Protestant Nonconformist Texts Volume 1 R. Tudur Jones, Arthur Long, Rosemary Moore, 2015-01-26 Like the other volumes in the four volume series of which it is a part this book breaks new ground in gathering and introducing texts relating to the origins of English and Welsh Dissent Through contemporary writings it provides a lively insight into the life and thought of early Presbyterians Congregationalists Baptists and Quakers as well as of smaller groups no longer extant

Confessing the Faith Yesterday and Today Alan P.F. Sell, 2013-02-26 Can Christians be spiritual and religious Do they even know the difference between the two Through a guide for guardian angels entering into basic training for service to womankind Bound an Earth Walker s handbook overhauls Western Christianity with integrity and clarity      Writing and Religion in England, 1558-1689 Anthony W. Johnson, 2016-02-17 The fruit of intensive collaboration among leading international specialists on the literature religion and culture of early modern England this volume examines the relationship between writing and religion in England from 1558 the year of the Elizabethan Settlement up until the Act of Toleration of 1689 Throughout these studies religious writing is broadly taken as being communicational in the etymological sense that is as a medium which played a significant role in the creation or consolidation of communities Some texts shaped or reinforced one particular kind of religious identity whereas others fostered communities which cut across the religious borderlines which prevailed in other areas of social interaction For a number of the scholars writing here such communal differences correlate with different ways of drawing on the resources of cultural memory The denominational spectrum covered ranges from several varieties of Dissent through via media Anglicanism to Laudianism and Roman Catholicism and there are also glances towards heresy and the mid seventeenth century s new atheism With respect to the range of different genres examined the volume spans the gamut from poetry fictional prose drama court masque sermons devotional works theological treatises confessions of faith church constitutions tracts and letters to history writing and translation Arranged in roughly chronological order Writing and Religion in England 1558-1689 presents chapters which explore religious writing within the wider contexts of culture ideas attitudes and law as well as studies which concentrate more on the texts and readerships of particular writers Several contributors embrace an inter arts orientation relating writing to liturgical ceremony painting music and architecture while others opt for a stronger sociological slant explicitly emphasizing the role of women writers and of writers from different sub cultural backgrounds John Owen Ryan M. McGraw, 2017-08-18 This book is a thorough study of John Owen Owen has become recognized as one of the greatest Reformed theologians Great Britain ever produced as well as one of the most significant theologians of the Reformed orthodox period His theological interests were eclectic exegetically based and he sought to meet the needs of his times This volume treats key areas in Owen's thought including the Trinity Old Testament exegesis covenant theology the law and the gospel the nature of faith in relation to images of Christ and prolegomena The common theme tying them together is that John Owen helps us better understand the development and interrelationship of theology exegesis and piety in Reformed orthodox theology By setting him in his international and cross confessional contexts the author seeks to use Owen as a window into the trajectory of Reformed orthodoxy in several key areas The Light of Grace: John Owen on the Authority of Scripture and Christian Faith Andrew M. Leslie, 2015-08-19 Over the past several centuries John Owen's writings on scripture have captured the attention of numerous interpreters across a relatively diverse range of disciplines His own distinctive contribution to this doctrine was forged with a genuine fear for the on going pre eminence of scriptural authority in the English church firmly in view In the face of various rival perspectives Owen insists every Christian believer ought to be clear on the reason they believe scripture to be the word of God Focussing on the treatise Reason of Faith 1677 in conversation with his wider theological corpus Andrew M Leslie studies Owen's approach to scriptural authority and Christian faith He argues that Owen creatively drew upon an ecumenical dogmatic and metaphysical heritage to restate and refine the traditional Reformed position on scripture's divine authority sensitive to developments in his own late seventeenth century context In particular Leslie explores how Owen shares a growing concern to ground Christian faith in objective evidence all the while ensuring that its ultimate foundation lies in the irresistible authority and truthfulness of God mediated in and by the inspired text of scripture Leslie also draws out the broader significance Owen ascribes to scripture in shaping a believer's relationship with the Triune God especially its vital role in their gradual transformation into the likeness or image of Christ Documents of the Christian Church Henry Bettenson, Chris Maunder, 2011-09-29 This selection of writings from the most important moments in the history of Christianity has become established as a classic reference work providing insights into 2000 years of Christian theological and political debate While retaining the original material selected by Henry Bettenson Chris Maunder has added a substantial section of more recent writings These illustrate the Second Vatican Council the theologies of liberation Church and State from Thatcher's Britain to Communist Eastern Europe Black feminist and ecological theology ecumenism and inter faith dialogue The emphasis on moral debate in the contemporary churches is reflected in selections discussing questions about homosexuality divorce AIDS and in vitro fertilization amongst other issues This further expanded fourth edition brings the anthology up to date with a new section looking at issues facing the twenty first century churches This includes extracts exploring the churches responses to questions of social justice international politics trade and debt environmental change and technological development New material also covers the global growth of Christianity the progress of Christian unity and mission in multi faith and postmodern societies

The Westminster Confession of Faith and the Cessation of Special Revelation Garnet Howard Milne, 2007-12-01 In the opening chapter of the Confession the divines of Westminster included a clause that implied that there would no longer be any special immediate revelation from God Means by which God had once communicated the divine will such as dreams visions and the miraculous gifts of the Spirit were said to be no longer available However many of the authors of the WCF accepted that prophecy continued in their time and a number of them apparently believed that disclosure of God's will through dreams visions and angelic communication remained possible How is the cessationist clause of WCF 1.1 to be read in the light of these claims This book reconciles this paradox in a detailed study of the writings of the authors of the Westminster Confession of Faith

The Last American Puritan Michael G. Hall, 2012-01-01 Powerful preacher political negotiator for New England in the halls of Parliament president of Harvard father of Cotton Mather Increase Mather was the epitome of the American Puritan He was the most important spokesman of his generation for Congregationalism and became the last American Puritan of consequence as the seventeenth century ended The story begins in 1639 when Mather was born in the Massachusetts village of Dorchester He left home for Harvard College when he was twelve and at twenty two began to stir the city of Boston from the pulpit of North Church He had written four books by the time he was thirty two Certain he was God's chosen instrument and New England God's chosen people he disciplined mind and spirit in service to them both Tempted to Atheism and unbelief afflicted early by nightmares and melancholy then by hope and joy he was a pioneer in recognizing the excitement of the new sciences and sought to reconcile them to theology This well wrought biography the first of Increase Mather in forty years draws on the extensive Mather diaries which were transcribed by Michael Hall

Christians, the State, and War Gordon L. Heath, 2022-03-14 In Christians, the State, and War An Ancient Tradition for the Modern World Gordon Heath argues that the pre Constantinian Christian testimony regarding the state's just use of violence was remarkably uniform and that it was arguably a catholic or universal tradition More specifically that tradition had five interrelated and intertwined constitutive areas of consensus that can best be understood as parts of one collective tradition Heath further argues that those five related areas of an early church tradition shaped all subsequent theological developments on views of the state its use of violence and the conditions of Christian participation in said violence Whereas the sorry and sordid instances in the church's history related to violence were times when the church drifted from those convictions of consensus the cases when Christians had a more stellar record of responding to the horrors of the world were times when they lived up to them Consequently the way forward today is for Christians to forgo beginning with the just war pacifist debate and instead to begin by letting their views on war and peace be shaped by that ancient tradition
