Freedom Riders Raymond Arsenault, 2006-01-15 They were black and white young and old men and women In the spring and summer of 1961 they put their lives on the line riding buses through the American South to challenge segregation in interstate transport Their story is one of the most celebrated episodes of the civil rights movement yet a full length history has never been written until now In these pages acclaimed historian Raymond Arsenault provides a gripping account of six pivotal months that jolted the consciousness of America The Freedom Riders were greeted with hostility fear and violence They were jailed and beaten their buses stoned and firebombed In Alabama police stood idly by as racist thugs battered them When Martin Luther King met the Riders in Montgomery a raging mob besieged them in a church Arsenault recreates these moments with heart stopping immediacy His tightly braided narrative reaches from the White House where the Kennedys were just awakening to the moral power of the civil rights struggle to the cells of Mississippi s infamous Parchman Prison where Riders tormented their jailers with rousing freedom anthems Along the way he offers vivid portraits of dynamic figures such as James Farmer Diane Nash John Lewis and Fred Shuttlesworth recapturing the drama of an improbable almost unbelievable saga of heroic sacrifice and unexpected triumph The Riders were widely criticized as reckless provocateurs or outside agitators But indelible images of their courage broadcast to the world by a newly awakened press galvanized the movement for racial justice across the nation Freedom Riders is a stunning achievement a masterpiece of storytelling that will stand alongside the finest works on the history of civil rights

Motion Picture Biographies John Cones, 2015-04-01

Hollywood movies are famous for promoting negative stereotypes of all kinds especially against minorities women Southerners and Christians To what extent are biographical films selected for production according to certain biases conscious or unconscious among the Hollywood elite An expert on the U S film industry gives readers brief synopses of Hollywood biopics produced and or released from 1912 through 1994 This survey provides the basis for discussion and analysis Tracking these one sided depictions over a longer period of time the patterns of bias and the source of the problem become more clear The problem appears to be that most of the people who have green light authority in the U S film industry for either the production and or distribution of a motion picture share a common ethnic religious cultural background Thus the stories of their own cohort and those of all other ethnic religious and or cultural groups whose members seldom achieve positions of power in Hollywood are being filtered through the cultural sensibilities of a single group John Cones suggests that the solution could lie in increasing diversity at the highest levels in the U S film industry
