Lewis, 2024-02-26 From Piney Folklore to Legendary Figures of South Jersey's Past Author William Lewis presents fascinating tales revealing legends and beloved lore from the heart of Southern New Jersey Mysterious Creatures George M. Eberhart, 2002-12-17 A comprehensive guide to cryptozoology the quest to identify animals that have not been officially catalogued by science and to place these unknown animals into their proper zoological categories In this fascinating two volume encyclopedia author George M Eberhart provides a comprehensive catalog of nearly 1 000 cryptids unknown animals usually reported through eyewitness accounts and not yet described by science Cryptids are the stuff of folklore hoaxes and genuine scientific breakthroughs There are 400 now classified cryptids once considered either extinct or pure fantasy The cryptozoologist's job is to strip away the myth misidentification and mystery and separate fact from fiction Mysterious Creatures covers everything from dinosaurs and the emalatouka an elephant killing dinosaur like animal of central Africa to searches for the Loch Ness monster Bigfoot and other cryptozoological hoaxes Entries about specific animals include the derivation or meaning of each cryptid's name its scientific name variant names a physical description behavior description of tracks habitat significant sightings present status and possible explanations Illustrations and photographs accompany many entries The book also includes resources and references for further information Contested Lands Robert J. Mason, 1992 The nation's first and only national reserve the Pinelands of New Jersey is located in the middle of the densely populated urban corridor between New York City and Philadelphia Possessing vast quantities of pure groundwater distinct flora and fauna and a fascinating history of human occupancy and resource exploitation the Pine Barrens is managed by a 15 member commission appointed at the federal state and local level In his discussion of the implementation of the Pinelands Commission's regional plan Robert Mason explores the changing politics of place and the associated conflicts of interest that have emerged The Pinelands program is widely viewed as a land use and regional planning experiment of national significance While the commission is sustained by legislative and gubernatorial support and an absence of well organized public opposition it still has had to accommodate community and rural entrepreneurial interests In order to convey some sense of the social political and economic texture of the Pinelands Mason examines three communities Woodland Township Hamilton Township and Manchester Township The Pinelands experience offers a unique model for the management of valued places across the nation and provides valuable lessons about the human problems that confront ecologically driven planning schemes with human settlement patterns political subdivisions and economic systems Author note Robert J Mason is Assistant Professor of Geography and Urban Studies at Temple University
