Lu Hsun, Writing for the Revolution Xun Lu,1976      Lu Hsun, Writing for the Revolution Hsün Lu,1976      Lu Hsun: Writing for the Revolution ,1976      Lu Xun's Revolution Gloria Davies,2013-04-08 Recognized as modern China's preeminent man of letters Lu Xun 1881 1936 is revered as the nation's conscience a writer comparable to Shakespeare or Tolstoy Gloria Davies's vivid portrait gives readers a better sense of this influential author by situating the man Mao Zedong hailed as the sage of modern China in his turbulent time and place      Amiri Baraka Jerry Watts,2001-08-01 Amiri Baraka formerly known as LeRoi Jones became known as one of the most militant anti white black nationalists of the 1960s Black Power movement An advocate of Black Cultural Nationalism Baraka supported the rejection of all things white and western He helped found and direct the influential Black Arts movement which sought to move black writers away from western aesthetic sensibilities and toward a more complete embrace of the black world Except perhaps for James Baldwin no single figure has had more of an impact on black intellectual and artistic life during the last forty years In this groundbreaking and comprehensive study the first to interweave Baraka's art and political activities Jerry Watts takes us from his early immersion in the New York scene through the most dynamic period in the life and work of this controversial figure Watts situates Baraka within the various worlds through which he travelled including Beat Bohemia Marxist Leninism and Black Nationalism In the process he convincingly demonstrates how the 25 years between Baraka's emergence in 1960 and his continued influence in the mid 1980s can also be read as a general commentary on the condition of black intellectuals during the same time Continually using Baraka as the focal point for a broader analysis Watts illustrates the link between Baraka's life and the lives of other black writers trying to realize their artistic ambitions and contrasts him with other key political intellectuals of the time In a chapter sure to prove controversial Watts links Baraka's famous misogyny to an attempt to bury his own homosexual past A work of extraordinary breadth Amira Baraka is a powerful portrait of one man's lifework and the pivotal time it represents in African American history Informed by a wealth of original research it fills a crucial gap in the lively literature on black thought and history and will continue to be a touchstone work for some time to come      After Marx Colleen Lye,Christopher Nealon,2022-03-17 After Marx showcases the importance of Marxist literary study for an era of intersectional politics and economic decline      The Oxford Handbook of Modern Chinese Literatures Carlos Rojas,Andrea Bachner,2016-07-28 With over forty original essays The Oxford Handbook of Modern Chinese Literatures offers an in depth engagement with the current analytical methodologies and critical practices that are shaping the field in the twenty first century Divided into three sections Structure Taxonomy and Methodology the volume carefully moves across approaches genres and forms to address a rich range topics that include popular culture in Late Qing China Zhang Guangyu's Journey to the West in Cartoons writings of Southeast Asian migrants in Taiwan the Chinese Anglophone Novel and depictions of HIV AIDS in Chu T ien wen's Notes of a Desolate Man      Politics and Literature in Shanghai Wang-chi

Wong,1991 China in War and Revolution, 1895-1949 Peter Zarrow,2006-06-07 Providing historical insights essential to the understanding of contemporary China this book explores the events that led to the rise of communism and a strong central state during the early twentieth century The Limits of Realism Marston Anderson,2024-07-26 Chinese intellectuals of the early twentieth century were attracted to realism primarily as a tool for social regeneration Realism encouraged writers to adopt the stance of the independent cultural critic and drew into the compass of serious literature the disenfranchised others of Chinese society As historical pressures forced new ideological commitments in the late twenties and thirties however writers grew suspicious both of the individualism implicit in the realist model and of the often superficial nature of the sympathies that their fiction evoked in the middle class Anderson argues that realism must be defined negatively as a discourse of limitations and is of minimal utility in the Chinese search for political and cultural empowerment He shows how hesitations about the realist model affect the fiction of four representative authors Lu Xun Ye Shaojun Mao Dun and Zhang Tianyi He also considers the demise of critical realism in the face of a new collectivist understanding of Chinese reality This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1990 Daily Report, Foreign Radio Broadcasts United States. Central Intelligence Agency,1966 A Companion to Modern Chinese Literature Yingjin Zhang,2015-08-13 This wide ranging Companion provides a vital overview of modern Chinese literature in different geopolitical areas from the 1840s to now It reviews major accomplishments of Chinese literary scholarship published in Chinese and English and brings attention to previously neglected important areas Offers the most thorough and concise coverage of modern Chinese literature to date drawing attention to previously neglected areas such as late Qing Sinophone and ethnic minority literature Several chapters explore literature in relation to Sinophone geopolitics regional culture urban culture visual culture print media and new media The introduction and two chapters furnish overviews of the institutional development of modern Chinese literature in Chinese and English scholarship since the mid twentieth century Contributions from leading literary scholars in mainland China and Hong Kong add their voices to international scholarship Pioneer of the Chinese Revolution ,1990-07 Shimada Kenji is one of Japan s greatest sinologists with formidable scholarly accomplishments in many fields classical Chinese thought Neo Confucianism in China and Japan late Qing thought the 1911 Revolution and Sino Japanese relations This book consists of two long essays touching on one of Shimada s abiding themes the influence of domestic Chinese systems of thought on the development of Chinese revolutionary thought This massive project engages Shimada s greatest strength a profound awareness of and deep study in the history of Chinese philosophy and religion when examining the people and ideas that culminated in the 1911 Revolution and the end of the imperial institution in China Unlike most other scholars Shimada takes his modern protagonists with complete seriousness when they draw on seemingly traditional ideas to justify radical change in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Zhang Binglin the subject of the first essay in this book is arguably the most misunderstood figure among the key revolutionaries of the 1911 period The appearance of this classic essay Zhang Binglin Traditional Chinese Scholar and Revolutionary 1970 marked the first time that Zhang had been assessed as a whole person Shimada explains how Zhang himself saw the inextricable linkage between a wholehearted