

The background of the slide is a photograph of a mountain range. The mountains are in the foreground and middle ground, with their peaks and ridges visible. The color of the mountains is a deep blue, matching the overall color scheme. In the background, there is a body of water, likely a lake or a wide river, which is a lighter shade of blue. The sky above the mountains is a pale, hazy blue. The overall composition is serene and naturalistic.

Globalization and Educational Rights Joel Spring, 2014-04-08 This is the first book to explore the meaning of equality and freedom of education in a global context and their relationship to the universal right to education. It also proposes evaluating school systems according to their achievement of equality and freedom. Education in the 21st century is widely viewed as a necessary condition for the promotion of human welfare and thus identified as a basic human right. Educational rights are included in many national constitutions written since the global spread of human rights ideas after World War II. But as a global idea the meaning of educational rights varies between civilizations. In this book which builds on the concept of the universal right to education set forth in Spring's The Universal Right to Education: Justification, Definition and Guidelines, his intercivilizational analysis of educational rights focuses on four of the world's major civilizations: Confucian, Islamic, Western, and Hindu. Spring begins by considering educational rights as part of the global flow of ideas and the global culture of schooling. He also considers the tension this generates within different civilizational traditions. Next he proceeds to examine the meaning of educational rights in the Confucian tradition in the recent history of China and in the Chinese Constitution; look at educational rights in the context of Islamic civilization and as presented in the constitutions of Islamic countries including an analysis of the sharp contrast between the religious orientation of Islamic educational rights and those of China and the West; explore the problems created by the Western natural rights tradition and the eventual acceptance of educational rights as represented in European constitutions with a focus on the development and prominence given in the West to the relationship between schooling and equality of opportunity; and investigate the effect of global culture on India and the blend of Western and Hindu ideas in the Indian constitution highlighting the obstacles to fulfillment of educational rights created by centuries of discrimination against women and lower castes. In his conclusion Spring presents an educational rights statement based on his intercivilizational analysis and his examination of national constitutions. This statement is intended to serve as a model for the inclusion of educational rights in national constitutions The Other World Janet Oppenheim, 1985 A study of the public fascination with spiritualism and psychical research in Victorian and Edwardian times Prisoners of Shangri-La Donald S. Lopez Jr., 2012-12-31 Prisoners of Shangri-La is a provocative analysis of the romance of Tibet a romance that even as it is invoked by Tibetan lamas living in exile ultimately imprisons those who seek the goal of Tibetan independence from Chinese occupation Lopez lifts the veil on America's romantic vision of Tibet to reveal a country and a spiritual history more complex and less ideal than popular perceptions allow Lively and engaging Lopez's book raises important questions about how Eastern religions are often co-opted assimilated and misunderstood by Western culture Publishers Weekly Proceeding with care and precision Lopez reveals the extent to which scholars have behaved like intellectual colonialists Someone had to burst the bubble of pop Tibetology and few could have done it as resoundingly as Lopez Booklist Fascinating A provocative exploration Lopez conveys the full dizziness of the Western encounter with Tibet and Tibetan Buddhism Fred Pheil Tricycle The Buddhist Review A timely and courageous exploration Lopez's book will sharpen the terms of the debate over what the Tibetans and their observers can or should be doing about the place and the idea of Tibet And that alone is what will give us all back our Shambhala Jonathan Spence Lingua Franca Book Review Lopez's most important theme is that we should be wary of the idea that Tibet has what the West lacks that if we were only to look there we would find the answers to our problems Lopez's book shows that on the contrary when the West has looked at Tibet all that it has seen is a distorted reflection of itself Ben Jackson Times Higher Education Supplement The Other Spanish Christ John A.
