Settlements Social Change And Community Action:

Settlements, Social Change and Community Action Ruth Gilchrist, Tony Jeffs, 2001 Reflecting the current emphasis in social policy on the ideas of community and active citizenship the contributors to this book develop the basic settlement concepts of strong communities and links across groups and apply them to current policy developments in community responsibility the role of voluntary work and the future of social care The Settlement House Movement Revisited Sarah Vicary, John Gal, Stefan Köngeter, 2020-12-16 This book explores the role and impact of the settlement house movement in the global development of social welfare and the social work profession It traces the transnational history of settlement houses and examines the interconnections between the settlement house movement other social and professional movements and social research Looking at how the settlement house movement developed across different national cultural and social boundaries this book show that by understanding its impact we can better understand the wider global development of social policy social research and the social work profession Neighbourhood Houses Miu Chung Yan, Sean R. Lauer, 2021-03-01 Neighbourhood Houses draws on a five year study to document and contextualize the neighbourhood house movement in Vancouver Social disconnection has led many observers to declare that urban communities are weakening and fragmenting Nonetheless the local community is where most aspects of everyday life occur where people establish their homes and pursue their ambitions It offers a secure haven in an unpredictable globalized world Neighbourhood houses are community hubs providing services such as public recreation child care health care and adult literacy classes bringing urban newcomers and neighbours together Contributors to this book outline the history of the Vancouver network its relationship with local government and other organizations in the region the programs and activities offered and the experiences of participants While globalization and migration create fragmented and disconnected societies in modern urban cities this timely study demonstrates that place based community organizations can provide an antidote History of Social Work in the United Kingdom: Oxford Bibliographies Online Research Guide Oxford University Press, 2010-05-01 This ebook is a selective guide designed to help scholars and students of social work find reliable sources of information by directing them to the best available scholarly materials in whatever form or format they appear from books chapters and journal articles to online archives electronic data sets and blogs Written by a leading international authority on the subject the ebook provides bibliographic information supported by direct recommendations about which sources to consult and editorial commentary to make it clear how the cited sources are interrelated related A reader will discover for instance the most reliable introductions and overviews to the topic and the most important publications on various areas of scholarly interest within this topic In social work as in other disciplines researchers at all levels are drowning in potentially useful scholarly information and this guide has been created as a tool for cutting through that material to find the exact source you need This ebook is a static version of an article from Oxford Bibliographies Online Social Work a dynamic continuously updated online resource designed to provide authoritative guidance through scholarship and other materials relevant to the study and practice of social work Oxford Bibliographies Online covers most subject disciplines within the social science and humanities for more information visit www.oxfordbibliographies.com

Social Change and Politics Morris Janowitz, Earlier ed published as The last half century societal change and politics in America

Family Centres and their International Role in Social Action Chris Warren-Adamson, 2017-10-05 This title was first published in 2001 Family centre practice is one of the success stories of the past twenty years As well as contributing creative ideas to centre practice this important edited collection highlights the role of practitioners as developmental or informal educationalists International contributors challenge care management in child protection as the dominant discourse in child care social work and instead advance integrated practice in the internationally developing role of family centres as a more authentic and hopeful practice for children and families The contributors outline ways of avoiding reductionism social work reduced to a protective and assessment role and show how socially inclusive practice can be sustained with very marginalized families The book argues that there is a need for the social work training curriculum to emphasize social work's debt to social and informal education and concludes with a call for an international forum of family centre practice

Settlement Houses Under Siege Michael Fabricant, Robert Fisher, 2002 This book focuses on the externally driven difficulties of service workers and agencies in shaping services such as the consequences of recent conservative social policies on agency life and the way in which the present political environment influences services through privatization