devotion to traditional Chinese scholarship indeed the very preservation of that tradition and the revolutionary cause Often dismissed as a crackpot brilliant or otherwise or as a perverse intransigent incapable of comprehending the modern world as it passed him by Zhang has never received the kind of attention in the West that his importance warrants The second essay Confucius in the Era of the 1911 Revolution 1978 deals with an issue that has never before received concerted attention How could the figure of Confucius have been deified by the leaders of the 1898 Reform Movement and less than two decades later be excoriated by the leaders of the May Fourth Movement Shimada analyzes the views concerning Confucianism of all the major groups including the Qing government and over seas Chinese in Europe in the period under study 1895 1919 before suggesting some answers to this fascinating question Whither Class? Xueping Zhong, 2025-02-24 This book argues that the revolutionary anti revolutionary counter revolutionary and post revolutionary dialectics in modern Chinese history since the early 20th century characterizes modern and contemporary Chinese literature the most Central to these dialectics are issues of class The book contends that one cannot fully understand modern and contemporary Chinese literature without understanding the class character of Chinese revolutionary and counter revolutionary struggles including literary practices and their various contradictions Considering literature via the notion of the event and focusing on three specific historical junctures this project explores how as a major cultural form literature has played an outsize role in China's struggle for liberation and quest for modernity It highlights the need to understand class and the extent to which it shapes literary and artistic forms and expressions as well as the on going debates over the relationship between politics and aesthetics interested in literature literary criticism Chinese literature and world classics      The Politics of Cultural Capital Julia Lovell, 2006-03-31 In the 1980s China's politicians, writers and academics began to raise an increasingly urgent question: why had a Chinese writer never won a Nobel Prize for literature? Promoted to the level of official policy issue and national complex Nobel anxiety generated articles, conferences and official delegations to Sweden. Exiled writer Gao Xingjian's win in 2000 failed to satisfactorily end the matter and the controversy surrounding the Nobel committee's choice has continued to simmer. Julia Lovell's comprehensive study of China's obsession spans the twentieth century and taps directly into the key themes of modern Chinese culture: national identity, international status and the relationship between intellectuals and politics. The intellectual preoccupation with the Nobel literature prize expresses tensions inherent in China's move toward a global culture after the collapse of the Confucian world view at the start of the twentieth century and particularly since China's re-entry into the world economy in the post-Mao era. Attitudes toward the prize reveal the same contradictory mix of admiration, resentment and anxiety that intellectuals and writers have long felt toward Western values as they struggled to shape a modern Chinese identity. In short, the Nobel complex reveals the pressure points in an intellectual community not entirely sure of itself. Making use of extensive original research, including interviews with leading contemporary Chinese authors and critics, The Politics of Cultural Capital is a comprehensive up-to-date treatment of an issue that cuts to the heart of modern and contemporary Chinese thought and culture. It will be essential reading for scholars of modern Chinese literature and culture, globalization, post-colonialism and comparative and world literature.      A History of China in the 20th Century Lü Peng, 2023-08-14 This book provides readers with rich context and detailed description, leading to new perspectives on major historical events in China. Positioned as a thought leader and highly acclaimed arts professional in China, the author is able to give a historical account of China's twentieth century that is richly informed by its valent fields of political economy and cultural studies. Western readers' knowledge of China's twentieth century remains based on pioneering research of modern scholars such as Fairbank and Jonathan Spence. In recent years, however, it is rare to see a complete history of China spanning the nineteenth and twentieth centuries, which also includes the first two decades of the twenty-first century. This book contributes new narrative and perspective to this span of history. Now, as the Sino-US trade conflict makes dramatic impact on a post-COVID global economy, readers have the need for a fresh understanding of how China came to be what it is today. The author's groundbreaking work provides new insight provided by newly uncovered sources, explaining how China came to be what it is today from a cultural and sociological perspective in a historical mode.      Violence and Mediation in Contemporary Culture Ronald Bogue, Marcel Cornis-Pope, 1996-01-01 Ten essays explore violence in relation to notions of difference, representation and power and the role of mediation in providing communal space in which cultural differences can interplay without conflict. Among the topics are the semiotics of windows and television screens, gender relations in contemporary film and the image of Mormons in popular literature. The fiction of Kafka, Lu Xun, Conrad, Aiken, Toni Morrison and Ronald Sukenick is also examined Annotation c by Book News Inc Portland Or Critical Zone 2 Q.S.

Tong, Shouren Wang, Douglas Kerr, 2007-02-01 Despite globalizing forces whether economic political or cultural there remain conspicuous differences that divide scholarly communities How should we understand and respond to those discursive gaps among different traditions and systems of knowledge production Critical Zone is a book series in cultural and literary studies that is concerned with current critical debates and intellectual preoccupations in the humanities The series aims to improve understanding across cultures traditions discourses and disciplines and to produce international critical knowledge Critical Zone is an expression of timely collaboration among scholars from Hong Kong mainland China the United States and Europe and conceived as an intellectual bridge between China and the rest of the world The second volume of Critical Zone as does its predecessor consists of two parts The first part includes original essays that deal with the concept and practice of empire as a collective response to the question of how imperial formations and operations in the past and at present should be examined in a larger context of international politics and how historical imperialism may be considered in relation to the conditions of our time Part II includes two sets of translations of essays first published in Chinese about two recent debates in China one on the canonicity of Lu Xun and the other on the problem of how to reform Peking University in the context of globalization These two groups of translations are led by review essays that contextualize the debates
