Portraits In Passion:

Portraits of Passion Kelly Deacon, Steve Twelvtree, 2000-01-01 Shobha Priya Praveen Kumar, 2018-11-12
Collection of English Poems Portraits of Passion Duncan Simpson, 2025-08 Passion's Portrait Suzanne Carey, 1983
I Want You Back Rita King, 2018-05-18 I Want You Back is an epic story of a woman who was seduced out of her husband's loving arms by modernization as materialism and acquisitiveness became her bedfellows. She was raised up in a man's world and unwittingly built walls of independence and self-sufficiency about her. She discovers through different bouts of emotional storms when the scales fall out that she had been wrong all along. It co-opts classic oratories of passion to crystallize the moral of the story. The husband has paid the price and given her the liberty to come to her senses. Will she realize in due season that his love is all that she wants and needs? Will she realize and believe that in spite of all her errors he wants her back? Portraits of Medea in Portugal during the 20th and 21st Centuries Andrés Pociña Pérez, Aurora López, Carlos Ferreira Morais, Maria de Fátima Silva, Patrick Finglass, 2018-11-01 The theme of Medea in Portuguese literature has mainly given rise to the writing of new plays on the subject. The central episode in the Portuguese rewritings in the last two centuries is the one that takes place in Corinth: i.e. the break between Medea and Jason on the one hand and Medea's killing of their children in retaliation on the other. Besides the complex play of feelings that provides this episode with very real human emotions, gender was a key issue in determining the interest that this story elicited in a society in search of social renovation after profound political transformations during the transition between dictatorship and democracy which happened in 1974 that generated instability and established a requirement to find alternative rules of social intercourse in the path towards a new Portugal. *The Works of Thomas Reid, D.D. ... Lessing's dramatic theory being an introduction to & commentary on his hamburgische dramaturgie John George Robertson, Edna Purdie, Perfection's Therapy Mitchell B. Merback, 2018-01-02 Albrecht Dürer's master engraving Melencolia I has stood for centuries as a pictorial summa of knowledge about melancholia and an allegory of the limits of earthbound arts and sciences. Zealously interpreted since the nineteenth century, the work also presides over the origins of modern iconology. Yet more than a century of research has left us with a tangle of mutually contradictory theories. In Perfection's Therapy Mitchell

Merback discovers in Melencolia's opacity a fascinating possibility that Dürer's masterpiece is not only an arresting diagnosis of melancholic distress but an innovative instrument for its undoing. Merback deftly analyses the visual and narrative structure of Dürer's image, revisits its philosophical and medical contexts and resituates it within the long history of the therapeutic artifact. Placing Dürer's project in dialogue with that of humanism's founder Francesco Petrarca, Merback also unearths the German artist's ambition to act as a physician of the soul. Celebrated by contemporaries as the Apelles of our age and ever since as Germany's first Renaissance painter-theorist, the Dürer we encounter here is also the first modern Christian artist addressing himself to the distress of souls, including his own. Melencolia thus emerges as a key reference point in a project of spiritual/ethical therapy, a work designed to exercise the mind, rebalance the passions, remedy the soul and help in getting on with the project of perfection. A Biographical History of the Fine Arts Shearjashub Spooner, 1873

Joseph Fouché: Portrait of a Politician Stefan Zweig, 2019-08-09 This biography of the man Stefan Zweig viewed as the most perfect Machiavelli of modern times was written in 1929, before the full impact of Nazism and Stalinism was understood. In this gripping case study of ruthlessness, political opportunism, intrigue, and betrayal, Zweig portrays Minister of Police Joseph Fouché (1759-1820), a thoroughly amoral personality whose only goal was political survival and the exercise of power. Zweig traces Fouché's career, beginning with his stint as a math and physics teacher in provincial Catholic schools and evolving into a moderate and then radical legislator. Fouché cultivated every political movement of his day, holding no convictions of his own. After preaching clemency for Louis XVI, Fouché voted to send the King to the guillotine. After writing the first communist manifesto of modern times, he became a multi-millionaire. He led the brutal repression of an anti-revolutionary movement, earning him the nickname le mitrailleur (butcher) of Lyon. After serving Robespierre, Fouché engineered his overthrow and rose to Minister of Police under the Directory which he then helped to overthrow before putting his network of informants in Napoleon's service as his Minister of Police After turning against the Emperor Fouch served the new King Louis XVIII whose brother he had helped send to the guillotine Thus Fouch served the Revolution the Directory the First Empire and the Restoration Solitude ... With the life of the author. With a portrait Johann Georg Zimmermann,1827

Bicentenary Essays John Halperin,1975-10-31 This book was first published in 1975 the bicentenary of Jane Austen's birth Though she has long been recognized as one of the major English novelists her reputation was established relatively late and has withstood periods of neglect and controversy The present volume brings together nineteen essays that marked the bicentenary and in doing so reflected the critical attitudes which some of the twentieth century's most influential scholars have entertained towards the novelist These essays range from nineteenth century reactions to the novels and to the novelist herself through twentieth century criticism of the individual novels to considerations of the novelist's reputation abroad This book will be of interest both to scholars and students of eighteenth and nineteenth century fiction and also to the general reader of Jane Austen's novels
