Savages Dennison Berwick,1993      Savages Dennison Berwick,1993      Life and Death Matters Barbara Rose Johnston,2016-06-03 The first edition of Life and Death Matters was a breakthrough text centralizing the experiences of those on the front lines of environmental crises and forging new paradigms for understanding how crises emerge and how different groups of actors respond to them This second edition fully updated with both expanded and new chapters once again provides a benchmark for the field and opens important pathways for further research Authors reassess the state of scholarship and grassroots activism in a new century when social and environmental systems are being reconceptualised within post 9 11 security and biosecurity frameworks when global warming and resource scarcity are not fears but realities when global power and politics are being realigned and when ecocide ethnocide and genocide are daily tragedies This bold new edition of Life and Death Matters will be a widely used textbook and essential reading for students scholars and policy makers      Encyclopedia of Anthropology H. James Birx,2006 Focuses on physical social and applied anthropology archaeology linguistics and symbolic communication Topics include hominid evolution primate behaviour genetics ancient civilizations cross cultural studies and social theories      The Living Ancestors Zeljko Jokic,2015-09-01 This phenomenologically oriented ethnography focuses on experiential aspects of Yanomami shamanism including shamanistic activities in the context of cultural change The author interweaves ethnographic material with theoretical components of a holographic principle or the idea that the part is equal to the whole which is embedded in the nature of the Yanomami macrocosm human dwelling multiple soul components and shamans relationships with embodied spirit helpers This book fills an important gap in the regional study of Yanomami people and on a broader scale enriches understanding of this ancient phenomenon by focusing on the consciousness involved in shamanism through firsthand experiential involvement

Anderson's Travel Companion Compiled by Sarah Anderson,2016-12-05 A selection of the best in travel writing with both fiction and non fiction presented together this companion is for all those who like travelling like to think about travelling and who take an interest in their destination It covers guidebooks as well as books about food history art and architecture religion outdoor activities illustrated books autobiographies biographies and fiction and lists books both in and out of print Anderson s Travel Companion is arranged first by continent then alphabetically by country and then by subject cross referenced where necessary There is a separate section for guidebooks and comprehensive indexes Sarah Anderson founded the Travel Bookshop in 1979 and is also a journalist and writer on travel subjects She is known by well known travel writers such as Michael Palin and Colin Thubron Michael Palin chose her bookshop as his favourite shop and Colin Thubron and Geoffrey Moorhouse among others made suggestions for titles to include in the Travel Companion      Brazil's Indians and the Onslaught of Civilization Linda Rabben,2012-10-01 The Yanomami and Kayap two indigenous groups of the Amazon rainforest have become internationally known through their dramatic and highly publicized encounters with civilization Both groups struggle to transcend internal divisions preserve their traditional culture and defend their land from depredation while seeking to benefit from the outside world yet their prospects for the future seem very different Placing each group in its historical context Linda Rabben examines the relationship of the Kayap and Yanomami to Brazilian society and the wider world She combines academic research with a wide variety of sources including celebrated leaders Paulinho Payakan and Davi Kopenawa to assess how each group has responded to outside incursions This book is a substantially revised edition of Unnatural Selection The Yanomami the Kayap and the Onslaught of Civilization originally published in 1998 and includes a new chapter examining the controversy for anthropologists studying the Yanomami following the publication of Patrick Tierney's book Darkness in El Dorado Another new chapter focuses on the resurgence of Northeastern indigenous groups previously thought extinct The magnitude and significance of indigenous movements has increased greatly and a new generation of Brazilian indigenous leaders proficient in Portuguese is participating in the national political arena Choice Outstanding Academic Title 2005      Genocide, Ethnonationalism, and the United Nations Hannibal Travis, 2013-01-17 Genocide Ethnonationalism and the United Nations examines a series of related crises in human civilization growing out of conflicts between powerful states or empires and indigenous or stateless peoples This is the first book to attempt to explore the causes of genocide and other mass killing by a detailed exploration of UN archives covering the period spanning from 1945 through 2011 Hannibal Travis argues that large states and empires disproportionately committed or facilitated genocide and other mass killings between 1945 and 2011 His research incorporates data concerning factors linked to the scale of mass killing and recent findings in human rights political science and legal theory Turning to potential solutions he argues that the concept of genocide imagines a future system of global governance under which the nation state itself is made subject to law The United Nations however has deflected the possibility of such a cosmopolitical law It selectively condemns genocide and has established an institutional structure that denies most peoples subjected to genocide of a realistic possibility of global justice lacks a robust international criminal tribunal or UN army and even encourages security cooperation among states that have proven to be destructive of peoples in the past Questions raised include What have been the causes of mass killing during the period since the United Nations Charter entered into force in 1945 How does mass killing spread across international borders and what is the role of resource wealth the arms trade and external interference in this process Have the United Nations or the International Criminal Court faced up to the problem of genocide and other forms of mass killing as is their mandate      Earth into Property Anthony Hall, 2010-08-23 Earth into Property The Bowl with One Spoon Part Two explores the relationship between the dispossession of Indigenous peoples and the making of global capitalism Beginning with Christopher Columbus's inception of a New World Order in 1492 Anthony Hall draws on a massive body of original research to produce a narrative that is audacious encyclopedic and transformative in the new light it sheds on the complex historical processes that converged in the financial debacle of 2008 and 2009      Death by Government R. J. Rummel, 1997-01-01 This is R J Rummel's fourth book in a series devoted to genocide and government mass murder or what he calls democide. He presents the primary results in tables and figures as well as a historical sketch of the major cases of democide: those in which one million or more people were killed by a regime. In Death by Government, Rummel does not aim to describe democide itself but to determine its nature and scope in order to test the theory that democracies are inherently nonviolent. Rummel discusses genocide in China, Nazi Germany, Japan, Cambodia, Turkey, Yugoslavia, Poland, the Soviet Union, and Pakistan. He also writes about areas of suspected genocide: North Korea, Mexico, and feudal Russia. His results clearly and decisively show that democracies commit less democide than other regimes. The underlying principle is that the less freedom people have, the greater the violence; the more freedom, the less the violence. Thus, as Rummel says, 'The problem is power. The solution is democracy. The course of action is to foster freedom.' Death by Government is a compelling look at the horrors that occur in modern societies. It depicts how democide has been very much a part of human history. Among other examples, the book includes the massacre of Europeans during the Thirty Years War, the relatively unknown genocide of the French Revolution, and the slaughtering of American Indians by colonists in the New World. This riveting account is an essential tool for historians, political scientists, and scholars interested in the study of genocide.

