Susan Blood, 1997-04-01 This is a study of Baudelaire's canonization in the critical debates of the twentieth century focusing particularly on his role in the development of a modernist consciousness Much recent work on Baudelaire assumes his modernism by emphasizing his relationship to current critical preoccupations by sounding him out on issues of race and gender for example or by correcting his politics The author begins from the premise that this updating of Baudelaire mistakenly takes him for our contemporary Instead she attempts to treat modernism as a historical problem by seeing Baudelaire as engaged in a more difficult dialogue with twentieth century critics The book concentrates on two key moments in the literary history of the twentieth century the periods following each world war At these junctures French intellectuals intensely reconsidered their cultural patrimony and articulated something like a modernist consciousness Baudelaire stood at the center of this process becoming a sacred figure of modernism and his poetry contributed to a radical reorienting of aesthetic sensibilities For the post World War I period the author focuses on Paul Valéry's essay Baudelaire's Situation for post World War II on the virulent debate between Jean Paul Sartre and Georges Bataille over the question of Baudelaire's bad faith She argues that Sartre's resistance to the sacralization of Baudelaire and to the continuing formulation of a modernist ideology actually suggests a valuable way of rethinking Baudelaire's poetry and critiquing the modern consciousness She attempts to show that something like an aesthetics of bad faith exists and that it is a useful concept for understanding modernism in relationship to its own history Throughout Baudelaire's poetry is examined in detail with a focus on its relationship to his writings on caricature on the problem of the secret architecture and on the place of allegory in a symbolist poetics In the closing chapter the author analyzes Baudelaire's denunciation of photography which reveals the various tensions or bad faith implicit in the modernist consciousness Royal Dictionary English and French and French and English Compiled from the Dictionaries of Johnson, Todd ... by Professors Fleming and Tibbins Charles Fleming, 1857 legacy issues of intellectual property rights IPR in artistic production and academic scholarship and proposes a category or class of works that has no relation to IPR nor to proprietary regimes of copyright and academic privilege Keeney's book is a structuralist argument for establishing new forms of artistic scholarship that operate in direct opposition to established norms in both the art world and neoliberal academia and is also rigorously contextualized within past and present day arguments for and against patrimonial and paternalistic avant garde and normative forms of censure and conformity across cultural production Works for Works Book 1 Useless Beauty privileges an iterative generative and aleatory methodology for artistic scholarship with transmedia proposed as a tutelary form of editioning works against the dictates of the art academic complex This focus on generativity also invokes the dialectical operations historically associated with past avant gardes as they have negotiated an elective nihilism as an avenue for exiting established and authorized forms of conceptual and intellectual inquiry in the Arts and Humanities Gavin Keeney is Director of Agence X founded in New York New York in 2007 He completed a research doctorate in Architecture at Deakin University Australia in 2014 on the subject of Visual Agency in Art and Architecture His publications include Dossier Chris Marker The Suffering Image Cambridge Scholars Publishing 2012 Knowledge Spirit Law Book 1 Radical Scholarship punctum 2015 and Knowledge Spirit Law Book 2 The Anti capitalist Sublime punctum 2017 He has taught and lectured in architecture schools in the US England Slovenia Australia and India recent philosophical or socio political concepts In the 1980s faced with the imminent collapse of communism and the unchecked supremacy of free market capitalism the philosopher Jean Luc Nancy in The Inoperative Community and the writer Maurice Blanchot in The Unavowable Community both thought it essential to rethink the fundamental basis of community as such More recently Nancy has renewed the debate by unexpectedly attacking Blanchot's account of community claiming that it embodies a dangerously nostalgic desire for mythic and religious communion This book examines the history and implications of this controversy It analyses in forensic detail Nancy's and Blanchot's contrasting interpretations of German Romanticism and the work of Heidegger Bataille and Marguerite Duras and examines closely their divergent approaches to the contradictory legacy of Christianity At a time when politics are increasingly inseparable from a deep seated sense of crisis it provides an incisive account of what in the concept of community is thought yet crucially still remains unthought