Social Work with Older People Mark Lymbery, 2005-11-03 This book provides an up to date and authoritative overview of the development of social work with older people in the UK The coherent structure draws together the key themes involved in working with older people and clearly demonstrates how to translate these into real life practice Key features of the book include Establishes an understanding of the policy context within which social work takes place with particular attention to key topics such as inter professional collaboration and ethics Goes beyond other textbooks to challenge the restricted nature of social work practice and adopts a positive view of its potential to benefit older people An engaging and practice led approach which includes student friendly features and detailed practice scenarios Satisfies the curriculum benchmarks and National Occupational Standards that structure social work training and practice Written by a leading academic this is a key text for social work trainees Its analytical depth will ensure that it will also be valuable for students undertaking post qualifying courses and for those in related disciplines such as health and community care social policy and social gerontology Its practice based and inter professional approach will mean it is also useful for health and social care practitioners seeking to improve the quality of practice with older people Drawing on both theory and research as well as the author s clear knowledge of current practice this book is able to deal with practice realities in ways which many texts cannot It offers social workers realistic options for how to approach their work Karen Postle University of East Anglia Women in Higher Education, 1850-1970 E. Lisa Panayotidis, Paul Stortz, 2017-09-19 This edited collection illustrates the way in which women s experiences of academe could be both contextually diverse but historically and culturally similar It looks at both the micro individual women and universities and macro level comparative analyses among regions and countries within regional national trans national and international contexts The contributors integrally advance knowledge about the university in history by exploring the intersections of the lived experiences of women students and professors practices of co education and intellectual and academic cultures They also raise important questions about the complementary and multidirectional flow and exchange of academic knowledge and information among gender groups across programmes disciplines and universities Historical inquiry and interpretation serve as efficacious ways with which to understand contemporary events and discourses in higher education and more broadly in community and society This book will provide important historical contexts for current debates about the numerical dominance and significance of women in higher education and the tensions embedded in the gendering of specific academic programs and disciplines and university policies missions and mandates Britain and Transnational Progressivism D. Gutzke, 2016-04-30 This collection of essays explores how Progressivism was the historical catalyst for reforms across the social and political spectrum in Britain for over half a century Going Local John Pierson, 2007-09-12 Going Local explains how social workers can develop approaches to neighbourhood work engage with users and their locality and contribute to strengthening local communities and how these principles work out in practice in specific services Critical Geographies of Childhood and Youth Peter Kraftl, John Horton, Faith J. Tucker, 2012 This original book explores the importance of geographical processes for policies and professional practices related to childhood and youth Contributors from a wide range of disciplinary backgrounds explore how concepts such as place scale mobility and boundary making are important for policies and practices in diverse contexts Chapters present both comprehensive cutting edge academic research and critical reflections by practitioners working in diverse contexts giving the volume wide appeal The focus on the role of geographical processes in policies and professional practices that affect young people provides new critical insights into contemporary issues and debates The contributions show how local and national concerns remain central to many youth programmes they also highlight how youth policies are becoming increasingly globalised Examples are taken from the UK the Americas and Africa The chapters are informed by and advance contemporary theoretical approaches in human geography sociology anthropology and youth work and will be of interest to academics and higher level students in those disciplines The book will also appeal to policy makers and professionals who work with young people encouraging them to critically reflect upon the role of geographical processes in their own work Culture, Philanthropy and the Poor in Late-Victorian London Geoffrey A. C. Ginn, 2017-04-21 2018 Choice Outstanding Academic Title The Late Victorian cultural mission to London's slums was a peculiar effort towards social reform that today is largely forgotten or misunderstood The philanthropy of middle and upper class social workers saw hundreds of art exhibitions concerts of fine music evening lectures clubs and socials debates and excursions mounted for the benefit of impoverished and working class Londoners Ginn's vivid and provocative book captures many of these in detail for the first time In refreshing our understanding of this obscure but eloquent activism Ginn approaches cultural philanthropy not simply as a project of class self interest nor as fanciful missionary aestheticism Rather he shows how liberal aspirations towards adult education and civic community can be traced in a number of centres of moralising voluntary effort Concentrating on Toynbee Hall in Whitechapel the People's Palace in Mile End Red Cross Hall in Southwark and the Bermondsey Settlement the discussion identifies the common impulses animating practical reformers across these settings Drawing on new primary research to clarify reformers' underlying intentions and strategies Ginn shows how these were shaped by a distinctive diagnosis of urban deprivation and anomie In rebutting the common view that cultural philanthropy was a crudely paternalistic attempt to impose rational recreation on the poor this volume explores its sources in a liberal minded social idealism common to both religious and secular conceptions of social welfare in this period Culture Philanthropy and the Poor in Late Victorian London appeals to students and researchers of Victorian culture moral reform urbanism adult education and philanthropy who will be fascinated by this underrated but lively aspect of the period's social activism Informal Learning in Youth Work Janet R Batsleer, 2008-05-21 Informal Learning in Youth Work offers fresh perspectives on all aspects of informal education in the youth work setting Designed to develop the reader's knowledge and skills this comprehensive textbook explores key issues such as communication power relations ethics gender exclusion sexuality race discrimination and social class The author places particular emphasis on conversation as a key means of promoting informal learning and engaging effectively with young people Other key features include case studies that illustrate the application of theory to real life practice an emphasis on critical reflection including reflective questions an easily accessible style with key terms and tips for further reading a four part structure guiding the reader through different stages of conversations and relationships in informal education Informal Learning in Youth Work provides a unique combination of theoretical analysis and practice tips Satisfying training and course requirements in the area it will be essential reading for all students on youth and community work courses as well as those in allied fields such as education and social work It will also be a valuable reference for practitioners working with young people on a daily basis Thesaurus of ERIC Descriptors ,1975
