Modernism and Magic Leigh Wilson, 2015-10-01 Explores the interplay between modernist experiment and occult discourses in the early twentieth century This Thing of Darkness Joan Neuberger, 2019-03-15 Sergei Eisenstein's unfinished masterpiece Ivan the Terrible was no ordinary movie Commissioned by Joseph Stalin in 1941 to justify state terror in the sixteenth century and in the twentieth the film's politics style and epic scope aroused controversy even before it was released In This Thing of Darkness Joan Neuberger offers a sweeping account of the conception making and reception of Ivan the Terrible that weaves together Eisenstein's expansive thinking and experimental practice with a groundbreaking new view of artistic production under Stalin Drawing on Eisenstein's unpublished production notebooks diaries and manuscripts Neuberger's riveting narrative chronicles Eisenstein's personal creative and political challenges and reveals the ways cinematic invention artistic theory political critique and historical and psychological analysis went hand in hand in this famously complex film Neuberger's bold arguments and daring insights into every aspect of Eisenstein's work during this period together with her ability to lucidly connect his wide ranging late theory with his work on Ivan show the director exploiting the institutions of Soviet artistic production not only to expose the cruelties of Stalin and his circle but to challenge the fundamental principles of Soviet ideology itself Ivan the Terrible she argues shows us one of the world's greatest filmmakers and one of the twentieth century's greatest artists observing the world around him and experimenting with every element of film art to explore the psychology of political ambition uncover the history of recurring cycles of violence and lay bare the tragedy of absolute power Drone Age Cinema Steen Ledet Christiansen, 2016-11-29 At a time when technological advances are transforming cultures and supporting new automated military operations action films engage the senses and in doing so allow viewers to embody combat roles This book argues that through film the viewer adapts to an ecology of fear one that reflects global panic at the near constant threat of conflict and violence Often overwhelming in its audiovisual assault action cinema attempts to overpower our bodies with its own through force and intensity In this book Steen Ledet Christiansen identifies five aspects central to how action films produce such physical movements and responses through vectors droning kinetics telesomatics and volatility and in so doing unveils new modes of perception that acclimatise us for warfare Drawing on theories from film philosophy and a consideration of the aesthetics and phenomenology of war this is an innovative study of the evolving action movie and its role in the targeted address of battle Chapters investigate new modes of cinematic experience through in depth case studies of Iron Man Avatar and the Jason Bourne trilogy through to The Hurt Locker and Mad Max Fury Road Thinking in the Dark Jeremy Blatter, 2015-10-16 Today's film scholars draw from a dizzying range of theoretical perspectives they're just as likely to cite philosopher Gilles Deleuze as they are to quote classic film theorist André Bazin. To students first encountering them, these theoretical lenses for viewing film can seem exhilarating but also overwhelming. Thinking in the Dark introduces readers to twenty-one key theorists whose work has made a great impact on film scholarship today, including Rudolf Arnheim, Sergei Eisenstein, Michel Foucault, Siegfried Kracauer, and Judith Butler. Rather than just discussing each theorist's ideas in the abstract, the book shows how those concepts might be applied when interpreting specific films by including an analysis of both a classic film and a contemporary one. It thus demonstrates how theory can help us better appreciate films from all eras and genres, from Hugo to Vertigo, from City Lights to Sunset Blvd and from Young Mr. Lincoln to A.I. and Wall-E. The volume's contributors are all experts on their chosen theorist's work and furthermore are skilled at explaining that thinker's key ideas and terms to readers who are not yet familiar with them. Thinking in the Dark is not only a valuable resource for teachers and students of film; it's also a fun read, one that teaches us all how to view familiar films through new eyes.

Theorists examined in this volume are Rudolf Arnheim, Béla Balázs, Roland Barthes, André Bazin, Walter Benjamin, Judith Butler, Stanley Cavell, Michel Chion, Gilles Deleuze, Jean Douchet, Sergei Eisenstein, Jean Epstein, Michel Foucault, Siegfried Kracauer, Jacques Lacan, Vachell Lindsay, Christian Metz, Hugo Münsterberg, V.F. Perkins, Jacques Rancière, and Jean Rouch.

Troubled Everyday Alison Taylor, 2017-04-28

Extreme violence in contemporary European art cinema is generally interpreted for its affective potential, but what about the significance of the everyday that so often frames and forms the majority of these films? Why do the sudden moments of violence that punctuate films like Catherine Breillat's Fat Girl (2001), Gaspar Noé's Irreversible (2002), and Markus Schleinzer's Michael (2011) seem so reliant on everyday routines and settings for their impact? Addressing these questions through a series of case studies and considering notorious films in their historical and philosophical context, Troubled Everyday offers the first detailed examination of the relationship between violence and the everyday in European art cinema. It calls for a re-evaluation of what gives these films such affective force and such a prolonged grip on our imagination.

