, A Survey of Agricultural Economics Literature Lee R. Martin, 1977

The Migrant Cocoa-farmers of Southern Ghana Polly Hill, 1997 The economic and social organisation of Ghanaian cocoa farming is very complex reflecting differences in population density land tenure accessibility soil fertility and other factors The small peasant with his two or three acre farms is one type of farmer and it has always been supposed that it was he who created the world's largest cocoa growing industry The migration of southern Ghanaian cocoa farmers which has been proceeding since the 1890s was not known to have occurred and this study shows that it was the migrant not the peasant who was the real innovator This migrant has scarcely been mentioned in the literature Author Polly Hill now gives a full account of his migration one of the great events in the recent economic history of Africa south of the Sahara The migrant farmer who rather resembles a capitalist than a peasant buys land or inherits it from those who bought before him and conventionally uses the proceeds from one cocoa land to purchase others It is now possible with the aid of farm maps to study the whole migratory process with its changing pattern of land ownership over more than half a century The results are revealing The conventional notion that it was only recently that West Africans began to engage in large scale economic enterprises is shown to be false One of the main contentions of this book is that the migrant farmer has been remarkably responsive to economic ends It is further shown that there is no incompatibility between this kind of enterprise and the continuance of traditional forms of social organisation nor is there evidence that the enterprising individual found himself hampered by the demands made on him by members of his lineage In analysing and recording the details of the migratory process Dr Hill has made an important contribution to the economic history of West Africa Besides the economists and economic historians for whom the book is primarily intended it should be studied by lawyers geographers social anthropologists and all concerned with problems of underdevelopment

Patriarchy and the Politics of Beauty Allan D. Cooper,2019-10-04 Political philosophers from the beginning of history have articulated the significance of beauty Allan D Cooper argues that these writings are coded to justify patriarchal structures of power and that each epoch of global history has reflected a paradigm of beauty that rationalizes protocols of gender performance Patriarchy is a system of knowledge that trains men to become soldiers but is now being challenged by human rights advocates and women s rights activists Masks and Staffs Michaela Pelican,2015-07-01 The Cameroon Grassfields home to three ethnic groups Grassfields societies Mbororo and Hausa provide a valuable case study for the anthropological examination of identity politics and interethnic relations In the midst of the political liberalization of Cameroon in the late 1990s and 2000s local responses to political and legal changes took the form of a series of performative and discursive expressions of ethnicity Confrontational encounters stimulated by economic and political rivalry as well as socially integrative processes transformed collective self understanding in Cameroon in conjunction with recent global discourses on human minority and indigenous rights The book provides a vital contribution to the study of ethnicity conflict and social change in the anthropology of Africa

Crain,Felicia Hughes-Freeland,2003-12-16 Recasting Ritual explores how ritualized action diversifies in response to varying cultural political and physical contexts The contributors look at how issues such as globalisation and technology affect ritual performance and how minorities often utilise performances to affirm their own identities while also speaking to outsiders The contributors examine the relationship between ritual meaning and social identity through case studies drawn from the Pacific Scandinavia the Mediterranean Latin America Indonesia and East and West Africa Study of the theoretical underpinnings of social action affirms the independence of anthropology as a discipline from cultural media and performance studies according it a distinctive role in elucidating contemporary and emergent human conditions Rules of Descent

Swanson,1969 In this study author Guy E Swanson examines the rules of descent as they relate to regime socialization and social control Using data from many different societies he discusses the relationship of patriliney matriliney and bilaterality with economic and social structures African Ecology Clive Spinae,2012-05-07 In view of the rapidly changing ecology of Africa this work provides benchmarks for some of the major and more neglected aspects with an accent on historical data to enable habitats to be seen in relation to their previous state forming a background reference work to understanding how the ecology of Africa has been shaped by its past Reviewing historical data wherever possible it adopts an holistic view treating man as well as animals with accent on diseases both human and animal which have been a potent force in shaping Africa s ecology a role neglected in ecological studies Livestock Development In Subsaharan Africa James

R Simpson,2019-08-22 The nations of Subsaharan Africa experienced declining levels of food production per capita throughout the 1970s and early 1980s particularly in the area of livestock production Addressing that problem the authors of this book assess in a systems context the environmental biological and social constraints on future African livestock development and consider prospects for improving productivity They focus especially on changes needed in production and marketing systems pointing to important policy considerations The book is divided into four parts containing twenty one chapters each authored by one or more respective authorities in his or her field Each section in its own way addresses the entire set of questions topics include aspects of animal breeding and nutrition anthropology economics ecology farming systems governmental policy land tenure marketing modelling and veterinary medicine

Conceptualizing/Re-conceptualizing Africa Maghan Keita, 2021-10-11 Africa is a legitimizing factor in the world some might argue because of the weakness of its position in the world others might say because of the realization on the part of some African leaders that there are strengths inherent to their states positions that can be tapped Africa's place in the world is being re thought and re shaped And that is exactly what this book is about the authors invite and incite the reader to a much closer and nuanced reading of Africa and its history and the way in which that history over time and space allows for a re conceptualization of Africa's role and place in the world The authors evoke W E B Du Bois on the invention of identity in the modern world In that light these works remind us as Du Bois would that the current invention of Africa is indeed a modern one an identity configured in numerous ways with and without our interventions Contributions by Lamont de Haven King State and Ethnicity in Nigeria Jesse Benjamin Nubians and Nabateans Jeremy Prestholdt Portuguese on the Swahili Coast Thomas Ricks Slaves in Shi'i Iran AD 1500-1900 Launay Robert Late Seventeenth Century Narratives of Travel to Asia and Richard J Payne and Cassandra Veney Taiwan and Africa
