An autobiography. [By Mary Frances Cusack.]* Mary Francis Cusack,1869 Refugee Nuns, the French Revolution, and British Literature and Culture Tonya J. Moutray,2016-03-22 In eighteenth century literature negative representations of Catholic nuns and convents were pervasive Yet during the politico religious crises initiated by the French Revolution a striking literary shift took place as British writers championed the cause of nuns lauded their socially relevant work and addressed the attraction of the convent for British women Interactions with Catholic religious including priests and nuns Tonya J Moutray argues motivated writers including Hester Thrale Piozzi Helen Maria Williams and Charlotte Smith to reevaluate the historical and contemporary utility of religious refugees Beyond an analysis of literary texts Moutray s study also examines nuns personal and collective narratives as well as news coverage of their arrival to England enabling a nuanced investigation of a range of issues including nuns displacement and imprisonment in France their rhetorical and practical strategies to resist authorities representations of refugee migration to and resettlement in England relationships with benefactors and locals and the legal status of English nuns and convents in England including their work in recruitment and education Moutray shows how writers and the media negotiated the multivalent figure of the nun during the 1790s shaping British perceptions of nuns and convents during a time critical to their survival Convents and Nuns in Eighteenth-Century French Politics and Culture Mita Choudhury, 2018-07-05 Representations of convents and nuns assumed power and urgency within the volatile political culture of eighteenth century France Drawing from a range of literary cultural and legal material Mita Choudhury analyzes how between 1730 and 1789 lawyers religious pamphleteers and men of letters repeatedly asked Who should control the female convent and women religious These sources chronicled the conflicts between nuns and the male clergy among nuns themselves and between nuns and their families conflicts that were presented to the public in the context of potent issues such as despotism citizenship female education and sexuality The cloister operated as a symbol of despotism the equivalent of the Sultan s seraglio or the King s Bastille Before 1770 lawyers and magistrates praised nuns as the personification of virtuous Christian women often victims vulnerable to those who would use them to further their own political ends After 1770 men of letters evaluated nuns according to more secular norms and concluded that the convent had no purpose in society except as a reminder of the problems inherent in the Old Regime Choudhury elaborates on how nuns were not always passive entities mere objects to be shaped by the political needs of others But because they relied on men in order to make their voices heard the place of women religious in the public sphere was a complex one based on negotiations between female action and male subjectivity During the French Revolution whatever support they had enjoyed was lost as republicans and moderates began to see nuns as potentially disruptive to the social order family life and revolutionary values The Rabbi and the Nun Mordecai Schreiber, 1991 Rabbi Kaye and Sister Eve are passionately committed to their religious vocations yet in spite of their differing beliefs become attracted to each other only to find out they have to choose between their faith and their feelings for each other Nuns Across the Orange: A History of the Pioneering Anglican Community of St Michael and All Angels, Bloemfontein Michael Sparrow, 2021-04-21 When Sister Emma and the five women who accompanied her from England crossed the Orange River early in 1874 they exchanged the comfortable mainstream of Anglican Church life for the rigours of pioneering new works in an undeveloped country Living conditions were primitive travel was hard and money was always in short supply The newly formed Community of St Michael and All Angels opened the first girls schools north of the Orange and the first hospital in the Free State At Kimberley Sister Henrietta achieved a world first through her successful campaign for the State Registration of nurses Four Sisters were besieged in Kimberley during the Anglo Boer War and in Bloemfontein their Mother House became a military hospital By faith and determination the Community recovered St Michael s School was raised to new standards of excellence while the Sisters expanded their mission to include Lesotho and the eastern Free State Decades of work with Bloemfontein's sick and deprived led to Sister Enid becoming known as Ma Mohau Mother of Mercy and to national acclaim in the 1970s as South Africa's Mother Teresa This book studies the development of the Community's religious life and charts the progress of their work among all races from their foundation until the death of the last Sister in 2016 Across the Orange their relative isolation from the strong centres of Anglicanism eventually contributed to their demise but not before they had established an enduring legacy The work they began in Lesotho is continued by the Community of the Holy Name while St Michael's School in Bloemfontein is recognised as one of the finest girls schools in South Africa