contributes significantly to contemporary discussions in poststructuralist literary theory political theology and religious studies Desilets's insightful explication of Jean Luc Nancy's deconstruction of Christianity and Giorgio Agamben's recent work on religion makes a substantial contribution to film philosophy and emerging critical trends in the study of religion and film This book puts forward a nuanced theoretical framework that will be useful for film scholars students of contemporary political theology and scholars interested in the intersections of religion and media Hamlet Lives in Hollywood Murray Pomerance, 2017-08-18 Analyses the democratic dimension of the recent political changes in MENA Counter-Archive Paula Amad, 2010-09-28 Counter Archive brilliantly reflects the visual character of philosophy geography and historiography in twentieth century France Organized hermetically and crafted meticulously this volume offers a wealth of information as it considers film theory Tom Conley Harvard University Tucked Away in a Garden on the edge of Paris is a multimedia archive like no other Albert Kahn's Archives de la Planete 1908 1931 Kahn's vast photo cinematographic experiment preserved world memory through the privileged lens of everyday life and Counter Archive situates this project in its biographic intellectual and cinematic contexts Tracing the archive's key influences such as the philosopher Henri Bergson the geographer Jean Brunhes and the biologist Jean Comandon Paula Amad maps an alternative landscape of French cultural modernity in which vitalist philosophy cross pollinated with early film theory documentary film with the avant grade cinematic models of temporality with the early Annales school of history and film's appropriation of the planet with human geography and colonial ideology At the heart of the book is an insightful meditation upon the transformed concept of the archive in the age of cinema and an innovative argument about film's counter archival challenge to history This impressive book carves out a field of interest that prior to Paula Amad's scrutiny did not exist Amad displays extraordinary erudition assembling a remarkable bibliography of primary sources She invites us to ponder her ideas in relation to our own digital counter archival image overload Antonia Lant New York University editor of Red Velvet Seat Women's Writings on the First Fifty Years of Cinema Paula Amad handles technical details with flourish and mastery and the research in the French archives is exhilarating Donald Crafton University of Notre Dame Paula Amad's book is far more than an unusually successful effort to recover and analyze Kahn's unique dream of archiving the planet It stages a theoretical interrogation of the terms archive everyday life and modernity arguing that the emergence of motion pictures produced a revisionist concept of the archive or what she calls the counter archive Her book ultimately mounts a highly original methodological exploration of the intersection of history and theory Richard Abel University of Michigan Religion and Film S. Brent Plate, 2017-09-05 Religion and cinema share a capacity for world making ritualizing mythologizing and creating sacred time and space Through cinematography mise en scene editing and other production activities film takes the world out there and refashions it Religion achieves similar ends by setting apart particular objects and periods of time telling stories and gathering people together for communal actions and concentrated focus The result of both cinema and religious practice is a re-created world a world of fantasy a world of ideology a world we long to live in or a world we wish to avoid at all costs Religion and Film introduces readers to both religious studies and film studies by focusing on the formal similarities between cinema and religious practices and on the ways they each re create the world Explorations of film show how the cinematic experience relies on similar aesthetic devices on which religious rituals have long relied sight sound the taste of food the body and communal experience Meanwhile a deeper understanding of the aesthetic nature of religious rituals can alter our understanding of film production Utilizing terminology and theoretical insights from the study of religion as well as the study of film Religion and Film shows that by paying attention to the ways films are constructed we can shed new light on the ways religious myths and rituals are constructed and vice versa This thoroughly revised and expanded new edition is designed to appeal to the needs of courses in religion as well as film departments In addition to two new chapters this edition has been restructured into three distinct sections that offer students and instructors theories and methods for thinking about cinema in ways that more fully connect film studies with religious studies

Practices of Projection Gabriel Menotti, Virginia Crisp, 2020-02-05 To many the technological aspects of projection often go unnoticed only brought to attention during moments of crisis or malfunction For example when a movie theater projector falters the audience suddenly looks toward the back of the theater to see a sign of mechanical failure The history of cinema similarly shows that the attention to projection has been most focused when the whole medium is hanging in suspension During Hollywood s economic consolidation in the 30s projection defined the ways that sync sound technologies could be deployed within the medium Most recently the digitization of cinema repeated this process as technology was reworked to facilitate mobility These examples show how projection continually speaks to the rearrangement of media technology Projection therefore needs to be examined as a pivotal element in the future of visual media s technological transition In Practices of Projection Histories and Technologies volume editors Gabriel Menotti and Virginia Crisp address the cultural and technological significance of projection Throughout the volume chapters reiterate that projection cannot and must not be reduced to its cinematic functions alone Borrowing media theorist Siegfried Zielinski s definition Menotti and Crisp refer to projection as the heterogeneous array of artefacts technical systems and particularly visual praxes of experimentation and of culture From this readers can understand the performative character of the moving image and the labor of the different actors involved in the utterance of the film text Projection is not the same everywhere nor equal all the time Its systems are in permanent interaction with environmental circumstances neighboring structures local cultures and social economies Thus the idea of projection as a universal fully autonomous operation cannot hold Each occurrence of projection adds nuance to a wider understanding of film screening technologies

Subversive Esotericism and Aesthetic Radicalism Sólveig Guðmundsdóttir, 2024-12-29 In this book S lveig Gu mundsd ttir uncovers the crucial role of esotericism in the art of the Vienna Actionists a group of Austrian neo avant garde artists infamous for their transgressive performance art Addressing this frequently overlooked aspect of Actionism Gu mundsd ttir traces historicizes and examines

The Face on Film Noa Steimatsky, 2017-01-03 The human face was said to be rediscovered with the advent of motion pictures in which it is often viewed as expressive locus as figure and even as essence of the cinema But how has the modern technological mass circulating art revealed the face in ways that are also distinct from any other medium How has it altered our perception of this quintessential incarnation of the person The archaic powers of masks and icons the fashioning of the individual in the humanist portrait the modernist anxieties of fragmentation and de figuration these are among the cultural precedents informing our experience in the movie theatre Yet the moving image also offers radical new confrontations with the face Dreyer's Passion of Joan of Arc Donen's Funny Face Hitchcock's The Wrong Man Bresson's enigmatic Au hasard Balthazar Antonioni's Screen Test Warhol's filmic portraits of celebrity and anonymity are among the key works explored in this book In different ways these intense encounters manifest a desire for transparency and plenitude but especially in post classical cinema they also betray a profound ambiguity that haunts the human countenance as it wavers between image and language between what we see and what we know The spectacular impact of the cinematic face is uncannily bound up with an opacity a reticence But is it not for this very reason that like faces in the world it still enthralls us
