Portraits From Memory:

Portraits from Memory Bertrand Russell, 2020-11-29 I have come to think that one of the main causes of trouble in the world is dogmatic and fanatical belief in some doctrine for which there is no adequate evidence Bertrand Russell Portraits from Memory Portraits from Memory is one of Bertrand Russell's most self-reflective and engaging books Whilst not intended as an autobiography it is a vivid recollection of some of his celebrated contemporaries such as George Bernard Shaw Sidney and Beatrice Webb and D H Lawrence Russell provides some arresting and sometimes amusing insights into writers with whom he corresponded He was fascinated by Joseph Conrad with whom he formed a strong emotional bond writing that his Heart of Darkness was not just a story but an expression of Conrad's philosophy of life There are also some typically pithy Russellian observations H G Wells derived his importance from quantity rather than quality whilst after a brief and fraught friendship Russell thought D H Lawrence had no real wish to make the world better but only to indulge in eloquent soliloquy about how bad it was This engaging book also includes some of Russell's customary razor sharp essays on a rich array of subjects from his ardent pacifism liberal politics and morality to the ethics of education the skills of good writing and how he came to philosophy as a young man These include A Plea for Clear Thinking A Philosophy for Our Time and How I Write Portraits from Memory is Russell at his best and will enthrall those new to Russell as well as those already well acquainted with his work This Routledge Classics edition includes a new foreword by the Russell scholar Nicholas Griffin editor of The Selected Letters of Bertrand Russell and displacement can have on the composition and interpretation of Western art music using as its primary objects of study the work of István Anhalt 1919–2012 György Kurtág 1926 and Sándor Veress 1907–92. Although all three composers are of Hungarian origin their careers followed radically different paths. Whereas Kurtág remained in Budapest for most of his career, Anhalt and Veress left the former in 1946 and immigrated to Canada and the latter in 1948 and settled in Switzerland. All three composers have had an extraordinary impact in the cultural environments within which their work took place. In the first section, Place and Displacement, contributors examine what happens when composers and their music migrate in the culturally complex world of the late twentieth century. The past one hundred years produced record numbers of refugees and this fact is now beginning to resonate in the study of music. As Anhalt himself forcefully asserts, however, not all composers who emigrate should be understood as exiles. The first chapters of this book explore some of the problems and questions surrounding this issue. Essays in the second section, Perspectives on Reception Analysis and Interpretation, look at how performing acts of interpretation on music implies bringing the time, place and identity of the musician, the analyst and the teacher to bear on the object of study. Like Kodály, Kurtág considers his work to be naturally embedded in Hungarian culture, but he is also a quintessentially European artist. Much of his production, he is one of the twentieth century's most prolific composers of vocal music, involves the setting of Hungarian texts, but in the late 1970s his cultural horizons expanded to include texts in Russian, German, French, English and ancient Greek. The book explores how musicologists' divergent cultural perspectives impinge on the interpretation of this work. The final section, The Presence of the Past and Memory in Contemporary Music, examines the impact time and memory can have on notions of place and identity in music. All living art taps into the personal and collective past in one way or another. The final four chapters look at various aspects of this relationship.

Pro refrigerio animae: Death and Memory in East-Central Europe Angela Jianu, Gheorghe Lazăr, 2023-08-04 The historiography of death memory and testamentary practices is already abundant in Western Europe and a fairly large number of extra European regions For East Central Europe there are many short studies in various regional languages mainly on anthropological ethnographic aspects of the funeral rituals This is an edited collection of studies by international scholars on the interlocking themes of attitudes and discourses on death commemorative practices and inheritance testamentary strategies in the Balkans and East Central Europe These and other related themes are addressed comparatively and cover areas including Albania Bulgaria Romania Greece and areas of the former Yugoslavia Hungary and Austria from the perspective of imperial Ottoman and Habsburg legacies

Pro refrigerio animae Death and Memory in East Central Europe contributes to this subject by linking anthropological religious cultural approaches to death to the legal economic aspects of inheritance commemoration adding a still absent East Central European and Habsburg Balkan and Ottoman dimension to the study of death memorialization and testaments and presenting an abundant primary and secondary material in English translation and thus placing research on death and testaments by East Central and Greek scholars within the international scholarly circuit
