 21st century when cities are bigger than ever and the majority of the world's population now live in urban areas the need for research into this complexity to address the large scale challenges of urban life has never been greater This collection of research studies from different parts of the world brings together case studies underpinned by theory to contribute to the urgent search to make our cities more just more livable more accessible more participatory and more democratic in short more humane places to live and work These crosscutting themes of social inclusion spatial integration and poverty alleviation are the ever present motifs and motivations throughout this volume The eleven chapters are grouped into four interrelated sections the creation and representation of the urban the production and transformation of the informal the construction and appropriation of public spaces and finally the transformation use and meaning of home Collectively the essays engage with the city at a range of scales but underpinning all of them is a concern for the everyday realities of ordinary people s lives These detailed and finegrain analyses of complex processes are a modest contribution towards the creation of cities which are not simply more economically viable and environmentally sustainable but also embody the ideals of social justice