Life Among the Yanomami John F. Peters, 1998-06 This is a very comprehensive and detailed account of the Yanomami people in Brazil. HANDBOOK AMAZONIAN LANGUAGES Desmond C. Derbyshire, Geoffrey K. Pullum, 2010-12-14 No detailed description available for HANDBOOK AMAZONIAN LANGUAGES. World Military History Bibliography Barton Hacker, 2003-06-01 Preclassical and indigenous nonwestern military institutions and methods of warfare are the chief subjects of this annotated bibliography of work published 1967-1997. Classical antiquity, post-Roman Europe, and the westernized armed forces of the 20th century, although covered, receive less systematic attention. Emphasis is on historical studies of military organization and the relationships between military and other social institutions rather than wars and battles. Especially rich in references to the periodical literature, the bibliography is divided into eight parts: 1. general and comparative topics; 2. the ancient world; 3. Eurasia since antiquity; 4. sub-Saharan Africa and Oceania; 5. pre-Columbian America; 6. postcontact America; 7. the contemporary nonwestern world; and 8. philosophical, social, scientific, natural, scientific, and other works not primarily historical.

Racial Revolutions Jonathan W. Warren, 2001-09-26 The first analysis of a new phenomenon in Brazil wherein a growing number of mestizos are asserting Indian identities and racial politics and understandings of race formation have radically shifted.

Common Ground: Eco-Holism and Native American Philosophy Roy C. Dudgeon, 2008 Common Ground is an examination of the many commonalities shared by ecological and Native American philosophies Both their common differences from and critiques of dominant Western philosophy are considered This major work of cross cultural philosophy employs a unique comparative methodology in order to contrast patterns of relationship in the ideological social and ecological spheres Native and modern Western philosophies and lifestyles past and present are each examined and compared to eco holist thought and to ecological realities The work concludes that both ecological philosophy and modern Western culture have much to learn from an examination of Native American philosophy especially concerning the creation of a sustainable and equitable future

Who Pays the Price? Barbara Rose Johnston, 1994-08 Examines the social aspects of environmental degradation focusing on allied human rights abuses Indigenous Peoples, Postcolonialism, and International Law Luis Rodríguez-Piñero, 2005 Indigenous Peoples Postcolonialism and International Law The ILO Regime 1919 1989 explores the historical process leading to the emergence of indigenous peoples as distinct objects of modern international law through the activity of the International Labour Organization ILO The ILO is the institutional site for the two current legally binding international instruments dealing with indigenous peoples Convention No 107 1957 and Convention No 169 1989 Based on careful research on official documentation and unpublished archival evidence the book enquires into the origins of the ILO's historical interest in the living and working conditions of indigenous peoples and traces this back to the organization's early concern on the conditions of life of native workers in colonial territories in the inter war period The book connects this early concern with the organization's regional policy in the Americas where the Indian problem became a priority on the organization's agenda These historical processes set the ground for the adoption a few years later of Convention No 107 and Recommendation No 104 instruments that translate the main assumptions of state development policies towards indigenous groups into international law After an examination of the origins and content of Convention No 107 the book sheds light on the process that lead the ILO to reshape its old policies into the form of Convention No 169 the most up to date and important international treaty dealing with the rights of indigenous peoples today
