Portia Coughlan Marina Carr, 2003 THE STORY Beautiful and blessed with a wealthy adoring husband and three young sons Portia Coughlan would seem to have it all but grief over the drowning of her twin brother Gabriel fifteen years ago in the Belmont River continues to torment her and The Theatre of Marina Carr Cathy Leeney, Anna McMullan, 2003 This is the first collection of articles to be published on the theatre of Marina Carr a major contemporary Irish playwright whose work is highly acclaimed in Ireland and internationally for its poetic energy and its remarkable theatrical imagination These essays examine Carr's highly original voice and place her plays in the context of current theatre in Ireland and abroad They raise lively debate on contemporary representation of Irishness on the stage on the current state of Irish theatre on the impact of female authorship on the canon of Irish theatre and on Carr's portrayal of characters who are fundamentally at odds with the world around them BOOK JACKET No Country for Old Men Paddy Lyons, 2008 The concepts of Ireland and Irishness are in constant flux in the wake of an ever increasing reappraisal of the notion of cultural and national specificity in a world assailed from all angles by the forces of globalisation and uniformity Reimagining Ireland interrogates Ireland's past and present and suggests possibilities for the future by looking at Ireland's literature culture and history and subjecting them to the most up to date critical appraisals associated with sociology literary theory historiography political science and theology Marina Carr Melissa Sihra, 2018-11-19 This book locates the theatre of Marina Carr within a female genealogy that revises the patriarchal origins of modern Irish drama The creative vision of Lady Augusta Gregory underpins the analysis of Carr's dramatic vision throughout the volume in order to re-situate the woman artist as central to Irish theatre For Carr writing is more about the things you cannot understand than the things you can and her evocation of pastures of the unknown forms the thematic through line of this work Lady Gregory's plays offer an intuitive lineage with Carr which can be identified in their use of language myth landscape women the transformative power of storytelling and infinite energies of nature and the Otherworld This book reconnects the severed bridge between Carr and Gregory in order to acknowledge a foundational status for all women in Irish theatre The Cambridge Guide to Women's Writing in English Lorna Sage, 1999-09-30 This Guide aims to consolidate and epitomise the re-reading of women's writing that has gone on in the last twenty five years This is an opportunity for stock taking a timely project when so much writing has been rediscovered reclaimed and republished There are entries on writers on individual texts and on general terms genres and movements all printed in a single alphabetical sequence The earliest written documents in medieval English the visionary writings of Julian of Norwich and Margery Kempe are covered in an historical and geographical sweep that takes us up to the present day The book reflects the spread of literacy the history of colonisation and the development of post colonial cultures using and changing the English language The entries are written by contributors from all the countries covered The result is a work of reference with a unique feeling for the vitality wealth and diversity of women's writing Ireland on Stage Hiroko

Mikami,Minako Okamuro,Naoko Yagi,2007 Essays on Irish theatre in the second half of the twentieth century Bloody Living Rhona Trench,2010 This book deals with the process of negotiation with the past in the present through the plays of Marina Carr The title frames the work connoting the path towards destruction and the sense of lethargy acquired along the way The book offers an in depth and extensive reading of Carr s plays In doing so it surveys some of the destructive issues represented in the works and provides a series of social and cultural contexts to which the concerns in the works are related Carr is best known for her trilogy The Mai Portia Coughlan and By the Bog of Cats and more recently Woman and Scarecrow The Cordelia Dream and Marble The plays are regularly concerned with notions of identity in the context of self destruction self estrangement and displacement This book applies Julia Kristeva s theory of abjection to Carr s plays in an effort to structure the loss the author identifies in the works Themes of memory history and myth are examined in the context of these concerns in provocative and confrontational ways

Sub-versions Ciaran Ross,2010 From Swift s repulsive shit flinging Yahoos to Beckett s dying but never quite dead moribunds Irish literature has long been perceived as being synonymous with subversion and all forms of subversiveness But what constitutes a subversive text or a subversive writer in twenty first century Ireland The essays in this volume set out to redefine and rethink the subversive potential of modern Irish literature Crossing three central genres one common denominator running through these essays whether dealing with canonical writers like Yeats Beckett and Flann O Brien or lesser known contemporary writers like Sebastian Barry or Robert McLiam Wilson is the continual questioning of Irish identity Irishness going from its colonial paradigm and stereotype of the subaltern in MacGill to its uneasy implications for gender representation in the contemporary novel and the contemporary drama A subsidiary theme inextricably linked to the identity problematic is that of exile and its radical heritage for all Irish writing irrespective of its different genres Sub Versions offers a cross cultural and trans national response to the expanding interest in Irish and postcolonial studies by bringing together specialists from different national cultures and scholarly contexts Ireland Britain France and Central Europe The order of the essays is by genre This study is aimed both at the general literary reader and anyone particularly interested in Irish Studies

Marina Carr and Greek Tragedy Salomé Paul,2024-03-26 Marina Carr and Greek Tragedy examines the feminist transposition of Greek tragedy in the theatre of the contemporary Irish dramatist Marina Carr Through a comparison of the plays based on classical drama with their ancient models it investigates Carr s transformation not only of the narrative but also of the form of Greek tragedy As a religious and political institution of the 5th century Athenian democracy tragedy endorsed the sexist oppression of women Indeed the construction of female characters in Greek tragedy was entirely disconnected from the experience of womanhood lived by real women in order to embody the patriarchal values of Athenian democracy Whether praised for their passivity or demonized for showing unnatural agency and subjectivity women in Greek tragedy were conceived to re assert the supremacy of men Carr s theatre stands in stark opposition to such a purpose Focusing on women s struggle to achieve agency and subjectivity in a male dominated world her plays show the diversity of experiencing womanhood and sexist oppression in the Republic of Ireland and the Western societies more generally Yet Carr's enduring conversation with the classics in her theatre demonstrates the feminist willingness to alter the founding myths of Western civilisation to advocate for gender equality

Playing for time Geraldine Cousin, 2013-07-19 Playing for time explores connections between theatre time the historical moment and fictional time Geraldine Cousin persuasively argues that a crucial characteristic of contemporary British theatre is its preoccupation with instability and danger and traces images of catastrophe and loss in a wide range of recent plays and productions The diversity of the texts that are examined is a major strength of the book In addition to plays by contemporary dramatists Cousin analyses staged adaptations of novels and productions of plays by Euripides Strindberg and Priestley A key focus is Stephen Daldry's award winning revival of Priestley's An Inspector Calls which is discussed in relation both to other Priestley time plays and to Caryl Churchill's apocalyptic Far Away Lost children are a recurring motif Bryony Lavery's Frozen for example is explored in the context of the Soham murders which took place while the play was in production at the National Theatre whilst three virtually simultaneous productions of Euripides Hecuba are interpreted with regard to the Beslan massacre of schoolchildren

The Art of Experience Dagmara Gizło, 2020-12-30 The Art of Experience provides an interdisciplinary analysis of selected plays from Ireland's premier female playwright Marina Carr Dagmara Gizło explores the transformative impact of a theatrical experience in which interdisciplinary boundaries must be crossed This book demonstrates that theatre is therapeutic and therapy is theatrical The role of emotions cognitions and empathy in the theatrical experience is investigated throughout Dagmara Gizło utilises the methodological tools stemming from modern empirically grounded psychology such as cognitive behavioural therapy or CBT to the study of theatre's transformative potential This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of theatre performance and literature and will be a fascinating read for those at the intersection of cognitive studies and the humanities
