The SAGE Handbook of Early Childhood Policy Linda Miller, Claire Cameron, Carmen Dalli, Nancy Barbour, 2017-10-02 Recent authoritative evidence suggests that an estimated 200 million children under five fail to achieve their developmental potential due to factors including poor health and nutrition and the lack of stable high quality care A significant number of the world's children today lack the basic rights to health development and protection In light of such statistics early childhood services for young children have expanded around the world The SAGE Handbook of Early Childhood Policy draws critical attention to policy in Early Childhood Education and Care ECEC its relationship to service provision and its impact on the lives of children and families The perspectives of leading academics and researchers from Europe North America South America Africa Australasia and Asia have been arranged around five key themes Part 1 The Relationship Between Research Policy And Practice Country Case Studies Part 2 Equitable Early Childhood Services Intervention to Improve Children's Life Chances Part 3 Extending Practice The Role of Early Childhood Services In Family Support Part 4 Participation Rights and Diversity Part 5 Future Directions for Early Childhood Policy This handbook is essential reading for practitioners stakeholders and others committed to working within early years services to achieve an awareness of policy and its implications for services and practice

A Million Years in a Day Greg Jenner, 2016-06-21 Who invented beds When did we start cleaning our teeth How old are wine and beer Which came first the toilet seat or toilet paper What was the first clock Every day from the moment our alarm clock wakes us in the morning until our head hits our pillow at night we all take part in rituals that are millennia old Structured around one ordinary day A Million Years in a Day reveals the astonishing origins and development of the daily practices we take for granted In this gloriously entertaining romp through human history Greg Jenner explores the gradual and often unexpected evolution of our daily routines This is not a story of wars politics or great events Instead Jenner has scoured Roman rubbish bins Egyptian tombs and Victorian sewers to bring us the most intriguing surprising and sometimes downright silly historical nuggets from our past Drawn from across the world spanning a million years of humanity this book is a smorgasbord of historical delights It is a history of all those things you always wondered about and many you have never considered It is the story of your life one million years in the making The Home-School Connection Flora V. Rodriguez-Brown, 2009-06-02 In this unique contribution to the literature on parental involvement in culturally and linguistically diverse communities Flora Rodriguez Brown offers a critique of family literacy programs that lack a clear design for literacy activities relevant to community goals offering an alternative model that is grounded within an abiding respect for the parents role as the child's first and ultimately most important teacher Robert D Milk University of Texas San Antonio The Project FLAME program used as context for this book is a comprehensive family literacy model supported by a strong sociocultural framework based on current research on cultural ways of learning and theories of multiliteracies and discourse The model highlights the relevance of parents knowledge cultural ways and discourses in sharing literacy knowledge with their children A pressing need exists for models and programs that effectively serve the educational needs of the steadily increasing numbers of culturally and linguistically diverse students in U S public schools today Addressing issues related to development implementation and effectiveness of a program model that fulfills this need this book is an essential resource for educators community workers and researchers interested in the relevance of the home school connection in relation to children's school success Cognition: Theory and Practice Russell Revlin, 2012-02-24 Cognition Theory and Practice provides the link between theory experimental findings and ordinary human activity showing students how the field of cognitive psychology relates to their everyday lives Engagingly written the book captivates students by explaining common experiences such as why answering a cell phone while driving is as dangerous as closing your eyes for a half second but talking with your passenger for a minute can be perfectly safe Research coverage draws heavily on the rapidly accumulating discoveries of human neuroscience and brain imaging Object Performance in the Black Atlantic Paulette Richards, 2023-07-28 Given that slaveholders prohibited the creation of African style performing objects is there a traceable connection between traditional African puppets masks and performing objects and contemporary African American puppetry This study approaches the question by looking at the whole performance complex surrounding African performing objects and examines the material culture of object performance Object Performance in the Black Atlantic argues that since human beings can attribute private personal meanings to objects obtained for personal use such as dolls vessels and quilts the lines of material culture continuity between African and African American object performance run through objects that performed in ritual rather than theatrical capacity Split into three parts this book starts by outlining the spaces where the African American object performance complex persisted through the period of slavery Part Two traces how African Americans began to reclaim object performance in the era of Jim Crow segregation and Part Three details how increased educational and economic opportunities along with new media technologies enabled African Americans to use performing objects as a powerful mode of resistance to the objectification of Black bodies This is an essential study for any students of puppetry and material performance and particularly those concerned with African American performance and performance in North America more broadly
