Savage Lust:

Spotted Goddesses Roja Singh, 2018 Roja Singh's critical ethnography on caste and gender is rooted in interactions and lived experiences in communities of Dalit women in Tamil Nadu India. Situated in transnational feminist discourses, Singh's perspective as a Dalit woman provides an intersectional social analysis of power structures that sustain caste dominance in South India today. She describes strategies of social change in Dalit women's activism as rooted in subversive applications of imposed identities of difference, thwarting social boundaries and punishment traditions. The core of this interdisciplinary work is Dalit women's songs, oral and written testimonial narratives including Singh's personal story. The Black Image in the White Mind George M. Fredrickson, 1987-03 A study of issues of race in 19th century America. Joanna Crusader Hilary Benford, 2017-08-26 An epic novel, the sequel to Sister of the Lionheart, revealing the widowed Queen of Sicily's role in the Crusades and marriage to the Count of Toulouse. Joanna Plantagenet accompanies her brother Richard the Lionheart on the Third Crusade, the only woman to visit Saracen-held Jerusalem. When she returns to France, Joanna learns that her renowned brother has been captured and held hostage, and with Richard's wife Berengaria, she must work for his release. And when Joanna marries for love, a rarity at the time, things go badly wrong when she finds that someone is trying to have her killed. This is the conclusion to the grand story of a remarkable heroine from history. The Art of Complicity in Martial and Statius Erik Gunderson, 2021 The Art of Complicity in Martial and Statius examines the relationship between politics and aesthetics in two poets from the reign of Domitian. Gunderson argues that power and politics are intimately involved in Latin praise poetry. Textures of Renaissance Knowledge Philippa Berry, Margaret Tudeau-Clayton, 2003 Table of contents

War Machine Daniel Pick, 1996-01-01 This intriguing study examines Western perceptions of war in and beyond the nineteenth century, surveying the writings of novelists, anthropologists, psychiatrists, psychoanalysts, philosophers, poets, natural scientists, and journalists to trace the terms of modern thought on the nature of military conflict. Daniel Pick brings together philosophical and historical models of war with fictions of invasion, propaganda from the Great War, interpretations of shellshock, and speculations about the biological value of conquest. He discusses the work of such familiar commentators as Clausewitz, Engels, and Treitschke and examines little-known writings by Proudhon, De Quincey, Ruskin, Valéry, and many others, culminating in the extraordinary dialogue between Freud and Einstein, Why War. He analyses Victorian fears of French contamination through the Channel Tunnel as well as the widespread continuing dread of German domination. And he charts the history of the pervasive European belief that war is beneficial or at least functionally necessary. A central theme of the book is the disturbing relationship between machinery and destruction. Visions of relentless technological progress and the inexorable advance of the military industrial complex often seem to distort our understanding of war, even to reduce it to a sophisticated game played out by high-precision automata. Pick explores both the reassuring and troubling aspects of such representations. Shorn of human agency or responsibility, war apparently threatens to become technologically unstoppable.

the remorseless perfect abattoir of the industrial age War Machine explores the enduring historical fascination with and recoil from brutal mechanical slaughter and the modern acquiescence in and enthusiasm for in Rilke's phrase these days of monstrously accelerated dying

Everyday Ecofascism Alexander Menrisky, 2025-05-06 A timely look into how fascist ideas permeate contemporary culture well beyond the far right As challenges posed by climate change have intensified in the twenty first century right wing figures in the United States and abroad have increasingly framed anti immigrant anti Indigenous and white supremacist sentiments in terms of environmental survival Everyday Ecofascism explores the insidious nature of this tendency revealing how permutations of these perspectives in fact resonate across the political spectrum Drawing on comparative studies of fascism writ large Alexander Menrisky demonstrates that ecofascism is best understood not as a uniquely right wing ideology but as a political genre that reinforces white supremacy and other forms of domination Presenting a view of fascism as a complex power network that plays out on scales both large and small Menrisky shows how extremist sentiments have crept into everyday language stories and ideas Through a literary and cultural studies lens he illuminates ecofascism s narrative patterns and their easy permeation of environmentalist discourses from back to the land movements to the resurgence of psychedelic drugs food localism and pandemic politics Opposite his analysis of ecofascism in action Menrisky sheds important light on narrative resistances to dominant conceptions of race nation and territory by Native queer and women of color writers who have countered ethnonationalism for generations Bridging past and present Menrisky powerfully nails down the emergent concept of ecofascism and forms a basis for understanding phenomena like Covid 19 ecological utopianism and psychedelic environmentalism that detangles ecofascist tendencies from justice oriented visions of place based belonging Retail e book files for this title are screen reader friendly      Introductions and Reviews D. H.

Lawrence,2005 This volume collects together the introductions and reviews which D H Lawrence wrote between 1911 and 1930      Ed Wood, Mad Genius Rob Craig,2009-09-12 Filmmaker Ed Wood was controversial and critically maligned even labeled the worst director of all time yet he achieved cult status and remains of great interest today This book frames Wood s work such as the cross dressing themed Glen or Glenda and the haphazard Bride of the Monster as reflections of the culture of their era Wood invariably worked with infinitesimal budgets shooting at breakneck speed incorporating plot twists that defied all logic Yet there was a tangible if unfocused thematic thrust to Wood s films which meditate fitfully on gender religion and society revealing a holy trinity of fixations sex death and resurrection Wood s infamous Plan 9 From Outer Space encapsulates the fixations and flaws that were his hallmarks and with 22 other films is explored here A filmography and 47 photographs are included      Lustmord Maria Tatar,2020-07-21 In a book that confronts our society s obsession with sexual violence Maria Tatar seeks the meaning behind one of the most disturbing images of twentieth century Western culture the violated female corpse This image is so prevalent in painting literature film and most recently in mass media that we rarely question what is at stake in its representation Tatar however challenges us to consider what is taking place both artistically and socially in the construction and circulation of scenes depicting sexual murder In examining images of sexual murder Lustmord she produces a riveting study of how art and murder have intersected in the sexual politics of culture from Weimar Germany to the present Tatar focuses attention on the politically turbulent Weimar Republic often viewed as the birthplace of a transgressive avant garde modernism where representations of female sexual mutilation abound Here a revealing episode in the gender politics of cultural production unfolds as male artists and writers working in a society consumed by fear of outside threats envision women as enemies that can be contained and mastered through transcendent artistic expression Not only does Tatar show that male artists openly identified with real life sexual murderers George Grosz posed as Jack the Ripper in a photograph where his model and future wife was the target of his knife but she also reveals the ways in which victims were disavowed and erased Tatar first analyzes actual cases of sexual murder that aroused wide public interest in

Weimar Germany She then considers how the representation of murdered women in visual and literary works functions as a strategy for managing social and sexual anxieties and shows how violence against women can be linked to the war trauma to urban pathologies and to the politics of cultural production and biological reproduction In exploring the complex relationship between victim and agent in cases of sexual murder Tatar explains how the roles came to be destabilized and reversed turning the perpetrator of criminal deeds into a defenseless victim of seductive evil Throughout the West today the creation of similar ideological constructions still occurs in societies that have only recently begun to validate the voices of its victims Maria Tatar's book opens up an important discussion for readers seeking to understand the forces behind sexual violence and its portrayal in the cultural media throughout this century
