Thinking Skills and Early Childhood Education Patrick J. M. Costello, 2013-11-26 This text offers a rationale for the popular idea among teachers and researchers that young children should be taught critical thinking and argument in the early years of their education "Sesame Street" and the Reform of Children's Television Robert W. Morrow, 2006 Robert Morrow explores the origins and inner workings of the Children s Television Workshop how the Workshop designed and scripted Sesame Street and how the show became both a model for network television as well as a thorn in its side Each Day I Like It Better Amy Lutz, 2014-04-15 In the fall of 2009 Amy Lutz and her husband Andy struggled with one of the worst decisions parents could possibly face whether they could safely keep their autistic ten year old son Jonah at home any longer Multiple medication trials a long procession of behavior modification strategies and even an almost year long hospitalization had all failed to control his violent rages Desperate to stop the attacks that endangered family members caregivers and even Jonah himself Amy and Andy decided to try the controversial procedure of electroconvulsive therapy or ECT Over the last three years Jonah has received 136 treatments His aggression has greatly diminished and for the first time Jonah now fourteen is moving to a less restricted school Each Day I Like It Better recounts the journeys of Jonah and seven other children and their families interviewed by the author in their quests for appropriate educational placements and therapeutic interventions The author describes their varied but mostly successful experiences with ECT A survey of research on pediatric ECT is incorporated into the narrative and a foreword by child psychiatrist Dirk Dhossche and ECT researcher and practitioner Charles Kellner explains how ECT works the side effects patients may experience and its current use in the treatment of autism catatonia and violent behavior in children Read, Giggle & Share: All Year Round!
