D.H. Lawrence's Italian Travel Literature and Translations of Giovanni Verga Antonio Traficante, 2007 While travel literature particularly the Italian travel literature of D H Lawrence Twilight in Italy 1916 Sea and Sardinia 1921 and Etruscan Places 1927 1932 has received a great deal of attention in recent years nobody has examined this work from a Bakhtinian viewpoint This approach allows us a unique perspective as well as a new appreciation of both Lawrence and Mikhail Bakhtin This is also true with respect to translation studies where the reader will find Lawrence s work on Giovanni Verga presented in a new and suggestive fashion In short this book provides new insights into D H Lawrence s relationship to the Italian Other as well as charts the permutations within himself This book makes a valuable contribution to our understanding of two of the greatest literary figures of the twentieth century D H Lawrence and Mikhail Bakhtin

Insights into D.H. Lawrence's Sardinia Nick Ceramella, Daniele Marzeddu, 2022-11-14 The volume offers a wide horizon on D H Lawrence s search for an ideal primitive society in a pristine natural environment It lends itself to an interesting comparison with today s reality with a particular focus on Sardinia It combines literature and photography in order to analyse Sicilian and Sardinian society The volume investigates aspects which have hardly been considered in depth in previous publications on Lawrence s Sea and Sardinia such as the strongly stressed ecological approach that makes Lawrence an incredible writer of our time the role of Sardinian women as opposed to that of men as seen by Lawrence and the importance of food and traditional costumes as persistent symbols of local identity

D. H. Lawrence's Non-Fiction David Ellis, Howard Mills, 1988-06-09. This is the first book devoted entirely to Lawrence's nonfictional writings. It focuses on a selection of representative texts, each of which is placed in an appropriate literary or historical context. These include the Study of Thomas Hardy, the two books about the Unconscious, the travel writing primarily Twilight in Italy and Sea and Sardinia, the largely autobiographical Introduction to Memoirs of the Foreign Legion by M. M. and the late thoughts in verse called Pansies. David Ellis and Howard Mills challenge the automatic relegation to secondary status suffered by these works in the past and suggest a radical reassessment of Lawrence's literary profile of how his writings relate to one another and of where his greatest power and originality lie.

Under English Eyes Jopi Nyman, 2000. British fictions of the early twentieth century appear obsessed with Europe. Various texts from E. M. Forster and D. H. Lawrence to Bram Stoker and the period's travel writing explore European spaces, constructing the European as an Other threatening the position of the English. What they constantly repeat is England's difference and the secondary role of European spaces whose representation resembles that of colonial lands. By reading selected texts both canonized and popular, published between 1894 and 1916, this study argues that this xenophobic construction is a sign of the pervading presence of concerns related to the maintenance of English national identity. Englishness allegedly threatened by the European Other. By drawing on current postcolonial theory, the case studies in the volume show that the discourse on the Other produced in British writings on Europe contributes more than has been understood to the making and promoting of Englishness. The authors studied include D. H. Lawrence, Katherine Mansfield, Anthony Hope, Arnold Bennett, Mrs. Alec Tweedie, Erskine Childers, and Joseph Conrad. The study will renew our understanding of the role of Europe in the period's cultural imagination, showing that the identities of the English are formed in encounters with different internal and external Others.

Moving Modernisms David Bradshaw, Laura Marcus, Rebecca Roach, 2016-07-08. The essays in Moving Modernisms: Motion, Technology, and Modernity, written by renowned international scholars, open up the many dimensions and arenas of modernist movement and movements: spatial, geographical, and political; affective and physiological; temporal and epochal; technological, locomotive, and metropolitan; aesthetic and representational. Individual essays explore modernism's complex geographies, focusing on Anglo-European modernisms while also engaging with the debates engendered by recent models of world literatures and global modernisms. From questions of space and place, the volume moves to a focus on movement and motion, with topics ranging from modernity and bodily energies to issues of scale and quantity. The final chapters in the volume examine modernist film and the moving image and travel and transport in the modern metropolis Movement is reality itself the philosopher Henri Bergson wrote the original and illuminating essays in Moving Modernisms point in new ways to the realities and the fantasies of movement in modernist culture The Dialect of the Tribe Margery Sabin,1987-03-05 The bold careers of Henry James D H Lawrence James Joyce and Samuel Beckett writers with profoundly unsettled cultural identities spark Margery Sabin s investigation of values carried through inherited forms of speech The Dialect of the Tribe offers fresh readings of such great novels as The Golden Bowl Women in Love Ulysses and the Beckett trilogy which illustrate how complex attitudes toward the speech forms of language inform the most varied social psychological and aesthetic structures in modern fiction Sabin explores the powerful tension in these writers between appreciation for the resources of common speech in English and contrary longings for a freedom associated with abstraction system and foreign or private language Her own critical procedures transcend restrictive and reductive polarizations as she lucidly analyzes the biases of both the Anglo American critical tradition and the challenge to that tradition in French literary theory and practice Written in a jargon free accessible style The Dialect of the Tribe argues that the ambiguous cultural positions of the great modern novelists in English emerge as a major source of their strength the rich traditions of the English language give enlivening power to writers also remarkable for their drive toward radical independence and skepticism On Moving Louise DeSalvo,2009-07-01

When acclaimed memoirist and scholar Louise DeSalvo sold the house she and her husband had raised their children in and moved to a beautiful new home in Montclair New Jersey she was shocked to discover a rash of unexpected emotions interfering with her plans Suddenly the old cramped house was paradise and the new house a barren building with none of the comforts or familiarity of home Faced with a sudden disillusionment over her dream house DeSalvo turned as she always has to her favorite writers What she found was a treasure trove of material most of which has seldom been written about before chronicling the tumultuous and inspiring moves of some of our most beloved literary figures Percy Shelley destitute and restless moved his tired family from one home to another only to settle in what he came to believe was a haunted house on the Gulf of Spezia in which he soon drowned Virginia Woolf on her hunt for the perfect room of her own was a real estate hound and spent years trying to get back to her home in London after a nervous breakdown forced her to relocate to the country More recently Mark Doty found selling the house he and his dying lover spent decades renovating surprisingly freeing as the couple found a new home in which to say goodbye DeSalvo mines the hopes disappointments memories and fears that come with that simple yet fundamental part of everyone s lives moving

Islands and the Modernists Jill Franks, 2006-07-25 This study examines five modernists in different disciplines biology painting drama fiction and anthropology whose work on islands made them famous Charles Darwin challenged every presumption of popular science with his theory of evolution by natural selection derived from his study of the Galapagos Islands Paul Gauguin found on Tahiti inspiration enough to break through the inhibiting traditions of the Parisian art world John Millington Synge s experience on the Aran Islands off the coast of Ireland gave birth to a new style of drama that defied classic divisions between tragedy and comedy D H Lawrence s life long search for a utopian community culminated in his famous short story The Man Who Loved Islands that poignantly portrays the tension between idealism and realism solitude and human intimacy Finally Margaret Mead began her career in anthropology by studying the remote South Sea Islands and through her work acquired the sobriquet Mother of the World The text explores the extent to which islands inspired these radical thinkers to perform innovative work Each used islands differently but similar phenomena affected their choice of place and the outcome of their projects Their examples illuminate the relationship of modernism to alienation and insularity
