Picturing a Different West Janis P. Stout, 2007 Picturing a Different West addresses Willa Cather and Mary Austin as central figures in a women's tradition of the pictured West Both Cather and Austin moved west in their youth and spent much of their lives there Cather lived on the Great Plains while Austin resided in California and the Southwest Cather's travels repeatedly took her to the Southwest and she wrote three novels with Southwestern settings Starting with the masculine tradition of Western art that was prevalent when Austin and Cather launched their careers Janis P Stout shows how the authors challenged and revised that tradition Rather than a West of adventure violence and conquest open only to rugged and daring men the authors envisioned a new West not conventionally feminine so much as an androgynous space of freedom for women and men alike Their vision of an alternative West and their alternative ways of thinking about and portraying gender are inseparable Placing Cather and Austin alongside contemporaries Elsie Clews Parsons Mabel Dodge Luhan Georgia O'Keeffe and Laura Gilpin Stout emphasizes the visual nature of Austin's and Cather's personal experiences of the West and Southwest their awareness of the prevailing visual representations of the West and the visual nature of their books about the West with respect to both prose style and illustrations In closing Stout demonstrates the continuance of their tradition in illustrated western books by Leslie Marmon Silko and by Margaret Randall and Barbara Byers American Paintings in the Brooklyn Museum Teresa A. Carbone, Brooklyn Museum, Barbara Dayer Gallati, Linda S. Ferber, 2006 A major authoritative catalogue of one of the world's most important collections of American art by artists born before 1876

Race, Gender, and Identity in American Equine Art Jessica Dallow, 2022-05-19 This book traces an evolution of equine and equestrian art in the United States over the last two centuries to counter conventional understandings of subjects that are deeply enmeshed in the traditions of elite English and European culture In focusing on the construction of identity in painting and photography of Black women and the animals themselves involved in horseracing rodeo and horse show competition it illuminates the strategic and varying roles visual artists have played in producing cultural understandings of human animal relationships As the first book to offer a history of American equine and equestrian imagery it shrinks the chasm of literature on the subject and illustrates the significance of the genre to the history of American art This book further connects American equine and equestrian art to historical theoretical and philosophical analyses of animals and attests to how the horse endures as a vital meaningful subject within the art world as well as culture at large This book will be of interest to scholars in art history American art gender studies race and ethnic studies and animal studies M'ile New York ,1895
